Reshaping The World For The 21st Century Society And Growth:

Reshaping the World for the 21st Century ,2002 The Regional and Local Shaping of World Society Mark

Herkenrath,2007 Globalization is usually seen as a uniform force producing similar social consequences across all societies affected The contributions in this volume challenge this notion by demonstrating that reactions to the same global changes vary across different parts of the world In particular this volume examines the crucial role of economically and politically integrated regions as mediators between global challenges and local responses To the extent that different regional reactions to global change retroact on their global context global social transformation becomes a highly complex phenomenon

Problem Society Niki J.P. Alsford,Fatimaah J. Menefee,2025-06-02 Problem Society is an essential introduction to the many facets of divided societies It examines the complexities of how and why ancient grievances and new conflicts coexist with unprecedented connectivity and develops students understanding of the daily lived experience of people in cultural economic and political landscapes affected by global shifts Structured around critical problems facing global societies in transition it equips students with analytical tools to interpret the complex world around them It provides a multidisciplinary exploration of the historical contexts of nation state building and the politics of divided nations and illuminates the geopolitical upheavals of the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Illustrated by diverse case studies and vignettes it takes readers on a chapter by chapter journey through key topics including balancing interests and needs at different societal levels from the global to local shifts in the tension between individualism and collectivism obstacles to problem solving and decision making causes of and ways of managing and resolving conflict the challenge of ensuring effective accountable and transparent governance peacekeeping forms and the ethical and political dilemmas they entail establishing and verifying truth in an era of misinformation and balancing privacy and security amid widespread surveillance Borne from the authors extensive experience of teaching and collaborating with students to bridge theory concepts and issues with their real world experience pedagogical features include definitions of key concepts activities reflection questions further reading as well as carefully curated suggestions for films and docuseries to deepen students understanding of contemporary international politics Problem Society is an engaging introduction to the intricate dynamics of a rapidly changing interconnected world for students of sociology politics international relations human geography anthropology area studies and conflict resolution How Educational Ideologies Are Shaping Global Society Joel Spring,2014-04-08 In this book Joel Spring explores three major international educational ideologies that are shaping global society neo liberal educational ideology human rights education and environmentalism Neo liberal ideology reflects a rethinking of nationalist forms of education as the nation state slowly erodes under the power of a growing global civil society Traditional nationalist education attempts to mold loyal and patriotic citizens who are emotionally attached to symbols of the state whereas the goal of neo liberal educational ideology is to change nationalist education to serve the needs of the global economy These changes are fueling a clash between the ideas of free market and consumer based neo liberals and those of human rights and environmental educators Human rights education is concerned with creating activist global citizens It is rooted in the idea that inherent in human rights doctrines is a collective responsibility to ensure the rights of all people Environmentalism is the most radical of the ideologies because it rejects the industrial and consumerist paradigm that has dominated most economic thought including capitalism and communism Spring synthesizes and analyzes the effect of these educational ideologies on shaping the future of the global society In the concluding section he compares the effect of these ideologies on global society with the possibility of a world divided between conflicting civilizations

How Educational Ideologies Are Shaping Global Society Intergovernmental Organizations NGOs and the Decline of the Nation State features a critical exploration of the transition of schooling from a function of the nation state to a globalized economic and political system a discussion of the major organizations and trading blocs shaping the future globalization of educational policies an analysis of the major competing global ideologies of education including national and corporate models that emphasize training workers for a competitive global free market the worldwide network of human rights and peace educators who are teaching a global set of ethics and the environmental movement s efforts to create a common set of educational standards for sustainable development and sustainable consumption and an exploration of the possible future of global educational policy and school organizations By integrating a wide range of previously scattered information within a bold new framework for understanding educational ideologies and their impact on the global society Spring raises important questions for researchers professionals and students in history and philosophy of education educational policy educational studies comparative education multicultural education curriculum studies critical media studies global studies human rights education and related areas

