From Heidegger to Performance Marie Hay, Martin Leach, 2024-12-17 In Being and Time Martin Heidegger developed a way of considering human existence

as being there a process of interrelationships with aspects of the environment in which the very process itself constitutes the essence of human being From Heidegger to Performance engages with this radical perspective and consider Heidegger s thinking in relation to different senses of performance from the familiar such as theatrical contexts of dance live art and theatre to explorations of modes of being within these performative situations The contributors engage with a wide variety of topics from clowning to questions of linguistic construction from the phenomenology of objects in stage space to the ephemerality of performance from the performance of personal memory to the anxiety of the moment of choice in performing a complex movement This book explores the ways in which Heidegger s work and ideas of performance and performativity intersect across their various senses and usages and will be useful to scholars teachers and students who are interested in thinking about performance and themselves as performative in new ways

New Perspectives on Narrative and Multimodality Ruth Page,2009-09-10 This study investigates the richly diverse but integrated semiotic potential of storytelling Unlike other interdisciplinary approaches to narrative studies which have privileged the study of words in storytelling this unique collection provides a much needed analysis of how narrative operates using combinations of visual typographic aural gestural and haptic resources Although both multimodal theory and narrative studies have been invigorated by a variety of theoretical approaches this volume seeks to avoid a single dominant paradigm Instead the contributors use literary criticism linguistics and new media frameworks in a series of critical studies that are directly engaged with a range of multimodal stories The contributors analyze works that include oral accounts of personal experience opera cartoons print literature and new media forms of storytelling such as experimental digital fiction and fanfiction

Margaret Fuller Charles Capper,Cristina Giorcelli,2008-01-15 Margaret Fuller 1810 1850 a pioneering gender theorist transcendentalist journalist and literary critic was one of the most well known and highly regarded feminist intellectuals of nineteenth century America With her contemporaries Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau she was one of the predominant writers of the Transcendentalist movement and she aligned herself in both her public and private life with the European revolutionary fervor of the 1840s She traveled to Italy as a foreign correspondent for the New York Tribune to cover the nascent revolutions pursuing the transnational ideal awakened in her youth by a classical education in European languages and a Romantic curiosity about other cultures traditions and identities This volume is a collaboration of international scholars who from varied fields and approaches assess Fuller s genius and character Treating the last several years of Margaret Fuller s short life these essays offer a truly international discussion of Fuller s unique cultural political and personal achievements From the origins and articulations of Fuller s cosmopolitanism to her examination of the woman question and from her fascination with the European other to her candid perception of imperial America from abroad they ponder what such an extraordinary woman meant to America and also to Italy and Europe during her lifetime and continuing to the present
