Older Widows And The Life Course Multiple Narratives Of Hidden Lives:

Older Widows and the Life Course Pat Chambers, 2018-01-18 Later life widowhood is the expectation of most older wives since statistically women live longer than men and tend to marry men older than themselves. Despite this there has been little coverage of the complexities of later life widowhood. In this book Pat Chambers redresses this balance combining an analysis of the literature that does exist with qualitative research amongst older widows. The research reveals a multifaceted experience of later life widowhood. Older widows' life stories challenge the dominant public narrative of misery and decline, pointing instead to a complexity of experience which is rooted in personal biography and the female life course rather than in later life widowhood itself. Chambers develops the concept of multiple narratives as a way of uncovering the complex but often hidden lives of older widows. Without such an understanding she argues it is all too easy to subscribe to the powerfully dominant public narrative and thus to misinterpret older widows' current needs and aspirations. This is an engaging and original study of a key topic for gerontological research and will be of great interest to sociologists and social policy scholars who study ageing and the life course. Transitions and the Lifecourse Amanda Grenier, 2012 This book offers a unique perspective on ideas about late life as expressed in social policy and socio-cultural constructs of age with lived experience.

How is a Man Supposed to be a Man? Robin A Hadley, 2021-09-17 The global trend of declining fertility rates and an increasingly ageing population has serious implications for individuals and institutions alike. Childless men are mostly excluded from ageing social science and reproduction scholarship and almost completely absent from most national statistics. This unique book examines the lived experiences of a hidden and disenfranchised population: men who wanted to be fathers. It explores the complex intersections that influence childlessness over the life course. Helping Relationships

With Older Adults Adelle M. Williams, 2016-06-29 Helping Relationships with Older Adults: From Theory to Practice examines the fundamental theoretical perspectives of the aging process with an emphasis on the healthy aspects of aging. Taking a comprehensive approach, author Adele Williams addresses various therapeutic methods as she highlights the strengths and resiliency of the older population. Exercises and case studies demonstrate key concepts and promote skill development by allowing students to experience the various challenges in the lives of older clients. Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology Julia Twigg, Wendy Martin, 2015-06-12 Later years are changing under the impact of demographic, social and cultural shifts. No longer confined to the sphere of social welfare, they are now studied within a wider cultural framework that encompasses new experiences and new modes of being. Drawing on influences from the arts and humanities and deploying diverse methodologies, visual, literary, spatial and theoretical perspectives, Cultural Gerontology has brought new aspects of later life into view. This major new publication draws together these currents including Theory and Methods, Embodiment, Identities and Social Relationships, Consumption and Leisure, and Time and Space. Based on specially commissioned chapters by leading international authors, the Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology will provide concise authoritative reviews of the key debates and themes shaping this exciting new field Mental Health and Care Homes Tom Denning, Alisoun Milne, 2011-05-26 The care home sector is large with over 400 000 residents in the UK and a similar number employed within the homes It is therefore an area of considerable economic importance Care home residents are often very old and many have multiple physical and mental health needs meaning that their care poses particular challenges They are also a distinctly and profoundly marginalised group who are often invisible in the wider debates on quality of care including those about care homes Mental Health and Care Homes is a coherent and evidence based text exploring these issues Bringing together both clinical and research perspectives it will help those working in the care home sector to deliver high quality care and support to both residents and staff This important yet neglected area is thoroughly reviewed by a range of experts including residents family carers staff researchers and clinicians The book has four sections the inside view which includes several first hand accounts of care home life the outside view which discusses the regulatory funding and legislative context in which care homes operate mental health and care a detailed review of the major mental and other health issues that arise in care homes as well as interventions and services to offer support and a section exploring the promotion of health and wellbeing including examples of good practice It concludes by synthesising key themes and setting an agenda for further enquiry The book is written in a style that encourages engagement with the inclusion of contemporary case studies and examples making it topical and readable It will be valuable for a broad professional and vocational audience across both health and social care as well as students and researchers Critical perspectives on ageing societies Miriam Bernard, Thomas Scharf, 2007-05-16 This important book brings together some of the best known international scholars working within a critical gerontology perspective Together they review and update our understanding of how the field has developed over the last twenty five years and through the lens of passionate scholarship provide a challenging assessment of the complex practical and ethical issues facing older people and those who conduct research on ageing in the 21st century The contributions extend the critical gerontological approach conceptually methodologically and practically They offer close and scholarly analysis of policies affecting the lives of older people and provide insights into why research is done in particular ways Special attention is paid to feminist contributions and new approaches to working in partnership with older people age discrimination and ageism the impact of neo liberal policies and the passage of various human rights instruments the re medicalisation of later life the participation of older people in research and justice between generations The editors and contributors offer suggestions for promoting change and an exciting set of visions and perspectives for the renewal and development of critical gerontology in the years ahead Critical Perspectives on Ageing Societies will be a valuable resource for all students academics and practitioners interested in ageing and the life course

