Prehistoric Man In The Ciskei Transkei:

Prehistoric Man in the Ciskei & Transkei Robin M. Derricourt, 1977 Prehistoric Man in the Ciskei & Transkei Robin M. Derricourt, 1977 Archaeologies of Cultural Contact Timothy Clack, Marcus Brittain, 2022 This volume explores cultural transfer with a focus on the combination and modification of material and behavioural attributes under conditions of contact Chapters demonstrate the diverse understandings that can be gained by exploring the material remains of past contact exposing and overcoming limitations of competing models of cultural change The Archaeology of Southern Africa Peter Mitchell, 2024-06-06 Some of humanity's earliest ancestors lived in southern Africa and evidence from sites there has inspired key debates on human origins and the emergence of complex cognition Building on its rich rock art heritage archaeologists have developed theoretical work that continues to influence rock art studies worldwide with the relationship between archaeological and anthropological data central to understanding past hunter gatherer pastoralist and farmer communities alike New work on pre colonial states contests models that previously explained their emergence via external trade while the transformations wrought by European colonialism are being rewritten to emphasise Indigenous agency feeding into efforts to decolonise the discipline itself Inhabited by humans longer than almost anywhere else and with an unusually varied complex past southern Africa thus has much to contribute to archaeology worldwide In this revised and updated edition Peter Mitchell provides a comprehensive and extensively illustrated synthesis of its archaeology over more than three million years A Painted Ridge: Rock art and performance in the Maclear District, Eastern Cape Province, South Africa David Mendel Witelson, 2019-06-27 This book explores a suite of spatially close San Bushmen rock painting sites in the Maclear District of South Africa's Eastern Cape Province As a suite the sites are remarkable because despite their proximity to each other they share patterns of similarity and simultaneous difference The Early Farmers of Transkei, Southern Africa, Before A.D. 1870 J. M. Feely, 1987 BAR S378 1987 The Oxford Handbook of African Archaeology Peter Mitchell, Paul Lane, 2013-07-04 Africa has the longest and arguably the most diverse archaeological record of any of the continents It is where the human lineage first evolved and from where Homo sapiens spread across the rest of the world Later it witnessed novel experiments in food production and unique trajectories to urbanism and the organisation of large communities that were not always structured along strictly hierarchical lines Millennia of engagement with societies in other parts of the world confirm Africa's active participation in the construction of the modern world while the richness of its history ethnography and linguistics provide unusually powerful opportunities for constructing interdisciplinary narratives of Africa's past This Handbook provides a comprehensive and up to date synthesis of African archaeology covering the entirety of the continent's past from the beginnings of human evolution to the archaeological legacy of European colonialism As well as covering almost all periods and regions of the continent it includes a mixture of key methodological and theoretical issues and debates and situates the subject's contemporary practice within the discipline's history and the infrastructural challenges now facing its practitioners Bringing together essays on all these themes from over seventy contributors many of them living and working in Africa it offers a highly accessible contemporary account of the subject for use by scholars and students of not only archaeology but also history anthropology and other disciplines The Transkei Region of Southern Africa, 1877-1978 Jacqueline Audrey Kalley, 1980 Ancient African Metallurgy Michael S. Bisson, 2000 Gold Copper Iron Metal working in Africa has been the subject of both popular lore and extensive archaeological investigation In this volume four leading archaeologists attempt to provide a complete synthesis of current debates and understandings When how and where was metal first introduced to the continent How were iron and copper tools implements and objects used in everyday life in trade in political and cultural contexts What role did metals play in the ideological systems of precolonial African peoples Substantive chapters address the origins of African metal working and analyze the specific uses technology and ideology of both copper and iron An ethnoarchaeological account in the words of a contemporary iron worker enriches the archaeological explanations The volume will be of great value to scholars and students of archaeology African history and the history of technology Participatory Archaeology and Heritage Studies Peter R. Schmidt, 2019-12-13 Participatory Archaeology and Heritage Studies Perspectives from Africa provides new ways to look at and think about the practice of community archaeology and heritage studies across the globe Long hidden from view African experiences and experiments with participatory archaeology and heritage studies have poignant lessons to convey about local initiatives local needs and local perspectives among communities as diverse as an Islamic community on the edge of an ancient city in Sudan to multi ethnic rural villages near rock art sites in South Africa Straddling both heritage studies and archaeological practice this volume incorporates a range of settings from practical experiments with sustainable pottery kilns in Kenya to an elite palace and its hidden traditional heritage in Northwestern Tanzania to ancestral knowledge about heritage landscapes in rural Ethiopia The genesis of participatory practices in Africa are traced back to the 1950s with examples of how this legacy has played out over six decades setting the scene for a deeply rooted practice now gaining widespread acceptance The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of Community Archaeology and Heritage East African Archaeology Chapurukha M. Kusimba, Sibel B. Kusimba, 2010-11-24 The goal of this volume is to impart an appreciation of the many facets of East Africa s cultural and archaeological diversity over the last 2 000 years It brings together chapters on East African archaeology many by Africa born archaeologists who review what is known present new research and pinpoint issues of debate and anomaly in the relatively poorly known prehistory of East Africa The Peopling of Africa James L. Newman, 1995-01-01 Discovering the African past takes one on a journey back to the origins of humanity over four million years ago which is where James L Newman begins his account of the continent s peoples He ends it at the onset of the colonial era in the late nineteenth century noting that Africa and Africans deserve to be known on their own terms and to achieve this goal we need to improve our understanding of what took place before colonialism rewrote

