Rethinking Objectivity Post Contemporary Interventions:

Rethinking Objectivity Allan Megill, 1994 Although objectivity is a term used widely in many areas of public discourse from discussions concerning the media and politics to debates over political correctness and cultural literacy the question What is objectivity is often ignored as if the answer were obvious In this volume Allan Megill has gathered essays from fourteen leading scholars in a variety of fields history anthropology philosophy psychology history of science sociology of science feminist studies literary studies and accounting to gain critical understanding of the idea of objectivity as it functions in today's world In diverse essays the authors provide fascinating studies of objectivity in such areas as anthropological research corporate and governmental bureaucracies legal discourse photography and the study and practice of the natural sciences Taken together Megill argues this volume calls for developing a notion of objectivities The absolute sense of objectivity that is objectivity as a God's eye view must be supplemented and in part supplanted by disciplinary procedural and dialectical senses of objectivity This book will be of great interest to a broad range of scholars as it presents current thinking on a topic of fundamental concern across the disciplines in the humanities and social sciences Contributors Barry Barnes Dagmar Barnouw Lorraine Code Lorraine Daston Johannes Fabian Kenneth J Gergen Mary E Hawkesworth Barbara Herrnstein Smith Evelyn Fox Keller George Levine Allan Megill Peter Miller Andy Pickering Theodore M Porter History and Memory in the Dead Sea Scrolls Travis B. they analytically address to make sense of and reanimate resistance to the contemporary urban through articulations of new grammars of gendered geographies of justice The Philosophical Review ,1995 Contesting Measles and

Meta-Reflexivität wird für unterschiedlichste Bereiche der Professionalisierung von Lehrpersonen konkretisiert. Geschichte digital schreiben Christian Wachter, 2021-09-03. Geschichte als nicht-linearen Verlauf aufzufassen heißt historische Zusammenhänge in all ihrer Komplexität auszudrücken. Dabei stoßen wir mit gedruckten Texten an Grenzen. Christian Wachter zeigt: Digitaler Hypertext hingegen erweist sich als konstruktive Erweiterung für die Erkenntnisvermittlung. Non-lineare gedachte Zusammenhänge werden mit einem non-linearen Medium explizit repräsentiert. Entgegen einem netzwerkartigen Schreiben drängen sich multilinear angelegte und visualisierte Erzählpfade auf die den narrativen und argumentativen Aufbau der Wissensangebote abbilden. Sie vermitteln dadurch epistemisch Wesentliches. The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1995. The Objectivity Crisis, 1993. Zensus und Ethnizität Wolfgang Göderle, 2016-01-04. Über die Rolle des Zensus bei der Konstruktion von Nation, Identität und Ethnizität. Die Volkszählungen im späten Habsburgerreich waren eine zentrale Praxis der Wissensherstellung und Durchethnisierung. Was wurde dabei genau gezählt? Welche kollektiven Identitätsvorstellungen sollten daraus hervorgehen? Welchen Beitrag leisteten wissenschaftliche Weltbilder und Idealvorstellungen von Objektivität? Wie wurde das erzeugte Wissen in modernen Gesellschaften verbreitet und wirksam? Die Studie ist als Wissensgeschichte an der Schnittstelle von Verwaltungs-Wissenschafts- und Imperialgeschichte konzipiert. Mit der Konzentration auf Wissenschaft, Administration und mediale Repräsentation kommt Wolfgang Göderle zu überraschenden Ergebnissen. Weder waren staatliche Institutionen völlig frei in ihrem Handeln, noch waren Bürgerinnen und Bürger passive Subjekte im Zensus. Die moderne Volkszählung entwickelte sich mit den wissenschaftlichen Idealen der zweiten Hälfte des 19. Jahrhunderts. Ihr reibungsloser Ablauf konnte nur gewährleistet werden, wenn hohe Anforderungen erfüllt waren. Insbesondere musste dazu Raum territorial gedacht und administrativ unter Kontrolle gebracht werden. Die Herstellung dieser Vorbedingung wirkt bis in die Gegenwart nach. Rethinking Sino-Japanese Alienation Barry Buzan, Evelyn Goh, 2020-01-09. Bitterly contested memories of war, colonisation and empire among Japan, China and Korea have increasingly threatened regional order and security over the past three decades. In Sino-Japanese relations, identity, territory and power pull together in a particularly lethal direction, generating dangerous tensions in both geopolitical and memory rivalries. Buzan and Goh explore a new approach to dealing with this history problem. First, they construct a more balanced and global view of China and Japan in modern world history. Second, building on this, they sketch out the possibilities for a 21st-century great power bargain between them. Buzan puts Northeast Asia's history since 1840 into both a world historical and a systematic normative context, exposing the parochial nature of the China-Japan history debate in relation to what is a bigger shared story about their encounter with modernity and the West, within which their modern encounter with each other took place. Arguing that regional order will ultimately depend substantially on the relationship between these two East Asian great powers, Goh explores the conditions under which China and Japan have been able to reach strategic bargains in the course of their long historical relationship and uses this to sketch out the main modes of agreement that might underpin a new contemporary great power bargain between them in a variety of future scenarios for the region The frameworks adopted here consciously blend historical contextualisation enduring concerns with wealth power and interest and the complex relationship between Northeast Asian states evolving encounters with each other and with global international society Новая советская