Critical Issues in Social Work With Older People Mo G. Ray, Miriam Bernard, Judith Phillips, 2018-06-26 This timely text highlights the importance of informed and critical practice in social work with older people With an emphasis on reflection throughout it argues for the need to rethink how social workers support some of the most vulnerable people in society The text begins with an exploration of the relationship between gerontology the study of aging and social work and demonstrates that a gerontological approach has long been missing from social work practice The central chapters consider key issues affecting older people and social work practice such as Risk of poverty Memory loss and dementia Palliative and end of life care Loss and bereavement Moving into a care home Bringing together theoretical and research insights this agenda setting text provides a sound base for creative practice with older people All those looking to make a positive and discernible difference to older people will find this text rewarding reading

A woman's place? Ciara Meehan, 2023-02-28 This book explores representations of the domestic in Irish women's magazines Published in 1960s Ireland during a period of transformation they served as modern manuals for navigating everyday life Traditional themes dating marriage and motherhood dominated But editors also introduced conflicting voices to complicate the narrative Readers were prompted to reimagine their home life and traditional values were carefully subverted The domestic was shown to be a negotiable concept in the coverage of such issues as the body and reproductive rights working wives and equal pay Dominant societal perceptions of women were also challenged through the inclusion of those who were on the margins widows unmarried mothers and never married women This book considers the motivations of editors the role of readers and the influence of advertisers in shaping complex debates about women in society in 1960s Ireland

Alive and Kicking at All Ages Ulla Krieburnegg, Roberta Maierhofer, Barbara Ratzenböck, 2014-06-15 The linking of age and ill health is part of a cultural narrative of decline as age is often defined as the absence of good health Research has shown that we are aged by culture but we are also culturally made ill when we age The cultural ambiguity of aging can thus deconstruct negative images of old age as physical decrepitude This volume investigates the topic of health within the matrix of time and experience by addressing issues such as how our understanding of health influences our notion of agency within a subversive deconstruction of normative age concepts and what role the notion of health plays in such an interaction

Family Practices in Later Life Pat Chambers, 2009-09-02 There is a lack of gerontological literature on the experience and complexity of living in older families lived experience family relationships doing family life meanings of family life connectedness etc This book contributes to redressing that

Gender and Ageing Theresa W. Devasahayam, 2014-08-20 This book examines common themes related to gender and ageing in countries in Southeast Asia Derived from quantitative or qualitative methods of data collection and analysis the chapters reveal how ageing has become tempered by globalization cultural values family structures women's emancipation and empowerment social networks government policies and religion The chapters are concerned primarily with the following questions related to gender and ageing a how do women and men experience old age b do women and men have different means of coping financially and socially in their old age c does having engaged in wage work for longer periods of time serve as an advantage to older men in contrast to older women d does a woman's primary role as caregiver serve to disadvantage her in old age e what kinds of identities have older women and men constructed for themselves f do women and men prepare for ageing differently and has this preparation been mediated by educational levels g does having a higher level of education make a difference to how one experiences ageing h how does class shape the way women and men cope in old age and i what does it mean to be a single older person who has either lost a spouse through death or has never been married Because the book employs a cross country analysis readers gain an understanding of contemporary emergent trends not only in each of the countries but also in Southeast Asia as a whole Wherever relevant some chapters have also identified similarities in trends on gender and ageing between countries in the Western hemisphere and those in Southeast Asia to highlight broader patterns across the world The share of the elderly in Southeast Asia s population is steadily rising and it is increasingly important to understand and plan for the implications of this trend While in some aspects the situation of older women and men in the region is similar their life experiences of education marriage child raising work and social networks differ and this makes for different issues as they grow older Moreover a much higher proportion of elderly women than men face old age without a spouse This book makes a major contribution to understanding the issues arising from ageing trends in Southeast Asia Individual chapters in the book deal authoritatively with almost every country in the region and are written by noted experts on the subject The book will be an essential reading for anyone wishing to understand ageing issues in Southeast Asia particularly from the perspective of gender Gavin Jones Director JY Pillay Comparative Asia Research Centre National University of Singapore

