Residue Reviews / Rückstands-Berichte Francis A. Gunther, 2012-12-06 That residues of pesticide and other foreign chemicals in foodstuffs are of concern to everyone everywhere is amply attested by the reception accorded previous volumes of Residue Reviews and by the gratifying enthusiasm sincerity and efforts shown by all the individuals from whom manuscripts have been solicited Despite much propaganda to the contrary there can never be any serious question that pest control chemicals and food additive chemicals are essential to adequate food production manufacture marketing and storage yet without continuing surveillance and intelligent control some of those that persist in our foodstuffs could at times conceivably endanger the public health Ensuring safety in use of these many chemicals is a dynamic challenge for established ones are continually being displaced by newly developed ones more acceptable to food technologists pharmacologists toxicologists and changing pest control requirements in progressive food producing economies These matters are also of genuine concern to increasing numbers of governmental agencies and legislative bodies around the world for some of these chemicals have resulted in a few mishaps from improper use Adequate safety in use evaluations of any of these chemicals persisting into our food stuffs are not simple matters and they incorporate the considered judgments of many individuals highly trained in a variety of complex biological chemical food technological medical pharmacological and toxicological disciplines

Bioenergy Production by Anaerobic Digestion Nicholas Korres,Padraig O'Kiely,John A.H. Benzie,Jonathan S. West,2013-08-29 Interest in anaerobic digestion AD the process of energy production through the production of biogas has increased rapidly in recent years Agricultural and other organic waste are important substrates that can be treated by AD This book is one of the first to provide a broad introduction to anaerobic digestion and its potential to turn agricultural crops or crop residues animal and other organic waste into biomethane The substrates used can include any non woody materials including grass and maize silage seaweeds municipal and industrial wastes These are all systematically reviewed in terms of their suitability from a biological technical and economic perspective In the past the technical competence and high capital investment required for industrial scale anaerobic digesters has limited their uptake but the authors show that recent advances have made smaller scale systems more viable through a greater understanding of optimising bacterial metabolism and productivity Broader issues such as life cycle assessment and energy policies to promote AD are also discussed

Handbook on Biodegradation and Biological Treatment of Hazardous Organic Compounds M.H. van Agteren,Sytze Keuning,D. Janssen,2013-04-17 The introduction of synthetic organic chemicals into the environment during the last few decades has given rise to major concern about the ecotoxicological effects and ultimate fate of these compounds The pollutants that are considered to be most hazardous because of their intrinsic toxicity high exposure level or recalcitrant behavior in the environment have been placed on blacklists and other policy priority lists The fate of synthetic compounds that enter the environment is mainly determined by their rate of biodegradation which therefore also has a major effect on the degree of bioaccumulation and the risk of ecotoxicological effects The degree and rate of biodegradation is also of critical importance for the feasibility of biological techniques to clean up contaminated sites and waste streams The biodegradation of xenobiotics has thus been the subject of numerous studies which resulted in thousands of publications in scientific journals books and conference proceedings These studies led to a deeper understanding of the diversity of biodegradation processes As a result it has become possible to enhance the rate of degradation of recalcitrant pollutants during biological treatment and to design completely new treatment processes At present much work is being done to expand the range of pollutants to which biodegradation can be applied and to make treatment techniques less expensive and better applicable for waste streams which are difficult to handle
