The Modernization of Fatherhood Ralph LaRossa, 1997 The period between World War I and World War II was an important time in the history of gender relations and of American fatherhood Revealing the surprising extent to which some of yesterday's fathers were involved with their children The Modernization of Fatherhood recounts how fatherhood was reshaped during the Machine Age into the configuration we know today LaRossa explains that during the interwar period the image of the father as economic provider pal and male role model all in one became institutionalized Using personal letters and popular magazine and newspaper sources he explores how the social and economic conditions of the Roaring Twenties and the Great Depression a period of technical innovation as well as economic hardship fused these expectations into a cultural ideal With chapters on the U S Children's Bureau the fathercraft movement the magazine industry and the development of Parent's Magazine and the creation of Father's Day this book is a major addition to the growing literature on masculinity and fatherhood

The American Father Wade C. Mackey, 2013-06-29 In The American Father Wade C Mackey documents a wealth of information demonstrating the vast benefits to society when its children are raised in families with fathers The biopsychosocial approach Mackey employs is consistent with the current treatment of topics development This approach which is grounded in a variety of diverse sources assumes that we understand little about people when we study them a bit at a time rather the fullness of the individual requires a fullness of examination For example in the cases of fathers we note that humans do not reproduce alone after all we are not an asexual species No human reproduction and its sequelae are social just as clearly as they are biological and involve the whole panoply of psychic function motivation sociability intelligence and the like The evidence marshaled by Mackey indicates strongly that individuals and societies have an essential requirement for something more than mothering they also need fathering Much of the discourse and publication on fathers during the past several decades has been posited on a more is better model of male parenting in which it is seldom stated who it is better for the father the child the mother the couple or the family Further much of this discussion infers that fathers are merely Mr Moms yet this is not so

The Man Question Nancy E. Dowd,2010-09-20 Among the many important tools feminist legal theorists have given scholars is that of anti essentialism all women are not created equal and privilege varies greatly by circumstances particularly that of race and class Yet at the same time feminist legal theory tends to view men through an essentialist lens in which men are created equal The study of masculinities inspired by feminist theory to explore the construction of manhood and masculinity questions the real circumstances of men not in order to deny men s privilege but to explore in particular how privilege is constructed and what price is paid for it In this groundbreaking work feminist legal theorist Nancy E Dowd exhorts readers to apply the anti essentialist model so dominant in feminist jurisprudence to the study of masculinities She demonstrates how men s treatment by the law and society in general varies by race economic position sexuality and other factors She applies these insights to both boys and men examining how masculinities analysis exposes both privilege and subordination She examines men s experience of fatherhood and sexual abuse and boys experience in the contexts of education and juvenile justice Ultimately Dowd calls for a more inclusive feminist theory which by acknowledging the study of masculinities can broaden our understanding of privilege and subordination

New Fathers? Contemporary American Stories of Masculinity, Domesticity and Kinship Helena Wahlström,2010-10-12 What do novels such as Annie Proulx s The Shipping News Michael Cunningham s A Home at the End of the World and Jayne Anne Phillips MotherKind have in common with films such as Smoke and Mrs Doubtfire This study explores the intersection of masculinity and domesticity in contemporary film and literature It argues that these texts produced since the 1990s address with some urgency the notion of new fatherhood in the United States They offer explorations of the idea that American fatherhood around the turn of the twenty first century is changing and they problematize the legitimacy of new fathers and alternative families in a national culture where the old patriarch and the nuclear family still often loom large in the imagination of many Americans

Men and Maternity Rosemary Mander,2004-08-02 With men becoming increasingly involved in childbearing as obstetricians and more recently as fathers this book considering the findings of recent research and wider literature argues that the beneficial contribution of men has been taken for granted
