Schensul, Jean J. Schensul, Margaret D. and advance knowledge LeCompte, 1999-08-19 Essential Ethnographic Methods akes a mixed methods approach to introducing the fundamental face to face data collection tools that ethnographers and other qualitative researchers use Researcher-Policymaker Partnerships Jenni W. Owen, 2017-03-31 Gone are the days when researchers policymakers and practitioners each worked in isolation In recent years a few interrelated issues have emphasized the need for greater collaboration among researchers policymakers and practitioners the increased emphasis on results and accountability particularly where public funds are at stake the need to improve services and the growing use of technology This book is about these all important partnerships specifically the relationships between those searching for evidence and those who are putting evidence to use through designing and implementing policy at the federal state or local level Students of public policy public administration social work and education will find much to inform future roles in research policy or practice Classroom Research Partnerships Debra K. Meyer, Julianne C. Turner, Nancy E. Perry, 2023-10-02 Classroom Research Partnerships guides academic researchers through the conceptualization implementation and dissemination of studies based in school communities As dynamic complex contexts classrooms are rich with the potential for deepening our understanding of teaching and learning processes and creating robust ecologically valid innovations in education Designed for both first time and experienced classroom researchers this book s unique framework will move readers toward more responsive reflexive and mutually beneficial collaborations Each chapter presents background on key research decisions logistical and ethical considerations and objectives for advancing knowledge and professional practice Examples are drawn from the research experiences of the authors as well as classroom researchers interviewed for the book which collectively provides an array of project designs in different cultural settings from early childhood through high school Researchers from universities school districts and nonprofits will find renewed inspiration to set goals that pursue positive and equitable change for the students teachers and communities at the heart of classroom research partnerships Research Partnerships in Early Childhood Education Judith Duncan, 2013-11-19 Duncan and Conner demonstrate how collaborative research on early childhood education results in gains for educators researchers and children alike Drawing on examples of successful partnerships from Canada Australia and New Zealand they set out the successes struggles insights and opportunities that come from such Developing and Maintaining Police-Researcher Partnerships to Facilitate Research Use Jeff Rojek, Peter partnerships Martin, Geoffrey P. Alpert, 2014-09-15 This Brief discusses methods to develop and maintain police researcher partnerships First the authors provide information that will be useful to police managers and researchers who are interested in creating and maintaining partnerships to conduct research work together to improve policing and help others understand the linkages between the two groups Then more specifically they describe how police managers consider and utilize research in policing and criminal justice and its findings from a management perspective in both the United States and Australia While both countries experience similar issues of trust acceptance utility and accountability between researchers and practitioners the experiences in the countries differ In the United States with 17 000 agencies the use of research findings by police agencies requires understanding diffusion and acceptance In Australia with a small number of larger agencies the problems of research practitioner partnerships have different translational issues including acceptance and application As long as police practitioners and academic researchers hold distinct and different impressions of each other the likelihood of positive cooperative and sustainable agreements between them will suffer Community-Based Participatory Research for Improved Mental Healthcare Laura Roberts, 2012-11-28 Respect for persons beneficence and justice are the principles that collectively form the ethical basis of human research These three principles find expression in Community Based Participatory Research for Improved Mental Healthcare or CBPR a systematic approach for engaging specially defined groups of people in a process of inquiry and social change In the Community Based Participatory Research a panel of renowned authors provide a step by step approach for conducting CBPR providing all the conceptual and methodological guidelines needed to implement this important and extremely fruitful research approach As early career investigators use this mode of collaborative inquiry in the service of society an exciting and entirely new capacity for ethically sound and more rigorous and consequential science can be built An indispensable resource that will be of great interest to researchers from a wide array of disciplines the Community Based Participatory Research for Improved Mental Healthcare is a major addition to the literature and certain to become the gold standard reference in the field Mapping Social Networks, Spatial Data, and Hidden Populations Margaret D. LeCompte, Jean J. Schensul, Merrill Singer, Robert T. Trotter II, Ellen K. Cromley,1999-08-19 A newer edition of this book is available for ordering at the following web address https rowman com ISBN 9780759122055 Whether it is to understand the networks of individuals the physical makeup of a household or community or to develop strategies for finding difficult to reach populations such as the homeless or drug addicted applied researchers increasingly need to understand spatial methods In this brief volume the techniques of network analysis mapping and finding hidden populations are explained in simple practical language. The authors describe when and how to use these techniques and offer numerous examples of how the methods have worked in community psychology drug research risk assessment and network analysis among other settings Research-Practice Partnerships in Education Linor L. Hadar, Hadar Baharav, 2025-04-17 This edited volume broadens the discussion on Research Practice Partnerships RPPs in education