The King Country: Explorations in New Zealand A Narrative of 600 Miles of Travel Through Maoriland James Henry Kerry-Nicholls, 2020-09-28 IN publishing this record of travel I have deemed it advisable to arrange my narrative under four principal divisions In the introductory portion I refer to the leading physical features of that part of the North Island of New Zealand known as the King Country relate the leading incidents connected with its history describe the condition of the native race and explain the object with which my journey was undertaken The succeeding chapters deal with my visit to the Maori King when presenting my credentials from Sir George Grey at the tribal gathering held at Whatiwhatihoe in October 1882 The description of the Lake Country includes my route from Tauranga on the East Coast to Wairakei and which led me through the marvellously interesting region familiarly termed the Wonderland of New Zealand while in the pages embracing my explorations in the King Country I record events as they occurred from day to day over a lengthy journey which was delightful on account of its novelty and variety and exciting by reason of the difficulties both as regards natural obstacles inseparable from the exploration of an unknown region under the unfavourable conditions by which I was constrained to carry it out and the deep rooted jealousy of the native race against the intrusion of Europeans into a portion of the island which is considered by them to be exclusively Maori territory When it is considered that in company only with my interpreter and with but three horses ultimately reduced to two and with what scant provisions we could carry I accomplished considerably over 600 miles of travel discovered many new rivers and streams penetrated almost inaccessible regions of mountainous forest found extensive areas of open plains suitable for European settlement traced the sources of three of the principal rivers of the colony examined the unknown shores of its largest lake ascended one of the highest mountains of the southern hemisphere experienced degrees of temperature varying from 80 in the shade to 12 below freezing point and successfully traversed from South to North through its entire length a territory with an area of 10 000 square miles and which had been from the early history of the colony rigorously closed to Europeans by the hostility of the native tribes it may be readily seen that the explorations by their varied nature disclose many important facts hitherto unknown concerning a vast and beautiful portion of New Zealand and while they cannot fail to prove of practical utility to the colony they will I venture to think be a welcome addition to geographical science The map appended to this work may be said to form the most complete chart of the interior of the North Island as yet published Up to the present time the extensive territory embraced by the King Country has owing to the obstruction of the natives never been surveyed and consequently many of its remarkable physical features have remained unknown the existing maps of this part of the colony being mere outlines As therefore considerably more than half of the country traversed was through a region which was to all intents and purposes a terra incognita from the commencement of my journey I adopted a system of barometrical measurements and topographical observations and thus secured a supply of valuable material which I mapped out from day to day while the names of mountains rivers valleys and lakes were obtained from the natives by the skilful assistance of my interpreter who was at all times unceasing in his endeavours to carry out this part of the work with accuracy

Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand Angela McCarthy, 2022-08-31 This book explores the question of whether the conceptualisation of New Zealand as a welcoming nation is accurate Examining historical and contemporary narratives of migrant and refugee discrimination it considers the economic social political cultural and historical contexts from which discrimination emerges and its repercussions Alert to race and ethnicity gender age class religion and inter ethnic migrant conflict this volume traverses an array of discriminatory practices including xenophobia racism and sectarianism and responses to them With rich evidence fascinating new insights and engagement comparatively and transnationally with global themes of exploitation exclusion and inequalities Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand will appeal to scholars across the humanities and social sciences with interests in migration and diaspora studies race and ethnicity and refugee studies Facing Extinction Paul Donald, Nigel Collar, Stuart Marsden, Deborah J. Pain, 2013-12-19 Examines extinction in birds with case studies of critically endangered species and the research initiatives designed to save them Hitler's Priestess Nicholas Goodrick-Clarke, 2000-10 As one of the earliest of Holocaust deniers and the first to suggest that Adolf Hitler was an avatar a god come to earth in human form to restore the world to a golden age Devi's appeal to neo Nazi sects lies in the very eccentricity of her thought combining Aryan supremacism and anti Semitism with Hinduism social Darwinism animal rights and a fundamentally biocentric view of life Publisher informationt The Spectator , 1885 Periodicals of Queen Victoria's Empire Rosemary VanArsdel, Jerry Don Vann, Rosemary T. VanArsdel, 1996-01-01 Contemporary research in periodical literature has demonstrated conclusively that the nineteenth century in Britain was the age of the periodical It also has shown that in Victorian society the circulation of periodicals and newspapers was both larger and more influential than that of books The six essays in this volume investigate the extent to which this was equally true of Britain's colonies during the period up to 1900 In chapters devoted to periodical publishing in Australia Canada India New Zealand Southern Africa and the outposts of the Empire Ceylon Cyprus Hong Kong Malaya and Singapore Malta and the West Indies the contributors also consider the function and importance of periodicals in colonial life They identify and describe all locally produced publications that appeared at weekly or longer intervals and that contained for example local news poetry fiction criticism commentary on the arts news from home shipping information and commodities reports Each chapter presents an evaluation of the quantity and quality of guides available to periodical literature in each region from basic bibliographies of periodicals directories and finding aids to microfilm records and databases on the Internet Periodicals of Queen Victoria's Empire is an initial step towards understanding and analyzing what its editors regard as the unseen power of the periodical press in the British Empire of the nineteenth century

Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Race Across New Zealand A Fatal Attraction books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Race Across New Zealand A Fatal Attraction books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Race Across New Zealand A Fatal Attraction books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information.
