Contributors are Rebecca Burwell, Jackson W. Carroll, Kenneth G. Davis, Gastón Espinosa, Mary L. Gautier, Mark M. Gray, Andrew Hernández, Edwin I. Hernández, Philip E. Lampe, Adair Lummis, Melissa D. Mauldin, Milagros Peña, Marciana Popescu, Juan Carlos Rivera, and Amy L. Sherman. Street Saints Barbara J. Elliott, 2004-09. Based on eight years of hands-on experience and more than 300 interviews, Street Saints is both a book of motivational stories about unsung heroes and a sociological study of the faith factor, documenting faith-based programs that are treating social maladies in America. This book takes readers on a tour of communities and institutions in America where faith-based initiatives are making a difference. It offers inspiration, role models, and guidelines for people who would like to give back to their own communities. Encyclopedia of Social Work, 1965.

Congregational Music, Conflict and Community Jonathan Dueck, 2017-04-28. Congregational Music, Conflict and Community is the first study of the music of the contemporary worship wars, conflicts over church music that continue to animate and divide Protestants today. It is based on long-term in-person observation and interviews. It tells the story of the musical lives of three Canadian Mennonite congregations who sang together despite their musical differences at the height of these debates in the late 1990s and early 2000s. Mennonites are among the most music-centered Christian groups in North America, and each congregation felt deeply about the music they chose as their own. The congregations studied span the spectrum from traditional to blended to contemporary worship styles and from evangelical to liberal Protestant theologies. At their core, the book argues, worship wars are not fought in order to please congregants' musical tastes nor to satisfy the theological principles held by a denomination. Instead, the relationships and meanings shaped through individuals' experiences singing in the particular ways afforded by each style of worship are most profoundly at stake in the worship wars. As such, this book will be of keen interest to scholars working across the fields of religious studies and ethnomusicology.

Transformation and Development of Human Society: Robert Munthali, 2014-10-31. In this book, the promovendus investigates the critical role a preacher and his/her homilies have in bringing transformation, development, and healing in the human society. The investigation shows how a preacher has been sidelined on issues of progress when, from time immemorial, he/she has been a critical and pivotal component in the phenomenon. The study is an attempt to reclaim a preacher's role in bringing progress and healing in underdeveloped communities through homilies, particularly in Venda, rural South Africa. This book proposes a preacher as the transformer, developer, and healer of the people. Faith, Hope, Love, and Justice Anselm K. Min, 2018-03-28. Faith, hope, and love, traditionally called theological virtues, are central to Christianity. This book renews faith, hope, and love in the context of the many contemporary challenges in many unique ways. It is an ecumenical collection of papers equally divided between Catholic and Protestant positions that seek to radically renew the classical doctrine of faith.

hope and love and argues for their essential connection to the praxis of justice. It contains eight different approaches each represented by a distinguished theologian and addressing different aspects of the issues and followed by insightful and critical responses. It does not merely seek to renew the theological virtues but to also reconstruct them in the demanding context of justice and the contemporary world nor is it simply a treatise on justice but a theoretical and practical reflection on justice as vital expressions of faith in God, hope in God and love of God. A non-dogmatic and non-ideological approach that accommodates both conservative and liberal positions and avoids the separation of the theological virtues from the demands of the contemporary world as well as the separation of justice talk from the theological context of faith, hope and love. It seeks above all to renew not merely repeat the classical doctrine of faith, hope and love in the contemporary context of the urgency of justice and to do so ecumenically, comprehensively and from a variety of perspectives and aspects.

Community Wealth Building and the Reconstruction of American Democracy Melody C. Barnes, Corey D.B. Walker, Thad M.

Williamson, 2020-10-30 How can we create and sustain an America that never was but should be? How can democracy become a meaningful way of life for all citizens? By critically probing these questions the editors of Community Wealth Building and the Reconstruction of American Democracy seize the opportunity to bridge the gap between our democratic aspirations and our current reality.

September 11 Ian S. Markham, Ibrahim M. Abu-Rabi', 2002 This title offers a comprehensive perspective on the background, causes and outcome of the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001. Holy Sex Austin L. Leininger, 2025-10-03 Christians need a new perspective from which to engage in the question and conversation of human sexuality. Writing from an understanding of sexual intimacy as a gift from God that offers humankind the opportunity to transcend our separateness as embodied people this text explores the sacramental aspects of sex as an access point for experiencing God's grace. While we may certainly learn things about sex from God there are also things we can learn about our passionate relational and loving God from sex. Seeking insight from the existing sacraments of Baptism and Eucharist sex is examined sacramentally as a basis for describing a sacramental approach to sexual ethics. The method is then applied to difficult contemporary questions for both Church and society. Specifically applied to the ongoing discussion of the legitimacy and morality of LGBTQIA2S relationships the method demonstrates a significant contribution to the faithful discussion of sex and theology as mutually informing conversation partners
