particularly in relation to the Information and Communications Technologies ICTs De Gruyter Handbook of Media Economics Ulrike Rohn, M. Bjørn Rimscha, Tim Raats, 2024-05-20 The handbook presents key contributions from scholars worldwide providing a comprehensive exploration of current trends in media industries from diverse perspectives Within the framework of understanding contemporary and future trajectories in media markets and industries the volume delves into their influence on media organization and delivery along with broader societal and market implications Encompassing research at the crossroads of economics management political economy and production studies the handbook emphasizes the necessity for a robust interdisciplinary dialogue Beyond scrutinizing present and forthcoming industry developments the handbook addresses pivotal issues pertaining to media economics research methods and pedagogy It serves as a valuable resource for scholars students and media professionals providing insights into media economics as an academic field and delving into the multifaceted dynamics that shape the media landscape Doing this it contributes to the ongoing discourse on the evolving nature of media markets and their profound impact on society Towards a Knowledge Society Debal K. SinghaRoy, 2014-10-16 This book depicts the emergence of knowledge society across rural and urban spaces and among cross sections of social collectivities in India It analyses the new economic momentum and socio cultural milieu as set in motion with the emergence of this society The ensuing impact on the pre existing facets of social identity and marginality and the processes of construction of new social identities therein are studied This book delineates both the hope and despair as produced with the arrival of the knowledge society and identifies the scope and conditions of alternative choice and liberation for the people within the emerging socio economic order of this society Rich in empirical data this monograph will interest students researchers teachers policy planners and social activists Environmental Literacy and New Digital Audiences Pat Brereton, 2018-12-07 Environmental literacy and education is not simply a top down process of disseminating correct attitudes values and beliefs Rather it is one that incorporates and facilitates a dialogue with audiences of different persuasions and at all levels of engagement to help highlight and co produce consensual solutions to the major eco challenges of our time Exploring the growing power and influence of media formats and outlets like YouTube and gaming alongside fictional and documentary film this book considers new modes of environmental literacy to ascertain the effectiveness of digital and filmic stimuli on an audience s perception of environmental issues and its specific impact on environmental action Drawing on extensive research across a broad range of media formats Brereton establishes how environmental narratives and meanings are created and being received by contemporary audiences This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of environmental communication and media eco criticism and environmental humanities more broadly European Modernism and the Information Society W. Boyd Rayward, 2017-05-15 Uniting a team of international and interdisciplinary scholars this volume considers the views of early twentieth century European thinkers on the creation dissemination and management of publicly available information Interdisciplinary in perspective the volume

reflects the nature of the thinkers discussed including Otto Neurath Patrick Geddes the English Fabians Paul Otlet Wilhelm Ostwald and H G Wells The work also charts the interest since the latter part of the nineteenth century in finding new ways to think about and to manage the growing body of available information in order to achieve aims such as the advancement of Western civilization the alleviation of inequalities across classes and countries and the promotion of peaceful coexistence between nations In doing so the contributors provide a novel historical context for assessing widely held assumptions about today's globalized post modern information society This volume will interest all who are curious about the creation of a modern networked information society

Coming to Terms with Chance Oscar H. Gandy, 2016-05-23 The application of probability and statistics to an ever widening number of life decisions serves to reproduce reinforce and widen disparities in the quality of life that different groups of people can enjoy As a critical technology assessment the ways in which bad luck early in life increase the probability that hardship and loss will accumulate across the life course are illustrated Analysis shows the ways in which individual decisions informed by statistical models shape the opportunities people face in both market and non market environments Ultimately this book challenges the actuarial logic and instrumental rationalism that drives public policy and emphasizes the role that the mass media play in justifying its expanded use Although its arguments and examples take as their primary emphasis the ways in which these decision systems affect the life chances of African Americans the findings are also applicable to a broad range of groups burdened by discrimination

Theories of the Information Society Frank Webster, 2014-03-21 Information is regarded as a distinguishing feature of our world Where once economies were built on industry and conquest we are now part of a global information economy Pervasive media expanding information occupations and the development of the internet convince many that living in an Information Society is the destiny of us all Coping in an era of information flows of virtual relationships and breakneck change poses challenges to one and all In Theories of the Information Society Frank Webster sets out to make sense of the information explosion taking a sceptical look at what thinkers mean when they refer to the Information Society and critically examining the major post war approaches to informational development The fourth edition of this classic study brings it up to date with new research and with social and technological changes from the Twitter Revolutions of North Africa to financial crises that introduced the worst recession in a life time to the emergence of social media and blogging and reassesses the work of key theorists in the light of these changes More outspoken than in previous editions Webster urges abandonment of Information Society scenarios preferring analysis of the informatization of long established relationships This interdisciplinary book is essential reading for those trying to make sense of social and technological change in the post war era It addresses issues of central concern to students of sociology politics geography communications information science cultural studies computing and librarianship

Informationsgesellschaft Gérald Berthoud, Albert Kündig, 2005

European Media Policy for the Twenty-First Century Seamus Simpson, Manuel Puppis, Hilde van den Bulck, 2016-01-29 Media policy issues sit at the heart of the structure and functioning of media systems in Europe and beyond This book brings together the work of a range of leading media policy scholars to provide inroads to a better understanding of how effective media policies can be developed to ensure a healthy communication sector that contributes to the wellbeing of individual citizens as well as a more democratic society Faced with a general atmosphere of disillusionment in the European project one of the core questions tackled by the volume s contributors is what scope is there for European media policy that can exist beyond the national level Uniquely the volume s chapters are structured around four key policy themes media convergence the continued role and position of public regulatory intervention in media policy policy issues arising from the development of new electronic communication network environments and lessons for European media policy from cases beyond the EU In its chapters the volume provides enriched understandings of the role and significance of policy actors institutions structures instruments and processes in communication and media policy