many of life's rules African identities constitute one of Newman's main themes and thus he discusses the roles played by genetic background language occupation and religion Population distribution is the other main theme running through the book As a geographer the author uses regions spaces and places as his filters for viewing how Africans have responded through time to differing natural and human environmental circumstances Drawing on the fields of biology archaeology linguistics history anthropology and demography as well as geography Newman describes the richness and diversity of Africa's inhabitants the technological changes that transformed their lives how they formed polities from small groups of kin to states and empires and how they were influenced by external forces particularly the slave trade Maps are an important part of the book conveying information and helping readers interrelate local regional continental and global contexts

The House of Phalo Jeffrey B. Peires, 1982-01-01 In this first modern history of the Xhosa J B Peires relates the story of one of the most numerous and important indigenous peoples in contemporary South Africa from their consolidation through an era of cooperation and conflict with whites whom the Xhosa regarded as uncivilized to the frontier wars that eventuated in their present position as a subordinate group in the modern South African state Back cover

Colonial Survey and Native Landscapes in Rural South Africa, 1850 - 1913 Lindsay F. Braun, 2014-10-16 In Colonial Survey and Native Landscapes in Rural South Africa 1850 1913 Lindsay Frederick Braun explores the technical processes and struggles surrounding the creation and maintenance of boundaries and spaces in South Africa in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The precision of surveyors and other colonial technicians lent these enterprises an illusion of irreproachable objectivity and authority even though the reality was far messier Using a wide range of archival and printed materials from survey departments repositories and libraries the author presents two distinct episodes of struggle over lands and livelihoods one from the Eastern Cape and one from the former northern Transvaal These cases expose the contingencies contests and negotiations that fundamentally shaped these changing South African landscapes

Historical Dictionary of South Africa Christopher Saunders, Peter Limb, 2020-12-15 As the most influential and powerful country on the entire continent of Africa an understanding of South Africa's past and its present trends is crucial in appreciating where South Africans are going to and from where they have come South Africa changed dramatically in 1994 when apartheid was dismantled and it became a democratic state Since 2000 when the previous edition appeared further big changes occurred with the rise of new political leaders and of a new black middle class There were also serious problems in governance in public health and the economy but with a remarkable popular resilience too This third edition of Historical Dictionary of South Africa contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 600 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about South Africa

