Resurrection In Derridas Glorious Glas:

The Resurrection in Derrida's Glorious "Glas" David Goicoechea,1997      Through a Glass Darkly John Charles Hawley,1996 These essays interdisciplinary in their approach demonstrate the variegation of the religious imagination from the broadest historical and denominational scope By examining the works of philosophers and theologians of poets painters and novelists from Saint Mark to Jacques Derrida and from Erasmus Loyola and Milton to Rouault and to Andrew Greeley the essayists seek to answer the question Jesus posed to His disciples Who do you say that I am and to anticipate the equally contentious query How do you say who I am The essays together explore the religious imagination through the question of transcendence using both the age old Christian imagination and the contemporary world wherein the divisions between religious cultures are less fixed an age of imaginative permeability where the absence of God is as present as the presence of God      Gothic death 1740-1914 Andrew Smith,2016-09-01 Gothic death 1740 1914 explores the representations of death and dying in Gothic narratives published between the mid eighteenth century and the beginning of the First World War The book investigates how eighteenth century Graveyard Poetry and the tradition of the elegy produced a version of death that underpinned ideas about empathy and models of textual composition Later accounts of melancholy as in the work of Ann Radcliffe and Mary Shelley emphasise the literary construction of death The shift from writing death to interpreting the signs of death is explored in relation to the work of Poe Emily Bront and George Eliot A chapter on Dickens examines the significance of graves and capital punishment during the period A chapter on Haggard Stoker and Wilde explores conjunctions between love and death and a final chapter on Machen and Stoker explores how scientific ideas of the period help to contextualise a specifically fin de si cle model of death      Rethinking African Development ,1997      The Spectator ,1999      Directory of American Scholars Xerox Education Publications,1978      Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,1997      Adorno's Nonidentical and Derrida's Différance. For a Resurrection of Negative Dialectics Stefan Zenklusen,2020-11-16 The virulent anti Hegelianism of French poststructuralism and its difficult confrontation with J rgen Habermas has long obscured the closeness of Jacques Derrida s diff rance to Theodor W Adorno s Nonidentical Taking the overarching theme of identity and difference as a guide we can peel apart what unites and separates these two thinkers In so doing certain de realizing effects of Derrida s entrapment in signs reveal themselves By contrast Adorno s social and cultural diagnosis when extrapolated to a post Fordian context is astonishingly fruitful Attempts to trivialize negative dialectics as a model of intellectual self understanding from a past age or as an esthetic reserve of ways of life are untenable      Functions of the Derrida Archive Richard J. Lane,2003 This dissertation examines the early philosophical receptions to the work of Jacques Derrida structuring the receptions in the form of an archive The monograph is composed of three main sections The Non Locus of the Archive The Derrida Archive and Conclusion The Margins of Philosophy The Non Locus of the Archive examines three ways of conceptualizing the archive the archaeological or Foucauldian concept as a reaction to the traditional history of ideas the traditional archive model Foucault attempts to replace and a deconstructive model which is the first stage in critiquing this traditional archaeological binary opposition The Functions of the Derrida Archive are briefly introduced and the whole issue of the philosophical receptions is related to Derrida's comments on Colleges and Philosophy and the essay The Principle of Reason The Derrida Archive is divided into Critical and Supporting Receptions This is an analysis of the Functions that the monograph finds working