The Arab Spring, Civil Society, and Innovative Activism Cenap Çakmak,2016-12-09 This book investigates the role of society groups in the making of the Arab Spring and under which conditions they attained their goals Democracy and recognition of human rights and fundamental freedoms seem to be the main drives of the people organized in form of civil groups or grassroots movements in the Arab Spring countries but it is essential to identify when they find it suitable to take such extreme action as taking the streets in an attempt to take down the repressive regimes It is also important to investigate what methods they relied on in their action and how they challenged the state and the government A review of the cases in this volume shows that civil society has certain limitations in its action Analysis of the cases also challenges a commonly held assumption that the Arab world does not have strong and rich civil society tradition However for a lasting success and consolidation of democracy something more than civil society action is obviously needed A strong organized opposition and a democratic culture seems to be indispensable elements for the evolution of a democratic order and tradition

Governing European Communications Maria Michalis,2007-01-01 Governing European Communications provides a comprehensive and up to date account of the emergence dynamics and evolution of European level communications governance in the post war era focusing on telecommunications and television policies and regulation and their technological convergence Concentrating on the EU the book embeds governance within broader economic and political developments in a global context and demonstrates that European governance has been more about the character rather than the level of regulation

The European Public Sphere and the Media A. Triandafyllidou,R. Wodak,Micha? Krzy?anowski,2009-06-25 This book contributes to the theoretical and policy debate on the existence of a European public sphere It presents a critical discussion of the links between media history and politics in Europe today examining the re organization of ideological and political dimensions and debates the existence of a European editorial culture

Raymond Williams's Sociology of Culture P. Jones,2003-12-19 This detailed study of Williams unlocks his late sociology of culture It covers previously overlooked aspects such as his critique of Birmingham cultural studies his use of an

Adorno like approach to cultural production his social formalist alternative to structuralism and post structuralism and his approach to the media

Economic and Political Contention in Comparative Perspective Maria Kousis, Charles Tilly, 2015-12-03 European and American specialists in economic and political processes move beyond earlier debates to look seriously systematically and innovatively at social change and protest with particular attention to the influence of economic change and variation on contentious politics The essays take up two widely recognized but much contested questions in contentious politics how threats and opportunities faced by potential participants in joint political action affect the likelihood character and consequences of that action and how economic change and variation either a constitute significant political threats and opportunities or b shape responses to political threats and opportunities Contributors Maria Kousis Charles Tilly Marc Giugni Julie Berclaz Marc Steinberg Jeffery Broadbent Klaus Eder John K Glenn Dieter Rucht Richard Hogan Maryjane Osa Cristina Corduneanu Husi

The Handbook of European Communication History Klaus Arnold, Paschal Preston, Susanne Kinnebrock, 2019-09-06 A groundbreaking handbook that takes a cross national approach to the media history of Europe of the past 100 years The Handbook of European Communication History is a definitive and authoritative handbook that fills a gap in the literature to provide a coherent and chronological history of mass media public communication and journalism in Europe from 1900 to the late 20th century With contributions from teams of scholars and members of the European Communication Research and Education Association the Handbook explores media innovations major changes and developments in the media systems that affected public communication as well as societies and culture The contributors also examine the general trends of communication history and review debates related to media development To ensure a transnational approach to the topic the majority of chapters are written not by a single author but by international teams formed around one or more lead authors The Handbook goes beyond national perspectives and provides a basis for more cross national treatments of historical developments in the field of mediated communication Indeed this important Handbook Offers fresh insights on the development of media alongside key differences between countries regions or media systems over the past century Takes a fresh cross national approach to European media history Contains contributions from leading international scholars in this rapidly evolving area of study Explores the major innovations key developments differing trends and the important debates concerning the media in the European setting Written for students and academics of communication and media studies as well as media professionals The Handbook of European Communication History covers European media from 1900 with the emergence of the popular press to the professionalization of journalists and the first wave of multimedia with the advent of film and radio broadcasting through the rapid growth of the Internet and digital media since the late 20th century

Alternative Journalism Chris Atton, James F Hamilton, 2008-11-20 A provocative inspiring and challenging intervention in both journalism and media studies Alternative Journalism is that rare book that services students as much as scholars It widens the trajectory of media studies and creates different modes of reading writing and thinking It offers an alternative history beyond the tales of great men great newspapers great editors and great technologies It adds value and content to overused and ambiguous words such as community and citizenship and captures the spark of new information environments THE Times Higher Education Alternative Journalism investigates and analyses the diverse forms and genres of journalism that have arisen as challenges to mainstream news coverage From the radical content of emancipatory media to the dizzying range of citizen journalist blogs and fanzine subcultures this book charts the historical and cultural practices of this diverse and globalized phenomenon This exploration goes to the heart of journalism itself prompting a critical inquiry into the epistemology of news the professional norms of objectivity the elite basis of journalism and the hierarchical commerce of news production In investigating the challenges to media power presented by alternative journalism Atton addresses not just the issues of politics and empowerment but also the journalism of popular culture and the everyday The result is essential reading for students of journalism both mainstream and alternative
