Racial Conflict in Contemporary Society John Stone, 1985 Examination of race relations passing references to Australian Aboriginal context      Racial Conflict in Global Society John Stone, Polly Rizova, 2014-09-08 Despite global shifts in world power racial conflict remains one of the major problems of contemporary social life This concise and engaging book demonstrates the interplay between identity power and conflict in the creation persistence and transformation of patterns of race and ethnic relations across the globe Stone and Rizova employ a neo Weberian comparative approach to explore how evolving systems of group conflict have been and continue to be impacted by changes in the world system global capitalism multinational corporations and transnational alliances and institutions The authors analyse critical debates about post racialism exceptionalism ethnic warfare and diversity management in global organizations drawing on cases from South Africa to Darfur and from global migration to the Arab Spring uprisings In conclusion the search for effective strategies of conflict resolution and the quest for racial justice are evaluated from multiple perspectives Racial Conflict in Global Society provides stimulating insights into the basic factors underlying racial conflict and consensus in the early decades of the twenty first century It is essential reading for scholars and students across the social and political sciences management and international relations      Power, Resistance and Conflict in the Contemporary World Athina Karatzogianni, Andrew

Robinson, 2009-10-16 Examines the operation of network forms of organization in social resistance movements in relation to the integration of the world system the intersection of networks and the possibility of social transformation      State Looteries Kasey Henricks, David G. Embrick, 2016-08-12 Fifty years ago familiar images of the lottery would have been strange as no state lottery existed then Few researchers have uncovered the obscure role lotteries play in the changing composition of American taxation Even less is known about what role race plays in this process More than simply taxing those on the social margins the emergence of state lotteries in contemporary American history represents something much more fundamental about state fiscal policy This book not only uncovers the underlying racial factors that contextualize lottery proliferation in the U S but also reveals the racial consequences that lotteries have in terms of redistributing tax liability

Contemporary Society Through the Lens of Applied Ethics Buddy Thornton, 2022-01-20 Contemporary Society through the Lens of Applied Ethics provides a framework of how to experience ethics within your personal worldview without being prescriptive A little history a bit of context and a touch of some of today s critical thinking topics hopefully lead to dialogue with friends and colleagues about a topic rarely explored in the world we live in together ethics an abstract part of every human s day to day that people tend to tiptoe around Enjoy the journey and hopefully pick up some interesting and useful perspectives along the way

Inter-ethnic and Religious Conflict Resolution in Nigeria Ernest E. Uwazie, Isaac Olawale Albert, G. N. Uzoigwe, 1999-01-01 Since 1982 Nigeria has experienced more than ten large scale ethnic or religious riots in its major cities These violent clashes have wreaked economic political and social havoc caused an enormous number of deaths and injuries and posed serious obstacles to Nigeria's sociopolitical development as well as retarded efforts at nation building. The papers collected in this book serve as a critical part of an overall objective to develop and promote mechanisms for the understanding and resolution of ethnic and religious conflicts in Nigeria. Both academic and community leaders address various aspects of these conflicts and Uwazie offers several thoughtful options for their successful resolution.

Inter Ethnic and Religious Conflict Resolution in Nigeria will interest students of African history and current affairs scholars of anthropology and ethnicity studies and those involved in international relations and peace studies.

Ethnic Conflict In World Politics Barbara Harff, Ted Robert Gurr, 2018-04-24 This second edition of Ethnic Conflict in World Politics is an introduction to a new era in which civil society states and international actors attempt to channel ethnic challenges to world order and security into conventional politics. From Africa's post colonial rebellions in the 1960s and 1970s to anti immigrant violence in the 1990s the authors survey the historical geographic and cultural diversity of ethno-political conflict. Using an analytical model to elucidate four well chosen case studies the Kurds the Miskitos the Chinese in Malaysia and the Turks in Germany the authors give students tools for analyzing emerging conflicts based on the demands of nationalists indigenous peoples and immigrant minorities throughout the world. The international community has begun to respond more quickly and constructively to these conflicts than it did to civil wars in divided Yugoslavia and genocide in Rwanda by using the emerging doctrines of proactive peacemaking and peace enforcement that are detailed in this book. Concludes by identifying five principles of international doctrine for managing conflict in ethnically diverse societies. The text is illustrated with maps tables and figures.

