John J. Su, 2011-05-26 Imagination and the Contemporary Novel examines the global preoccupation with the imagination among literary authors with ties to former colonies of the British Empire since the 1960s John Su draws on a wide range of authors including Peter Ackroyd Monica Ali Julian Barnes Andr Brink J M Coetzee John Fowles Amitav Ghosh Nadine Gordimer Hanif Kureishi Salman Rushdie and Zadie Smith This study rehabilitates the category of imagination in order to understand a broad range of contemporary Anglophone literature The responses of such literature to shifts in global capitalism have often been misunderstood by the dominant categories of literary studies the postmodern and the postcolonial

As both an insightful critique into the themes that drive a range of today's best novelists and a bold restatement of what the imagination is and what it means for contemporary culture this book breaks new ground in the study of twenty first century literature

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell, Dirk Kloppe, Craig Mackenzie, 2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa's history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party's policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele's call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country's literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945

J.M. Coetzee and the Novel Patrick Hayes, 2010-08-12 Anti illusionism is I suspect only a marking of time a phase of recuperation in the history of the novel The question is what next J.M. Coetzee Patrick Hayes argues that the significance of Coetzee's fiction lies in the acuity with which it both explores and develops the tradition of the novel ranging from Cervantes Defoe and Richardson to Dostoevsky Kafka and Beckett's part of a sustained attempt to rethink the relationship between writing and politics. For Coetzee, questions about the future of the novel are closely related to what it means to write after Beckett. J. M. Coetzee and the Novel examines the ways in which his fiction discerningly assimilates the techniques of literary modernism to engage with some of the most troubling aspects of late twentieth century cultural and political life. While Coetzee is rightly known as an intensely serious writer, Hayes shows that the true seriousness of his writing is intimately bound up with comedy or, to use the word Coetzee borrows from Joyce, the jocoserious. Opening up a range of new approaches to this major contemporary author, J. M. Coetzee and the Novel argues that it is only by paying especially close attention to the experience of reading Coetzee's finely nuanced prose that his distinctive impact on longstanding questions about identity, community, and the nature of political modernity can be appreciated.

Literary Theory and Criticism Arun Gupto, 2021-08-30 The book explores key South Asian writings on cultural theory and literary criticism. It discusses the dynamics of textual contents, rhetorical styles, and socio-political issues through an exploration of seminal South Asian scholarship in the Humanities and Social Sciences. The volume examines concepts and methods of critical studies. It also discusses colonial and postcolonial discourses on art, religion, nationalism, identity, representation, resistance, and gender in the South Asian context. The essays are accompanied by textual questions and intertextual discussions on rhetorical, creative, and critical aspects of the selected texts. The exercise questions invite the reader to explore the mechanics of reading about and writing on discursive pieces in South Asian studies. Comprehensive and interdisciplinary, this textbook will be indispensable for students and researchers of South Asian studies, cultural theory, literary criticism, postcolonial studies, literary and language studies, women and gender studies, rhetoric, and composition, political sociology, and cultural studies.

The Disappointed Bridge Richard Pine, 2014-06-02 This original study is the first major critical appraisal of Ireland's post-colonial experience in relation to that of other emergent nations. The parallels between Ireland, India, Latin America, Africa, and Europe establish bridges in literary and musical contexts which offer a unique insight into independence and freedom and the ways in which they are articulated by emergent nations. They explore the master-servant relationship, the functions of narrative, and the concepts of nationalism, map-making, exile, schizophrenia, hybridity, magical realism, and disillusion. The author offers many incisive answers to the question: What happens to an emerging nation after it has emerged?

South African Writers Paul A. Scanlon, 2000 Essays on South African writers from the South African War or Anglo-Boer War (1899-1902) to the Act of Union in 1910 when the defeated Boer republics were joined together by British Parliament into what became modern South Africa. Discusses the beginnings of South African literature in English as well as the impact the discovery of gold and diamonds had. Genres mentioned include travel books, hunter-adventure romances, and South African realist fiction.

Nation-Building, Propaganda, and Literature in Francophone Africa Dominic Thomas, 2002-11-19 What characterizes the relationship between literature and the state Should literature serve the needs of the state by constructing national consciousness espousing state propaganda and molding good citizens Or should it be dedicated to a different kind of creative social endeavor In this important book about literature and the politics of nation building Dominic Thomas assesses the contributions of Francophone African writers whose works have played a key role in the recent transition to democracy in the Congo Exploring the works of Sony Labou Tansi Henri Lopes and Emmanuel Dongala among others Thomas highlights writers intimately involved with government and politics whether in support of the state's vision or with the intention of articulating a more open view of citizens and society Focusing on themes such as collaboration reconciliation identity history and memory Nation Building Propaganda and Literature in Francophone Africa elaborates a broader understanding of the circumstances of African colonization modern African nation state formation and the complex cultural dynamics at work in Africa since independence Africa 2001 Charles H.
