Opportunity for Students of Color Richard R. Valencia, Valencia presents the most comprehensive theory based analysis to date on how society and schools are structurally organized and maintained to impede the optimal academic achievement of low SES marginalized K 12 Black and Latino Latina students compared to their privileged White counterparts The book interrogates how society contributes to educational inequality as seen in racialized patterns in income wealth housing and health and how public schools create significant obstacles for students of color as observed in reduced access to opportunities e g little access to high status curricula knowledge Valencia offers suggestions for achieving equal education e g implementing fairness of school funding improving teacher quality and providing students of color access to multicultural education by disrupting structural racism Considering the rapid aging of the White population and the sharp decline of White

youth coupled with the explosive growth in people of color this book argues that the American Imperative must be to assiduously mount an effort to provide an excellent education for students of color who the nation will depend on for a sizable proportion of its work force

Book Features Examines how society and schools are failing Black and Latino Latina students principally Mexican Americans who are by far the largest Latino Latina group Uses theoretical frameworks that draw from analysis of structural inequality critical race theory anti deficit thinking narratives class by race covariation and an asset based perspective of students of color Discusses the American Imperative and the personal and economic consequences of not investing in students of color

Still Not Equal M. Christopher Brown, 2007 Still Not Equal Expanding Educational Opportunity in Society addresses the successes and failures of Brown v Board of Education and the Civil Rights Act of 1964 as well as the continuing challenge of expanding educational opportunity in the United States and across the Black diaspora The educational political and social influence resulting from Brown the Civil Rights Act and their progeny have shaped the dynamics of the collective educational and social experiences of people of color Notwithstanding the obstacles barriers and enablers of educational occupational and economic status outcomes impact the formation and interpretation of public policy specifically and public perception generally about racialized notions of schooling and learning The pursuit of educational access attendance and attainment is intertwined with the implications of academic research and public policy to improve local practices in school settings Inasmuch as a diverse research agenda priorities and activities become situated to critically address status and attainment outcomes in education from preschool through adulthood for African Americans in the United States and abroad the resulting complexities in education and other settings will continue to behave in ways that cross racial lines

Seeing Race Again Kimberlé Williams Crenshaw,2019-02-05 Every academic discipline has an origin story complicit with white supremacy Racial hierarchy and colonialism structured the very foundations of most disciplines research and teaching paradigms In the early twentieth century the academy faced rising opposition and correction evident in the intervention of scholars including W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston Carter G Woodson and others By the mid twentieth century education itself became a center in the struggle for social justice Scholars mounted insurgent efforts to discredit some of the most odious intellectual defenses of white supremacy in academia but the disciplines and their keepers remained unwilling to interrogate many of the racist foundations of their fields instead embracing a framework of racial colorblindness as their default position This book challenges scholars and students to see race again Examining the racial histories and colorblindness in fields as diverse as social psychology the law musicology literary studies sociology and gender studies Seeing Race Again documents the profoundly contradictory role of the academy in constructing naturalizing and reproducing racial hierarchy It shows how colorblindness compromises the capacity of disciplines to effectively respond to the wide set of contemporary political economic and social crises marking public life today
