Afro-Cuban Identity in Post-Revolutionary Novel and Film Andrea E. Morris, 2012 Afro Cuban Identity in Post Revolutionary Novel and Film examines the changing discourse on race as portrayed in Cuban novels and films produced after 1959 Andrea Easley Morris analyzes the artists participation in and questioning of the revolutionary government's revision of national identity to include the unique experience and contributions of Cuban men and women of African descent While the Cuban revolution brought sweeping changes that vastly improved the material condition of many Afro Cubans at the time overrepresented among Cuba's poor and marginalized the government's official position was that racial inequities had been resolved as early as 1962 Although a more open dialogue on race was cut short the work of several novelists and film directors from the late 1960s and 70s expresses the need to explore what was gained and lost by Afro Cubans in the early years of the revolution among them Manuel Granados Miguel Barnet Nivaria Tejera Sara Gomez Cesar Leante Tomas Gutierrez Alea Sergio Giral and Manuel Cofi o Their works participate in the process of redefining Cuban national identity that took place after the revolution and more specifically they explore the place of Afro Cuban identity within a broader notion of revolutionary Cubanness This occurs through an emphasis on Afro Cuban cultural practices that have constituted forms of resistance to colonial and neo colonial oppression This book examines the identity conflicts portrayed in these works and takes into account the artists negotiation of their own status within the revolutionary context by looking at the narrative strategies used to address racial issues within the constraints placed on cultural production in Cuba after 1962

Rachel's Machine Martin Wagner, 1997 Rachel is a 17 year old student who falls in love with a VW Beetle To raise the money to buy it she starts work in a factory where she befriends a young man P T She soon shares his fascination for electricity then she begins to suspect his real intentions but it may already be too late

Love and Politics in the Contemporary Spanish American Novel Aníbal González, 2010-02-01 The Latin American Literary Boom was marked by complex novels steeped in magical realism and questions of nationalism often with themes of surreal violence In recent years however those revolutionary projects of the sixties and seventies have given way to quite a different narrative vision and ideology Dubbed the new sentimentalism this trend is now keenly elucidated in Love and Politics in the Contemporary Spanish American Novel Offering a rich account of the rise of this new mode as well as its political and cultural implications Anibal Gonzalez delivers a close reading of novels by Miguel Barnet Elena Poniatowska Isabel Allende Alfredo Bryce Echenique Gabriel Garcia Marquez Antonio Skarmeta Luis Rafael Sanchez and others Gonzalez proposes that new sentimental novels are inspired principally by a desire to heal the division rancor and fear produced by decades of social and political upheaval Valuing pop culture above the avant garde such works also tend to celebrate agape the love of one's neighbor while denouncing the negative effects of passion eros Illuminating these and other aspects of post Boom prose Love and Politics in the Contemporary Spanish American Novel takes a fresh look at contemporary works      Living for Shalom Jeanette Woods, 2021-08-31 Ross Langmead will be remembered as one of Australia's leading missiologists having established his credentials as a young man in founding Westgate Baptist Community after writing a report on the struggling churches in the west of Melbourne. His distinguished academic and teaching career led him to join the faculty at Whitley College until his death in 2013. He will also be remembered for his seventies folk group Daddy's Friends and the songs of love and justice he wrote over forty-five years that are still sung today. This biography starts with his missionary family upbringing and traces the influences that shaped his passion for sharing Jesus with the urban poor. He was a key player in the radical discipleship movement in Australia; his understanding of incarnational mission was that Christians need to be the people of God just where they are. Above all, he lived simply that others might simply live his passion extending to ecomissiology and support for the unemployed indigenous and refugees. He would want this book to inspire readers to make a difference in the world      Peculiar Passages Carol Allen, 2005 This book features African American women playwrights from 1875 to 2000 with an emphasis on the late nineteenth century, a period rarely treated in regard to women's drama. Highlighting the lesser-known Pauline Hopkins, Angelina Weld Grimké, Georgia Douglas Johnson, Eulalie Spence, and May Miller, and the well-known Zora Neale Hurston, Alice Childress, Adrienne Kennedy, and Ntozake Shange, Peculiar Passages argues that these playwrights' efforts define a tradition characterized by quick change, mobility, sensitivity to vernacular forms, and dedication to intertextual dialogue. Situating the plays within a broader context, the book also connects them to minstrelsy, the Passion Play, and the Black Arts Movement.

Vicissitudes of Bush Life in Australia and New Zealand Dugald Ferguson, 1891      Director's Cut Ted Kotcheff, 2017-03-14 With six decades in show business, legendary director Ted Kotcheff looks back on his life. Born to immigrant parents and raised in the slums of Toronto during the Depression, Ted Kotcheff learned storytelling on the streets before taking a stagehand job at CBC Television. Discovering his skills with actors and production, Kotcheff went on to direct some of the greatest films of the freewheeling 1970s, including The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz, Wake in Fright, and North Dallas Forty. After directing the 1980s blockbusters First Blood and Weekend at Bernie's, Kotcheff helped produce the groundbreaking TV show Law & Order. With his seminal films enjoying a critical renaissance, including praise from Martin Scorsese and Nick Cave, Kotcheff now turns the lens on himself. Witty and fearless, Director's Cut is not just a memoir but also a close-up on life and craft, with stories of his long friendship with Mordecai Richler and working with stars like Sylvester Stallone, James Mason, Gregory Peck, Ingmar Bergman, Gene Hackman, Jane Fonda, and Richard Dreyfuss, as well as advice on how to survive the slings and arrows of Hollywood      More writing about music Neil Pace, 2017-01-03 Around a year ago I published Writing about music, an anthology which is just a posh way of saying collection of writing previously published in varying forms in varying places, curated which is just a posh way of saying cobbled together into one volume. I've been living high on the royalties ever since. Or I would have been if anybody had been prepared to buy it Like most items of dubious quality it has however proved mildly popular when given away free This second volume with the imaginative title of More writing about music is similar to the first a collection of gig and album reviews interviews with pop stars and a mish mash of other oddities Includes interviews with Paul Carrack Tom Smith John Flansburgh They Might Be Giants Geoff Downes Yes Meilyr Jones Frank Allen The Searchers Scorpio Grandmaster s Furious Five featuring Mele Mel and Scorpio Glenn Gregory Heaven 17 and Norman Blake Teenage Fanclub primitive and difficult circumstances Another central characteristic in the story is the awakening of a young mind to learning opportunities both from teacher and books as well as more practical lessons gleaned from the wisdom of elders Among the lighter ongoing themes are the exciting music and dancing that had migrated to the mountains from Scots Irish ancestry as well as the self testing components of competition and sports Then there is the beginning of the journey to solve the greatest of all mysteries the intrusion of the opposite sex the collision with chaotic adolescent hormones and the emotional upheaval of first love From the glorious natural beauty of the region to the nostalgia of old mountain hymns to tales of moonshine stills to just the warm memories of growing up loved anyone who is familiar with the old ways in the Appalachians or would enjoy learning more about them should expect a good read