Vision Assessment: Shaping Technology in 21st Century Society John Grin, Armin Grunwald, 2012-12-06 One way to shape technology and its embedding in society in the 21st century is through the visions that guide their development especially concerning the long term societal perspective A critical discussion and assessment of these visions is a prerequisite for influencing the course of development Technology assessment therefore has to provide a methodological repertoire for assessing and constructing visions taking into account the requirements for long term orientation as well as the need for public legitimation This volume draws upon insights from technology assessment political sciences epistemology sociology and ethics It is to contribute to the recent literature in on shaping technology taking into account the co evolution of technology and society It connects to that technology assessment literature that emphasises TA s pro active role and its contribution to political judgement

Afrocentric Approaches to Community Development in the 21st Century Ndwakhulu Tshishonga,Eve D.

Mafema,2025-06-22 This collection of chapters takes a departure from western prescripts to community development It sheds light on adopting tested and tried Afrocentric methods to community development The book draws lessons from African methods of communal unity for the common good It gives details of African models of community development and how they were used before modernisation The book also provides an overview of how these models are essential for governments to incorporate them into their development models The importance of this book thus lies in the fact that it focuses on traditional African models of community development to enhance government led models Afrocentric theories models are applied in the hope that policymakers academics and practitioners will find arguments and conclusions of the book useful for better policy formulation to reduce poverty and unemployment Shaping Globalization Nicanor

Perlas,2019-03-25 Civil Society has become a major power in the world The stunning defeat of the controversial and secretive Multilateral Agreement on Investments the massive worldwide WTO protests and the yearly meetings of the World Social Forum are testimony to its coming of age From these significant victories civil society continued to catch world attention with the Arab Spring the grassroots movement that helped elect former US President Barack Obama and the significant gains of the anti fracking campaign With tens of millions of citizens and over a trillion dollars involved in advancing its agenda civil society now joins the state and the market as the third key institution shaping globalization However it cannot fully mobilize its resources and power as it currently lacks clear understanding of its identity Shaping Globalization argues that global civil society is a cultural institution wielding cultural power and shows how through the use of this distinct power it can advance its agenda in the political and economic realms of society without compromising its identity Nicanor Perlas outlines the strategic implications for civil society both locally and globally and explains that civil society s key task is to inaugurate threefolding the forging of strategic partnerships between civil society government and business Such authentic tri sector partnerships are essential for advancing new ways for nations to develop and for charting

a different sustainable type of globalization Using the model of the Philippine Agenda 21 we are shown how civil society and progressive individuals and agencies in government and business are demonstrating the effectiveness of this new understanding to ensure that globalization benefits the environment the poor and society as a whole This reprinted edition includes a new Afterword Encyclopedia of Digital Government Anttiroiko, Ari-Veikko,Malkia, Matti,2006-07-31

Containing more than 250 articles this three volume set provides a broad basis for understanding issues theories and applications faced by public administrations and public organizations as they strive for more effective government through the use of emerging technologies This publication is an essential reference tool for academic public and private libraries

patterns the pace of technological change and the path of economic globalization Re-Shaping Education for Citizenship
Mike Byram, Lai Pak-Sang, 2011-11-15 Despite or perhaps because of globalisation and internationalisation in the contemporary world the role of education has become more significant in nation formation However whereas in the past its function was to create homogeneity and assimilation today it must deal with diversity and plurality The modernist premise of one nation one state is being questioned and re constituted with the notion of the plural national state This book explores school processes in Hong Kong under these new conditions The focus is on investigating how the concept of a national identity of the one country two systems policy is developing and is thus a study of that diversity which all education systems now have to address The policy aims at facilitating national re integration and consolidation in the face of an insistence on local citizens universal civic rights and the values of liberty equality democracy and autonomy The analysis shows citizenship education in the Hong Kong school system is more a locally oriented cultural and political process than a transmission of a national ideology Students learn their values attitudes and perspectives by engaging and interacting with people within and beyond the school community They acquire a liberal and democratic national identity which is distinct from that of pan Chinese state nationalism in mainland China The book is thus both a case study of Hong Kong and an analysis of change in the relationship of education citizenship and national identity in the contemporary world
