Confronting Obstacles to Inclusion Richard Rose, 2010-07-08 Confronting Obstacles to Inclusion uniquely and comprehensively addresses interpretations of inclusive education by drawing upon the experiences and expertise of leading writers and academics who have direct experience of teaching and researching this area around the world This landmark publication combines theoretical chapters with practical material demonstrating how the theories can be put in to action in the classroom The contributors who all have regular contact with pupils and teachers in inclusive settings provide a broad spectrum of ideas examine a number of key themes and interpret these in an international context such as the causes of exclusion the obstacles to inclusion and how these can be overcome supporting families how we can learn from students professional development enhancing teaching and learning support in the classroom This authoritative text will be of immense interest and use to practitioners policy makers researchers and campaigners who are working towards a more equitable and inclusive society Through a synthesis of theory and practice the book offers readers an opportunity to explore local national and international perspectives and raises questions with regards to our current understanding of inclusion Whilst the interrogation of the concept of inclusion is in itself important the book provides examples of professional approaches to the key questions which are currently challenging the education of a diverse range of learners Inclusion:

A Service Not a Place Dorothy Kerzner Lipsky, Alan Gartner, 2012-01-01 Newly revised and updated for 2012 Inclusion A Service Not a Place guides educators in taking a whole school approach to inclusion that positions students as the centerpiece of educational decision making Authors Dorothy Kerzner Lipsky and Alan Gardner reinforce the need for inclusion and explain what educators must do to ensure all students have full access to the entire general education curriculum The book supports the implementation of inclusive practices by presenting the following A definition and description of inclusive practice The relationship of inclusion to IDEA and NCLB Best practices based upon experience and current research Roles and responsibilities of various school personnel including administrators related services providers and clinicians Parental roles and responsibilities Exploration of interventions with a major focus on RTI and PBIS Reproducible forms for structuring inclusive classrooms Additional resources for specific topics including a listing of organizations videos web sites and a glossary

First Steps in Inclusion Stephanie Lorenz, 2013-10-23 With more parents of disabled children seeking a mainstream place for their child educational professionals are increasingly being faced with the task of making these placements successful For many this can be their first experience of including a child with significant difficulties This book is aimed at all those be they parents teachers learning support assistants SENCOs school managers governors or LEA officers who are charged with ensuring that inclusion is effective both for individual children and for schools as a whole Each chapter looks at the practicalities from a different perspective focusing on the questions that need asking the work that needs to be carried out before the child starts and practical steps that each person in the network can take to make sure that all those concerned are happy are learning effectively and are fully included in the life of the school

Inclusion in Urban Educational Environments Denise E. Armstrong, Brenda J. McMahon, 2006-06-01 This book is motivated by our experiences in working with students and their families in urban communities We are particularly concerned about the urgent imperative to address the endemic educational and societal challenges that pervade the lives of urban students particularly those who live in poverty are of minority and immigrant backgrounds and are otherwise marginalized within the current educational discourses and practices In spite of the fact that over the last 3 decades policy makers educators and communities across the globe have called for in depth structural changes this is rarely evidenced in the discourses practices and structures within academic and practitioner spheres This reluctance despite articulations to the contrary can be directly linked to normative theoretical and practical perspectives that are defined by assumptions that constrain urban students within restrictive boundaries These narrow outsider worldviews based on notions of what ought to be combined with ignorance of the realities of students lives focus on deviance and deficits They blind prospective change agents to the strengths and richness that students bring and they delimit the transformative potential of social justice praxis within urban environments The resulting discourse in the form of deficit beliefs thoughts actions and dialogues shapes urban research theory and practice We contend that in order to counteract the debilitating impacts of these harmful constructions of urban and social justice it is important to clarify this terminology
