Schuster, 2022-01-27 Homeless Voices Stigma Space and Social Media argues that the best sources for how to address issues of homelessness are people experiencing homelessness themselves particularly as they express their experiences through personal blogs and memoirs Mary L. Schuster discusses how space and land have been historically denied to marginalized communities who still feel the effects to this day along with examining the conditions and limitations of common spaces often assigned to those experiencing homelessness culminating in an analysis of how the novel coronavirus COVID 19 has impacted homelessness

Schuster focuses on two vulnerable groups that often experience homelessness victims of domestic violence and unaccompanied youth particularly those who struggle with gender identity and unstable housing This book includes a variety of case studies examining public meetings and court decisions public policy symposiums and personal interviews and ultimately finds that intersectionality specifically age race gender identity and ethnicity plays a large part in understanding and experiencing homelessness By shifting our attention to the diverse voices who experience homelessness themselves Schuster claims we can finally begin to remedy this crisis Scholars of media studies sociology and urban development will find this book particularly useful

Racial Disproportionality in Child Welfare Marian S Harris, 2014-04-15 The number of children of color entering the child welfare system in the United States is disproportionately high Not only are children of color removed from parental custody and placed in care more often than their white counterparts but they also remain in care longer receive fewer services and have less contact with the caseworkers assigned to them This book identifies the practice and policy changes required to successfully address the unequal treatment of children of color in the child welfare system and their implications for social work education caseworker training and institutional change It critiques many of the existing social welfare acts and policies in terms of their treatment of children of color and it provides best practices for each decision point in the child welfare process and for cultural competency measures and training The text offers extensive measurement instruments that agencies can use to assess and correct institutional racism To improve social work education the book includes several model syllabi for the curriculum and to deepen the discipline's engagement with the issue of institutional racism the text concludes with a discussion of future directions for research and policy

Football and Sexual Crime, from the Courtroom to the Newsroom Deb Waterhouse-Watson, 2020-01-02 This book interrogates the process of court reporting on rape and other sexual crime cases involving Australian footballers At the intersection of sport gender media and the law it uncovers the story behind rape myths and stereotypes in media This book analyses newspaper reporting alongside transcripts of the trials they represent and interviews with the journalists themselves Waterhouse-Watson's work maps structural factors within newsrooms and the complex relationship between the judiciary and media that affect the practice of court reporting This book approaches key journalism concepts like objectivity and balance critically illustrating the layers of mediation that surround a complainant's testimony the way sport shapes the meaning of courtroom and media narratives in these cases and the tension between racism and sexism when race is thematised or otherwise highlighted Ultimately the book proposes an ethics of court reporting that protects individual complainants as well as advancing public understandings of the crime

Coping with Minority Status Fabrizio Butera, John M. Levine, 2009-08-31 Society consists of numerous interconnected interacting and interdependent groups which differ in power and status The consequences of belonging to a higher status majority versus a lower status minority can be profound To understand the origins of the problems caused by majority-minority tensions and develop solutions it is necessary to understand the dynamics of majority minority relations This volume brings together leading scholars in the fields of stigma prejudice and discrimination minority influence and intergroup relations to provide diverse theoretical and methodological perspectives on what it means to be a minority

Clinicians in Court Allan Edward Barsky,2012-03-19 This book has been replaced by Clinicians in Court Third Edition ISBN 978 1 4625 5332 7

New Perspectives on Prison Masculinities Matthew Maycock,Kate Hunt,2018-02-21 This edited collection utilises recent advances in theories on masculinities to explore and analyse the ways in which prisons shape performances of gender both within prison settings and following release from prison The authors assess here how the highly gendered world of the prison where the population is overwhelmingly male in most countries impacts upon the performance of masculinities Including original pieces from England Australia Scotland and the USA as well as contributions which take a broader methodological and conceptual approach to masculinity this engaging and original collection holds international appeal and relevance Cumulatively the chapters illustrate the importance of considering a nuanced understanding of masculinity within prison research and as such will be of particular interest for scholars of penology gender studies and the criminal justice system
