The Art of Growing Old Carroll Saussy, This book shows not only how to embrace the challenges of a long life but also how to engage the possibilities of creativity and depth of soul available to those who have acquired a wealth of experience Activity suggestions are included making this ideal for both personal and group study

Ageing Masculinities in Contemporary European and Anglophone Cinema Tony Tracy, Michaela Schrage-Früh, 2022-12-30 This volume offers a unique exploration of how ageing masculinities are constructed and represented in contemporary international cinema With chapters spanning a range of national cinemas the primarily European focus of the book is juxtaposed with analysis of the social and cultural constructions of manhood and the anti ageing impulses of male stardom in contemporary Hollywood These themes are inflected in different ways throughout the volume from considering how old age is not the monolithic and unified life stage with which it is often framed to exploring issues of queerness sexuality and asexuality as well as themes such as national cinema and dementia Offering a diverse and multifaceted portrait of ageing and masculinity in contemporary cinema this book will be of interest to scholars and students of film and screen studies gender and masculinity studies and cultural gerontology

Fade to Gray Timothy Shary, Nancy McVittie, 2016-09-06 Winner Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2017 Americans are living longer and reinventing both work and retirement but Hollywood movies barely hint at this reality of contemporary society In many popular films older characters fade into irrelevance inactivity or absurdity or else they stay in the background as wise elders while younger characters provide the action Most American films do not attempt to portray the rich variety of experiences or the sensitive aging issues that people confront in the years beyond fifty Fade to Gray offers one of the first extended studies of the portrayal of older people in American cinema from the silent era to the present Writing in an accessible style for both general audiences and scholars Timothy Shary and Nancy McVittie examine social attitudes toward aging through an analysis of hundreds of individual films including such classics as You Can't Take It With You 1938 Rosemary's Baby 1968 Grumpy Old Men 1993 and Nebraska 2013 They show how representations of the aging process and depictions of older people embracing or enduring the various experiences of longer lives have evolved over the past century as well as how film industry practices have both reflected and influenced perceptions of aging in American society Exposing the social and political motivations for negative cinematic portrayals of the elderly Fade to Gray also gives visibility to films that provide opportunities for better understanding and appreciation of the aged and the aging process Family Betty Farrell,2018-02-02 The research conducted by family historians over the past three decades challenges modifies and ultimately enriches sociological understandings about American family life today By looking closely at the historical record the author is able to debunk certain myths such as the belief that the ideal family male breadwinner and female domestic manager has been historically prevalent that the traditional family has been disintegrating in recent years that the presumed breakdown of the family has left children more vulnerable than in the past American Reference Books Annual Juneal M. Chenoweth,1995-04-15 With more than 1600 descriptive and evaluative entries ARBA continues its 26 year tradition as a comprehensive review source for reference works published or distributed in the US ARBA 95 encompasses the subject spectrum covering such broad areas as general reference history education economics and business and science and technology Of special note in this edition is increased coverage of CD ROM products More than 350 reviewers provide reviews that cover strengths and weaknesses of the reference works Elderescence Jane Thayer,Peggy Thayer,2005-04-01 Thirty five million Americans are living beyond the age of sixty five a twenty five year increase in life expectancy since 1900 This longevity once the gift of a few has become the destiny of many This time of life is not just about retiring in fact many who retire return happily to some type of employment It is a new stage of life filled with its own unique challenges and opportunities Co authors Jane and Peggy Thayer a mother daughter team of psychologists have named this stage of life elderescence Academic Libraries and Research ,1997 Understanding Elder Abuse in Minority Populations Toshio Tatara,2021-10-30 First published in 1999 Research on elder abuse in the United States has made great strides in recent years As a result we have been able to define and discover the causes of elder abuse design tools to assess the risk of abuse develop and implement treatment and prevention strategies and evaluate programs for victims and perpetrators However this research has been derived from studies whose subjects were primarily Caucasian This is not because elder abuse does not take place in minority communities but rather because researchers wanted first to study the issue in its broadest sense Subject Encyclopedias Allan Mirwis,1999 This useful two volume set will provide buyers of subject encyclopedias with a substantial amount of valuable information they can use in making their purchasing decisions It will also provide all types of librarians and their patrons with a quick one stop method for locating the appropriate subject encyclopedias for their needs and for locating articles in the 100 encyclopedias Librarians who specialize in bibliographic instruction will also find it to be a useful tool for teaching students how to locate needed information Therapeutic Interventions with Ethnic Elders Sara Aleman,Tanya Fitzpatrick,Thanh V Tran,Elizabeth Gonzalez,2014-02-04 Provide effective services to ethnic elders with culturally competent training Therapeutic Interventions with Ethnic Elders Health and Social Issues provides culture specific information to health and social work professionals You will explore distinctive qualities that are found in ten different ethnic groups to help you
