Quintessential Classics 1980 To Present:

Learning from a Legend Jared E. Alcántara, 2016-09-30 In April 2015 America's last pulpit prince died. When Gardner C. Taylor, 1918-2015, former senior pastor of Concord Baptist Church in Brooklyn, departed this life at the age of ninety-six, the United States lost one of the greatest preachers of the twentieth century. Unfortunately, not enough preachers today know his name or why his preaching can enrich and bless the church today. Learning from a Legend: What Gardner C. Taylor Can Teach Us about Preaching provides Christian preachers with much needed lessons, wisdom, and insights from Dr. Taylor, the dean of American preaching. It highlights six lessons that Dr. Taylor can teach preachers in the twenty-first century about pain, redemption, eloquence, apprenticeship, context, and holiness. Not only did Dr. Taylor teach and preach these lessons, he lived them. Those wanting to learn more about Dr. Taylor's preaching while also sharpening their own preaching ought to read this book.

Introduction to the Practice of African American Preaching Frank A. Thomas, 2016-11-15 The Introduction to African American Preaching is an important groundbreaking book. This book acknowledges African American preaching as an academic discipline and invites all students and preachers into a scholarly, dynamic, and useful exploration of the topic. Author Frank Thomas opens with a bus tour study of African American preaching. He shows how African American preaching has gradually moved from an almost exclusively oral to an oral-written tradition. Readers will gain insight into the history of the study of the African American preaching tradition and catch the author's enthusiasm for it. Next, Thomas traces the relationship between homiletics and rhetoric in Western preaching, demonstrating how African American preaching is inherently theological and rhetorical. He then explores the question, "what is black preaching?" Thomas introduces the reader to methods of close reading and ideological criticism and then demonstrates how to use these methods using a sermon by Gardner Calvin Taylor as his example. The next chapter considers the question, "what is excellence in black preaching?" The next chapter seeks to create bridges and dialogue within the field of homiletics and, in particular, the Euro-American homiletic tradition. The goal of this chapter is to clearly demonstrate connections between the African American preaching tradition and the field of homiletics. Thomas next turns to questions about the relevancy of the church to the Millennial generation. Specifically, how will the African American church remain relevant to this generation, which is so deeply concerned with social justice?

www.congregationalresources.org Richard Bass, 2004-12-30 An ever-increasing number of resources compete for the attention of congregational leaders. With a seemingly endless number of choices, finding the best resource on a particular topic for a specific congregation is an often-daunting challenge. www.congregationalresources.org is an invaluable companion to the groundbreaking online version of the Alban Institute's and Indianapolis Center for Congregations' jointly researched and produced Congregational Resource Guide, launched in 2001 and accessed by thousands of seekers each week. The book conveniently and cogently puts the rich array of important resources into context by examining in depth the key books, organizations, Web sites, and people that will help leaders gain an understanding of important issues facing their congregations The book features ten overviews of important topics by widely recognized experts in their fields including Amy Sherman on Community Ministry Tom Fischer on Congregational Health Lee Ramsey on Preaching Paul Chaffee on Leadership John Janka on Evaluation and Jean Trumbauer on Lay Ministry Each essay is accompanied by an annotated list of selected resources for researching further information Helpful guides for using these valuable resources to promote and encourage congregational understanding and transformation are also included