by extending the focus beyond the US context providing an in depth exploration of an RPP designed to enable partnering schools to evaluate and understand pedagogical processes or practices through engagement in school based research Integrating current literature case studies depicting RPP dynamics and research findings this book demonstrates how RPPs transcend traditional boundaries bring together diverse educational stakeholders and expand perspectives to inform educational practices and policies In addition to providing a theoretical review of the RPP framework and its application in the field of education the chapters present several case studies that address key aspects of school partnerships including collaborative development role formation conflict resolution and more This book ultimately supports a broader understanding of the RPPs workings and dynamics through unique perspectives from academic faculty members and practitioners Contributing to a more conceptual understanding of RPPs that paves the way for transformative advancements in educational research this book will appeal to researchers scholars and postgraduate students interested in RPP research and practice and teachers and teacher education more broadly Policymakers and third party organizations considering how to create shape and fund new RPPs may also find this book of use Visual Methodologies and Digital Tools for Researching with Young Children Marilyn Fleer, Avis Ridgway, 2013-11-11 This book makes an original contribution to researching child community development so that those with specific interests in early childhood education have new theoretical tools to quide their research practices The book explicitly theorises the use of digital visual tools from a cultural historical perspective It also draws upon a range of post structuralist concepts for moving research and scholarship forward Examples of visual technologies from research in different cultural communities are foregrounded In particular this book introduces contemporary methodologies for researching child and community development with a focus on visual methodology so the dynamics of development can be captured over time and analysed historically culturally socially ecologically and psychologically through a range of iterative techniques Visual technology was not freely available in Vygotsky s time for example and therefore potentially represents an extension of his genetic experimental approach to researching child development The book presents a range of methodological arguments about research into child and community development through which new conceptions for research centred on young children have been created The authors of the chapters also discuss why a more holistic dynamic and ethical view of research is needed for generating new knowledge about child development in a range of cultural contexts Clinician-Researchers in Psychotherapy Jill D. Paquin, 2020-05-21 Clinical researchers who have an active clinical practice are rare Therapists who conduct therapy research are rarer still Why is this the case And why is the study of the practice often so far from the actual practice If the practice and research worlds of therapy are to be bridged might clinician researchers professionals who do both play an important role in this process A career engaged both with providing therapy and researching therapy is unique This book combines original empirical work theory and first person scholarly narratives authored by clinical mental health professionals in the early middle and later stages of their careers as they highlight the rewards challenges and potent areas of synergy they experience as clinician researchers This book was originally published as a special issue of Counselling Psychology Quarterly Ethnography Audra Skukauskaitė, Judith L. Green, 2022-08-12 Focusing specifically on Interactional Ethnography IE as a distinct discourse based form of ethnography this book introduces readers to the logic and practice behind IE and exemplifies the logic of ethnographic inquiry through a range of example based chapters Edited by two of the foremost scholars in the field of IE this book brings together a body of work that has until now been largely dispersed Illustrating how IE intersects with ethnographic methods including observation interviews and fieldwork the book highlights considerations relating to data analysis researcher positionality and the ethics of engaging participants in research Offering examples of IE in international contexts and across a range of social science and educational settings the book provides foundational principles and key examples of IE to guide readers work This book offers researchers scholars and teacher educators a definitive novel contribution to current methodological literature on IE broadly and will be of particular use to ethnographers starting out in their career Due to the interdisciplinary nature of the volume in illustrating the use of IE in a range of educational sub disciplines the book s relevance extends to the fields of medical education teacher education arts and literacy research as well as providing situated examples of IE in settings with relevance to the social sciences anthropology and cultural studies The New Criminal Justice John Klofas, Natalie Kroovand Hipple, Edmund McGarrell, 2010-02-25 Criminal Justice in the United States is in the midst of momentous changes an era of low crime rates not seen since the 1960s and a variety of budget crunches also exerting profound impacts on the system This is the first book available to chronicle these changes and suggest a new emerging model to the Criminal Justice system emphasizing collaboration across agencies previously viewed as relatively autonomous a focus on location problems and local solutions rather than a widely shared understanding of crime or broad application of similar interventions a deep commitment to research which guides problem assessment and policy formulation and intervention Ideal for use in graduate as well as undergraduate capstone courses

