Everyday Life in British Government R. A. W. Rhodes, 2011-04-21 As citizens why do we care about the everyday life of ministers and civil servants We care because the decisions of the great and the good affect all our lives for good or ill For all their personal political and policy failings and foibles they make a difference So we want to know what ministers and bureaucrats do why and how We are interested in their beliefs and practices In his fascinating piece of political anthropology Rod Rhodes uncovers exactly how the British political elite thinks and acts Drawing on unprecedented access to ministers and senior civil servants in three government departments he answers a simple question what do they do On the basis of extensive fieldwork supplemented by revealing interviews he tries to capture the essence of their everyday life He describes the ministers and permanent secretaries world through their own eyes and explores how their beliefs and practices serve to create meaning in politics policy making and public service delivery He goes on to analyze how such beliefs and practices are embedded in traditions in webs of protocols rituals and languages The story he has to tell is dramatized through in depth accounts of specific events to show ministers and civil servants in action He challenges the conventional constitutional institutional and managerial views of British governance Instead he describes a storytelling political administrative elite with beliefs and practices rooted in the Westminster model which uses protocols and rituals to domesticate rude surprises and cope with recurrent dilemmas AB Bookman's Weekly ,1996 The Columbia Dictionary of Quotations Robert Andrews, 1993 Over 11 000 of these 18 000 quotations have never before appeared in a quotation book Chosen not for their familiarity but for their quality and their relevance in the 1990s these provocative quotations cover subjects from adolescence and adoption to yuppies and zoos New Society ,1987 The New Penguin Dictionary of Modern Quotations Robert Andrews, Kate Hughes, 2000 From Margot Asquith to Monica Lewinsky from George V to Boutros Boutros Galli and Jonathan Aitken to Frank Zappa The New Penguin Dictionary of Modern Quotations is the definitive collection

Stranger at the Door Kristjana Gunnars, 2006-01-01 At the beginning of a new writing project whether it s the first page of a new novel or a less ambitious project writers often experience exhilaration fear or dread For Kristjana Gunnars the call of a new project is like someone you don t know knocking on your door you either choose to let the person in or not It s both exciting and dangerous to start a new manuscript This book is an engagement with that stranger called writing Creative or imaginative writing is a complex process that involves more than intellect alone Writers make use of everything their sensibilities history culture knowledge experience education and even their biology These essays seek out and gather into a discussion what writers have said about their own experiences in writing Although the writers are from around the world and of very different backgrounds the commonality of their remarks brings home the realization that writers everywhere are grappling with similar problems with the seemingly simple problems of when where why and what to write but also larger questions such as the relationship between writer and society or issues of privacy appropriation or homelessness While none of these questions can be definitively answered they can be fruitfully discussed Originating as questions posed in creative writing seminars these essays have grown into companion texts for both writers and readers who want to participate in a conversation about what writers do Book Review Index, 2003 Vols 8 10 of the 1965 1984 master cumulation constitute a title index Book Prices: Used and Rare, 1994 Edward N.