Managing the ageing experience Denise Tanner, 2010-09-01 Current social policy recognises that older people should be treated as experts in their own lives and be actively involved in their care This book explores what can be learned from older people s experiences of managing ageing Direct connections are made between the everyday experiences and perspectives of older people related research and theoretical perspectives This yields an engaging and informative analysis of how older people manage the ageing experience and what this means for policy and practice directed at promoting older people s wellbeing The book will be of value to undergraduate and postgraduate students in health and social care and practitioners in these fields

Just the Usual Work Michael Boudreau, Bonnie Huskins, 2021-02-19 Born in 1907 Ida Martin spent most of her life in Saint John New Brunswick She married a longshoreman named Allan Robert Martin in 1932 and they had one daughter In the years that followed Ida had a busy and varied life full of work caring for her family and living her faith Through it all Ida found time to keep a daily diary from 1945 to 1992 Bonnie Huskins is Ida Martin s granddaughter In Just the Usual Work she and Michael Boudreau draw on Ida s diaries family memories and the history of Atlantic Canada to shed light on the everyday life of a working class housewife during a period of significant social and political change They examine Ida s observations about the struggles of making ends meet on a longshoreman s salary the labour confrontations at the Port of Saint John the role of automobiles in the family economy the importance of family faith and political engagement and her experience of widowhood and growing old Ida Martin's diaries were often read by members of her family to reconstruct and relive their shared histories By sharing the pages of her diaries with a wider audience Just the Usual Work keeps Ida's memory alive while continuing her abiding commitment to documenting the past and finding meaning in the rhythms of everyday life Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis, Amanda E. Barnett, 2018-10-05 Providing an integrated and thorough representation from current research and contemporary society Family Ties and Aging shows how pressing issues of our time an aging population changing family structures and new patterns of work family balance are negotiated in the family lives of middle aged and older adults Focusing on key questions such as How do current trends and social arrangements affect family relationships and What are the implications of what we know for future research theory practice and policy authors Ingrid Arnet Connidis and Amanda E Barnett explore groups and relationships that are typically overlooked including the unique family situations of older single and childless persons sibling ties older lesbian and gay adults and new forms of intimate relationships The Third Edition is thoroughly updated to include the latest research and theoretical developments recent media coverage of related issues and new information on intimate relationships in later life and elder neglect abuse

Population Ageing in Central and Eastern Europe Andreas Hoff, 2016-04-08 During the 1990s Europe became the first continent with a mature society where people aged 60 years and older outnumber children and as this trend continues the resulting ageing societies will differ from previous societies in their make up in their needs and in their resource allocation Population ageing poses an even greater challenge to the post communist societies of Central and Eastern Europe While still struggling to cope with the aftermath of the economic and social transition process following the breakdown of communism they are now facing even more rapid demographic change than Western Europe This book brings together leading scholars to present an understanding of the processes underlying the very rapid population ageing in Central and Eastern Europe In addition to discussing the main demographic drivers behind this development in each of the countries examined this volume also discusses its implications for policy healthcare provision workforces intergenerational family relations the social cohesion of future Central and Eastern European societies and the quality of life experienced by their citizens Organised around broad geographical regions with final sections analysing the book's findings and their future implications Population Ageing in Central and Eastern Europe will be of interest to gerontologists policy makers students and scholars of population change

Ageing with Smartphones in Ireland Pauline Garvey, Daniel Miller, 2021-05-06 There are not many books about how people get younger It doesn't happen very often But Ageing with Smartphones in Ireland documents a radical change in the experience of ageing Based on two ethnographies one within Dublin and the other from the Dublin region the book shows that people rather than seeing themselves as old focus on crafting a new life in retirement Our research participants apply new ideals of sustainability both to themselves and to their environment They go for long walks play bridge do yoga and keep as healthy as possible As part of Ireland's mainstream middle class they may have more time than the young to embrace green ideals and more money to move to energy efficient homes throw out household detritus and protect their environment The smartphone has become integral to this new trajectory For some it is an intimidating burden linked to being on the wrong side of a new digital divide But for most however it has brought back the extended family and old friends and helped resolve intergenerational conflicts though facilitating new forms of grandparenting It has also become central to health issues whether by Googling information or looking after frail parents The smartphone enables this sense of getting younger as people download the music of their youth and develop new interests This is a book about acknowledging late middle age in contemporary Ireland How do older people in Ireland experience life today Praise for Ageing with Smartphones in Ireland An innovative and thorough description and analysis of how one small piece of technology has changed the way Irish people live their lives Tom Inglis Professor Emeritus of Sociology in University College Dublin
