Paradise Lost John Milton, 2011 John Milton 1608 1674 was arguably one of the best read persons of his epoch Milton s commonplace book reveals that in addition to the thoroughly humanistic education that he received at Trinity College Cambridge 1625 1632 he also conducted an extensively broad reading program of his own immediately after concluding his university studies which included forays into nearly every branch of learning in a period that he affectionately referred to as his studious retirement 1632 38 For over 400 years many literary critics have declared this monumental work Paradise Lost to be the greatest poem in the English language Dr Stallard contends that a full understanding of the Bible as the poem s primary inter text is essential to appreciating the poem in its Puritan context John Milton s Bible is lavishly annotated with Biblical references that demonstrates that Milton was mining a wide variety of translations including the 1540 Great Bible the 1560 Geneva Bible the Bishops Bible of 1568 the Douay Rheims of 1582 and the revised Authorized Version of 1612 This Biblically annotated edition of Paradise Lost will be useful to all scholars and students of Milton alike That a lack of familiarity with the Bible should discourage students of English literature from reading the pinnacle achievement of one of the finest poets and minds in the English language is both sad and avoidable This edition makes Milton more accessible comprehensible and enjoyable for everyone

A Reading of Paradise Lost Helen Gardner, 1965 Miss Gardner's book is a collection of lectures. It is not about Milton's rhetoric or imagery but about his whole high argument considered as an imaginative structure. What is its shape? how does it cohere? what is the relationship within Milton's universe of the cosmic theme to the human theme? these are her topics. In all her discussions, Miss Gardner's special strength lies in her power to wing a middle flight between two other opposites: the historical and the absolute kinds of criticism; the one treating a poem wholly as a product of its age and the other treating it as an aesthetic object in vacuo. Miss Gardner can look at Paradise Lost with an innocent eye and savour it with a taste uncorrupted by literary prejudice; but her appreciation is enriched and authenticated by her profound knowledge of the seventeenth-century mind. She knows how much common ground Milton shared with his readers; how far he could expect them to suspend their disbelief; how much they would take for granted as scriptural and therefore true; and how much they could accept as accommodation or probable fiction or even as mere epic machinery and amplification.