Fieldwork Experiences in Criminology and Security Studies Antonio M. Díaz-Fernández, Cristina Del-Real, Lorena Molnar, 2023-12-19 This book compiles the fieldwork experiences of 55 researchers addressing the challenges ethical considerations and methodologies employed to study 30 diverse populations and phenomena within Criminology and Security Studies This volume contributes to filling a gap in academic literature by highlighting the often unspoken realities and intricacies of fieldwork The book is systematically structured into five thematic sections The Powerful The Invisible The Vulnerable The Violent and The Cyber These categories encompass various aspects and dimensions of fieldwork including managing emotional distress negotiating access through gatekeepers ensuring the protection of informants and exercising discretion in navigating sensitive issues As a scholarly resource this book is invaluable for academics practitioners and students involved in criminology security studies anthropology sociology and political science By offering in depth reflections and insights this volume enhances the reader s understanding of the nuances of fieldwork and informs the development of robust and ethical research practices Chapters 2 9 and 11 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 Partnership and Recognition in Action Research Christine O International License via link springer com Edwards-Groves, Anette Olin, Gunilla Karlberg-Granlund, 2020-04-28 Critical participatory action research creates opportunities for people to work together to solve problems and address issues about the conditions under which they work through mutually agreed on actions in practice Partnership and recognition hold together the practices of critical participatory action research and as mutually entwined ideals are fundamental for site based education development Drawing on the theory of practice architectures this book interrogates and extends the concepts and practices of partnership and recognition in action research as they are explored in different educational settings and as these are played out in the day to day experiences and practices of people participating and collaborating in educational change Partnership and recognition are considered in terms of the agency and actions of both individuals and collectives as they encounter one another in educational change and in terms of the cultural discursive material economic and social political conditions that enable and constrain possibilities for partnerships and recognition Of central importance is the concept of practice theory and the authors illuminate how recognition change learning and development practices are experienced and recognised by people in a range of partnerships This book was originally published as a special issue of Educational Action Research

Research Collaboration, 2007-01-01 Even though collaboration is entrenched in research practices few studies have considered how the practice is enacted among whom and to what effect Reviewing the accounts of successful or productive collaborative research teams in which collaborators report either concord or conflict in their relational dynamics featured in this volume leads to a deeper understanding of what it means to collaborate The contributing authors explore their relationships and praxis in particular research collaborations that range from large interdisciplinary teams to intimate teams between university based researchers who collaborate with teachers or students Successes experienced by the contributors are discussed in terms of solidarity emotional energy trust agency power and ethical praxis It is clear from the studies reported here that despite recognized differences between researchers in teams if they work with each other for each other it is likely that they will build solidarity and experience positive emotional energy and trust The edited volume is relevant to both experienced and early career researchers Realising Innovative Partnerships in Educational Research Rachel McNae, Bronwen Cowie, 2017-07-18 Realising Innovative Partnerships in Educational Research examines the underlying principles and actions that support the development of and engagement in partnerships in educational research With social justice at its core the work in this book represents various architectures of innovation whereby new ways of thinking about partnership research are proposed and practices of teaching and learning are reconciled or not with existing education contexts and practices With contributions from educational researchers and practitioners from New Zealand and international commentaries provided by established scholars in the field the book draws together key experiences and insights from students teachers community members and researchers in tertiary community school and early childhood settings The research in this book seeks to address a gap in our understanding extending knowledge beyond simply the benefits of partnership work to examine how successful partnerships can be initiated enacted and sustained over time This book invites reflection on the following provocations Why engage in partnerships for educational research How has this happened in the past and what needs to happen for the future What is unique about the New Zealand context and what might researchers in other countries learn from our collaborative and culturally responsive research methodologies What could be some of the underlying principles that support the development of and engagement in collaborative research How do we evaluate the effectiveness of research partnerships in education to shift the focus to the future Collaborative Qualitative Research Thalia M. Mulvihill, Raji Swaminathan, 2022-09-05 Meeting a key need for qualitative researchers this practical book presents tools for creating productive partnerships and managing each phase of a collaborative project The authors provide guidelines for working across disciplines status differentials such as professor and student and geographical locations Collaboration within particular qualitative traditions cross cultural research duoethnography participatory action research arts based collaborations and others is described and illustrated with exemplars of published studies Readers learn how to build research teams formulate research questions gather and analyze data and assess how collaborations are working Ethical questions are highlighted throughout Who owns collaborative research Who decides what aspects of the findings should be disseminated How can inequitable power relations be redressed Within chapter Pedagogical Pathways sections provide practice exercises and opportunities for reflection Honorable Mention ICQI Outstanding Qualitative Book Award Winner American Educational Studies Association Critics Choice Award
