On Metaphysics And Poetry:

Metaphysics and Poetry Hugh MacDiarmid, Walter Perrie, 1975 The Revival of Metaphysical Poetry Joseph Ellis Duncan, 1959 The Revival of Metaphysical Poetry was first published in 1959 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions The metaphysical style as expressed in its most distinguished and distinguishable form by the seventeenth century poet John Donne has had an increasing influence on latterday critics and poets Thus it is important to an understanding of literary history to examine this revival Professor Duncan traces the movement and analyzes changing interpretations of the style in the work of British and American poets and critics He shows that much of the new criticism and the metaphysical poetry of T S Eliot and that of the metaphysical style has thrived on fresh critical interpretation and vital poetic experimentation Metaphysical Lyrics & Poems of the Seventeenth Century, Donne to Butler Sir Herbert John Clifford Grierson, 1925 Metaphysical Poetry Colin Burrow, 2013-07-04 A key anthology for students of English literature Metaphysical Poetry is a collection whose unique philosophical insights are some of the crowning achievements of Renaissance verse edited with an introduction and notes by Colin Burrow in Penguin Classics Spanning the Elizabethan age to the Restoration and beyond Metaphysical poetry sought to describe a time of startling progress scientific discovery unrivalled exploration and deep religious uncertainty This compelling collection of the best and most enjoyable poems from the era includes tightly argued lyrics erotic and libertine considerations of love divine poems and elegies of lament by such great figures as John Donne George Herbert Andrew Marvell and John Milton alongside pieces from many other less well known but equally fascinating poets of the age such as Anne Bradstreet Katherine Philips and Thomas Traherne Widely varied in theme all are characterized by their use of startling metaphors imagery and language to express the uncertainty of an age and a profound desire for originality that was to prove deeply influential on later poets and in particular poets of the Modernist movement such as T S Eliot In his introduction Colin Burrow explores the nature of Metaphysical poetry its development across the seventeenth century and its influence on later poets and includes A Very Short History of Metaphysical Poetry from Donne to Rochester This edition also includes detailed notes a chronology and further reading Colin Burrow is Reader in Renaissance and Comparative Literature at Gonville and Caius College Cambridge He has edited Shakespeare's Sonnets for OUP and The Complete Works of Ben Jonson and is working on the Elizabethan volume of the Oxford English Literary History If you enjoyed Metaphysical Poetry you might like John Donne's Selected Poems also available in Penguin Classics Five Metaphysical Poets Joan Bennett, 1966 Five Metaphysical Poets Joan Bennett,

John Donne's Metaphysical Love Poetry Sabine Strebel, 2019-03-25 Seminar paper from the year 2018 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works grade 2.0 Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz language English abstract Most people would think of Shakespeare if they were asked for the most famous poet of the Elizabethan era He invented the

Shakespearean Sonnet after all which is probably the only type of Renaissance poem German students have to read during their school career However Shakespeare was not the only author of sonnets during this time Someone who deserves just as much acknowledgement in this area is John Donne who had an especially meteoric comeback in 1921 due to the publication of Eliot's essay The Metaphysical Poets Roland Greene an editor for the Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics shows in the encyclopedia that many scholars actually consider Donne to be one of the greatest poets in the English language His work focused on themes of love and devotion both the physical and spiritual kinds The latter can be also found in his poem A Valediction Forbidding Mourning In this poem Donne describes a situation every person who has fallen in love can relate to the lovers face an upcoming farewell Although the poem was written around 400 years ago it still addresses issues that can be found in several poems songs or other stories of our time Maybe it would be too easy to compare Donne's metaphysical love poetry to a current pop song since he elaborates this valediction with something resembling a catchy refrain a series of four metaphysical conceits where he unleashes all his rhetorical cleverness as Greene calls it What the title suggests and what also emerges upon a first reading is that the speaker wishes to forbid any mourning about the parting of the two lovers They appear strong and well prepared since their love outshines the love of dull sublunary lovers 13 But after further reflection and rereading the poem the reader can deduce that the speaker is trying to cover up his worries and fears over the parting Baumlín raises the question of whether the last three stanzas in Donne's poem serve as a doubting promise that the speaker will return and a plea for the woman's continued faith

Four Metaphysical Poets John Donne, Douglas Brooks-Davies, 1997 This anthology poems by John Donne George Herbert Andrew Marvell and Thomas

Immanent Distance Bruce Bond, 2015-09-24 In these essays Bruce Bond interrogates the commonly accepted notion that all poetry since modernism tends toward one of two traditions that of a more architectural sensibility with its resistance to metaphysics and that of a latter day Romantic sensibility which finds its authority in a metaphysics authenticated by the individual imagination Poetry whether self consciously or not has always thrived on the paradox of the distant in the immanent and the other in the self as such it is driven by both a metaphysical hunger and a resistance to metaphysical certainty Hidden resources of being animate the language of the near just as near things beckon from an elusive and inarticulate distance Bond revalidates the role of poetry and more broadly of the poetic imagination as both models for and embodiments of a transfigurative process an imperfectly mimetic yet ontological engendering of consciousness at the limits of a language that must if cognizant of its psychological ethical and epistemological summons honor that which lies beyond it