Broersma,2016-09-13 It s easy to make a rhetorical case for the value of journalism Because it is a necessary precondition for democracy it speaks to the people and for the people it informs citizens and enables them to make rational decisions it functions as their watchdog on government and other powers that be But does rehashing such familiar rationales bring journalism studies forward Does it contribute to ongoing discussions surrounding journalism s viability going forth For all their seeming self evidence this book considers what bearing these old platitudes have in the new digital era It asks whether such hopeful talk really reflects the concrete roles journalism now performs for people in their everyday lives In essence it poses questions that strike at the core of the idea of journalism itself Is there a singular journalism that has one well defined role in society Is its public mandate as strong as we think The internationally renowned scholars comprising the collection address these recurring concerns that have long defined the profession and which journalism faces even more acutely today By discussing what journalism was is and possibly will be this book highlights key contemporary areas of debate and tackles on going anxieties about its future Anthropology Newsletter ,1994 Rethinking the Curriculum Orlando Nang Kwok

McLaughlin, 2017-01-06 This collection of fourteen essays by scholars from Canada Europe the United Kingdom and the United States emerges from a growing interest in the ways postmodern theory can illuminate not just the products and ideas of high culture but also the ins and outs of everyday life Taking the university classroom broadly construed as a site of theoretical investigation this volume helps us to understand troublesome classroom dynamics as well as offering pedagogical strategies for dealing with them It also illuminates current pressures on higher education that find expression in the classroom As a forum for these issues these essays draw upon Deleuzian feminist Foucauldian and psychoanalytic approaches among others recognizing not only that these approaches are often in conflict but also that collectively they enhance our understanding of the classroom Important questions posed here include whether and if so how we can combine a Marxist or Foucauldian emphasis on the disciplinary and hegemonic practices of educational institutions with a Lacanian or Barthesian appreciation for the disruptive pleasures and drives that the unconscious produces within and through students teachers and classrooms Which theoretical and pedagogical innovations can help teachers and students to get the job done as well as to theorize the job to simultaneously practice education and imagine other forms and ends for education How can theory help us to historicize criticize and re draw the productive but sometimes disabling lines that make the classroom and its subjects A site for lively theoretical debate about these and related pedagogical issues this volume will prove useful for anyone wanting to reinterpret reinvent and reinvigorate the classroom

Reconsidering Drugs NA NA, 2016-04-30

Lawrence Driscoll's fresh examination of the meaning of drugs from the Victorians to the present asks us to listen to historical and current voices whose positions on drugs are at variance with our truths Driscoll draws on the work of figures as diverse as William Burroughs Sigmund Freud Conan Doyle and Anna Kavan to shed light on different or silenced ways of talking about drugs and to offer us a historical counter memory The result of his work is to unsettle and disturb the familiar parameters that frame our discussion of drugs revealing that others are available positions which expose our own constructions as surprisingly limited