Whose History Counts June Bam, Lungisile Ntsebeza, Allan Zinn, 2018-11-29 Originally planned as a fact based book on the pre colonial history of the Eastern Cape in the true tradition of history this ground breaking book focuses on epistemological and foundational questions about the writing of history and whose history counts Whose History Counts challenges the very concept of e pre coloniale and explores methodologies on researching and writing history The Human Career Richard G. Klein,2024-05-31 Since its publication in 1989 The Human Career has proved to be an indispensable tool in teaching human origins This substantially revised third edition retains Richard G Klein s innovative approach while showing how cumulative discoveries and analyses over the past ten years have significantly refined our knowledge of human evolution Klein chronicles the evolution of people from the earliest primates through the emergence of fully modern humans within the past 200 000 years His comprehensive treatment stresses recent advances in knowledge including for example ever more abundant evidence that fully modern humans originated in Africa and spread from there replacing the Neanderthals in Europe and equally archaic people in Asia With its coverage of both the fossil record and the archaeological record over the 2 5 million years for which both are available The Human Career demonstrates that human morphology and behavior evolved together Throughout the book Klein presents evidence for alternative points of view but does not hesitate to make his own position clear In addition to outlining the broad pattern of human evolution The Human Career details the kinds of data that support it For the third edition Klein has added numerous tables and a fresh citation system designed to enhance readability especially for students He has also included more than fifty new illustrations to help lay readers grasp the fossils artifacts and other discoveries on which specialists rely With abundant references and hundreds of images charts and diagrams this new edition is unparalleled in its usefulness for teaching human evolution Quaternary Environmental Change in Southern Africa Jasper Knight,Stefan W. Grab,2016-06-23 Ongoing climate change necessitates advances in our understanding of the interrelationships between climate landscape shaping processes and human activity over long time periods especially in areas that are already climatically stressed This volume presents new ideas on macroscale landscape evolution mountain fluvial and aeolian processes and environments in southern Africa a key region in the story of human evolution during the last two million years Interdisciplinary in scope it brings together an international team of experts to synthesise the latest research and understanding of landscape human relationships in this region It incorporates results from the emerging fields of geoarchaeology and cultural landscapes and utilises the latest data and analytical techniques A key reference for researchers studying hominid evolution geoarchaeology and environmental change it provides a benchmark study of southern African landscape evolution during the Quaternary It will also appeal to professionals and policymakers with interests in future human landscape evolution in southern Africa Power and Resistance in an African Society Les Switzer,1993 Imagine a history of the United States written from the perspective of the African American community Imagine that the story of this community is told not only from the viewpoint of its leaders the middle class elites but also from the viewpoint of sharecroppers industrial workers and others living on the margins of American culture And finally imagine that this is not only about political and economic relations but also about race class gender and religious relations about the lived experiences of one community that both reflect and represent fundamental issues of power and resistance in an entire society This is what Les Switzer has tried to do with his book Power and Resistance in an African Society Scholars who have read it suggest that this is the first attempt to write a history of South Africa from the perspective of one subordinate community in South Africa The result is a transformed history from below The names dates events and issues of conventional textbook history lose their meaning in the process of reconstructing a history that seeks to free the African from the domain of South Africa's ruling culture The book also offers a unique contribution to African studies in sub-Saharan Africa because it explores the material and symbolic manifestations of power and resistance in a pre colonial colonial and post colonial setting The Ciskei region in the eastern Cape was selected as the case study This was the historic zone of conflict between European and Bantu speaking African in southern Africa the Cape Xhosa wars in this region lasting a century The contemporary African nationalist movement in South Africa first emerged in a variety of organizational forms in the Ciskei during the 1870s and 1880s The strategy of petitionary protest probably persisted longer here than anywhere else in South Africa in the post colonial period but popular resistance found a variety of windows outside organized African politics The Ciskei for example was a focal point of rural resistance in the 1920s and early 1930s and again between the early 1940s and early 1960s The gap between rural and urban dissidents in South Africa moreover was first bridged in the Ciskei and its environs during the 1952 Defiance Campaign Finally the Ciskei's segregated African reserve where economic conditions were judged to be most serious emerged as a primary site of struggle on South Africa's periphery during the 1970s and 1980s The focus of this study is on the Xhosa speaking peoples who lived in the Ciskei region in the first century after conquest To highlight the linkages between regional and national issues the Xhosa in the Ciskei are examined in the context of unfolding events in the Cape Colony and in the unified settler state of South Africa after 1910 A distinct plurality of voices would be formed in the complex interplay between color consciousness and class as this community sought space for itself within the domain of South Africa's ruling culture This is Transkei ,1991