Ethnic Conflicts and Civil Society Andreas Klinke, Ortwin Renn, Jean-Paul Lehnert, 2018-02-05 This title was first published in 2000. The papers presented in this volume are based on the discussions of a workshop which asked how can ethnic and political cooperation be accomplished in ethnically and politically heterogeneous countries after the collapse of the communist regimes which left a void for nationalist and even chauvinist movements. The objectives are to promote a better understanding of the contemporary ethnic conflicts and their social cultural and political causes to determine the historical structural and political developments that have led to or intensified these conflicts to analyze and develop positive role models for coping with such conflicts to provide constructive proposals for future conflict resolution mechanisms and to identify the crucial elements for building trust generating institutions on the basis of the civil society model. The papers address ethnic conflicts in Eastern Europe with a particular focus on the former republics of Yugoslavia. They aim to go beyond the analysis of causes and manifestations of such conflicts and to offer constructive ideas for the post Civil War period.

Intergroup Relations Michael A. Hogg, Dominic Abrams, 2001 This anthology examines Love's Labours Lost from a variety of perspectives and through a wide range of materials. Ethnic Conflict, Tribal Politics Kenneth Christie,2020-11-25 There is an urgent need for a book which combines the approaches of political science sociology and history and particularly comparative politics with ethnic studies There are currently many rapid and significant changes taking place in the world political map in terms of ethnic conflict How do we explain these changes How do we analyse them How can we compare them How do we make sense of the different ethnic conflicts that have taken place since the end of the Cold War in what some observers have dubbed the New World Order Few books on the market combine the diverse approaches of political science sociology and history at any level of analysis This work will remedy at least some of the deficiencies in the existing literature and be truly interdisciplinary in nature

Politics and Ethnicity J. Rudolph,2006-08-05 This book offers a brief broad comparative study of ethnic politics that places ethnic conflict within the context of particular political systems To develop these themes they are explored by comparing and contrasting the experiences of France Czechoslovakia and its subsequent division and Nigeria      State, Nation and Ethnicity in Contemporary South Asia Ishtiaq Ahmed,1998-01-01 Preface      Ethnonationalism in the Contemporary World Daniele Conversi,2004 Essential reading for anyone interested in problems associated with ethnicity and nationalism it offers a guide to understanding the ethnonational forces that underpin much of recent terrorist activity

Li-On, 2016-05-06 Drawing on an ethnographic study in a multicultural city of Arabs and Jews in Israel this book examines the models and expressions of power implicated in discourse and conflict resolution practices in cross cultural contemporary community. The author explores community politics expressed in daily life as a contextual background to the analysis of conflict resolution politics exploring perspectives of state and civic stakeholders. Through case analysis and addressing the individual, organisational and societal levels, Dr Li On illustrates that conflict resolution is dominated by politics with culture, ethnicity and identity playing a significant role. Disputing groups rely on conflict resolution to achieve contesting socio-political goals. The book explores core concerns in the field illustrating obstacles, challenges and opportunities confronting informal justice in contemporary communities. Informal Justice in Contemporary Society is motivated by the field's research-practice gap and the lack of real-world impact research in cross-cultural settings. The book contributes insights towards theory refinement and conflict resolution practice by addressing practical issues confronted by mediators in the field. This innovative research path introduces a holistic approach to the study of informal justice in social context, deploying multilevel ethnographic analysis to broaden the perspectives and understanding of conflict resolution in contemporary communities. Locally, it provides insights into conflict resolution in Israel in a mixed city of Arabs and Jews. This book belongs on the reference shelf of essential reading for educators, researchers and practitioners in conflict resolution and social studies including anthropological, community, legal and cultural fields. Culture, Ethnicity and Migration After Communism

Anton Popov, 2016-06-10 This book addresses the issue of emerging transnationalism in the conditions of post-socialism through focusing on migrants' identity as a social construction resulting from their experience of the transnational circuit of culture as well as from post-Soviet shifts in political and economic conditions in their home regions. Anton Popov draws upon ethnographic research conducted among Greek transnational migrants living on the Black Sea coast and in the North Caucasus regions of Russia who have become involved in extensive cross-border migration between the former Soviet Union, the Russian Federation, Kazakhstan and Georgia and Greece as well as Cyprus. It is estimated that more than 150,000 former Soviet citizens of Greek origin have resettled in Greece since the late 1980s. Yet many of those who emigrate do not cut their connections with the home communities in Russia but instead establish their own transnational circuit of travel between Greece and Russia. This study demonstrates how migrants employ their ethnicity as symbolic capital available for investment in transnational migration. Simultaneously, they rework their practices of family networking, property relations and political participation in a way which strengthens their attachment to the local territory. The findings presented in the book imply that the social identities, economic strategies, political practices and cultural representation of the Russia's Pontic Greeks are all deeply embedded in the shifting social and cultural landscape of post-Soviet Russia and extensively influenced by the global movement of ideas, goods and people.
