Rethinking Poverty Comparative Perspectives From Below:

Rethinking Poverty Wil G. Pansters, 2000      Poverty and Social Deprivation in the Mediterranean Maria Petmesidou, Christos Papatheodorou, 2013-07-04 In the growth of regional identities worldwide the Mediterranean Basin is emerging as an entity in its own right This book a unique collaboration among social scientists around the entire Mediterranean littoral covers Southern Europe Turkey the Balkans North Africa and the Near East Leading economists sociologists and social policy experts document with new and up to date empirical material the changing profiles of poverty and social deprivation The result is a thought provoking comparison of the extent severity and structural causes of poverty and social inequality and the huge diversity of public responses to the challenges they pose      Killing the Snake of Poverty. Local perceptions of poverty and wellbeing and peoples capabilities to improve their lives in the Southern Andes of Peru Azusa Miyashita, 2009      Understanding Poverty and Well-Being David Hulme, John Toye, 2013-10-18 Written by a multi disciplinary team of contributors this collection explores the different dimensions of well being poverty and inequality A person s sense of well being is compounded of many elements including economic political and social psychology Poverty and inequality are aspects of a lack of well being in multiple dimensions and this texts argues development should be considered a process that overcomes these multiple deficiencies This book examines the advantages of analysing poverty and development by multi discipline research Economists political sociologists and anthropologists put forward an idea of well being from their own perspective using their own research material while the editors argue in their introduction that bringing to bear of many disciplines can enrich the research output of all      Promoting Innovation, Productivity and Industrial Growth and Reducing Poverty Maureen Mackintosh, Joanna Chataway, Marc Wuyts, 2021-04-26 Development and the ending of mass poverty require a massive increase in productive capabilities and production in developing countries Some countries notably in Asia are achieving this Yet pro poor aid policies especially for the least developed countries operate largely without reference to policy thinking on the promotion of innovation for productivity growth Conversely policy makers and researchers on innovation and industrial policies tend to know little about the potential for social protection to support innovation and productivity improvement This book aims to focus attention on this gulf between research on innovation and on poverty reduction and to identify some of its policy consequences to set out some ways in which this gulf can be bridged analytically and empirically and to contribute to the creation of an agenda for further research and an understanding of the urgency of the implied rethinking The first two chapters provide sustained arguments for embedding social policy thinking in much more productivist frameworks of thought that focus on raising productivity and employment and for identifying growth theories that can incorporate satisfactory understandings of innovation and employment upgrading A set of chapters then tackle these broad themes in the context of health addressing the interlinked issues of innovation health inequity and associated impoverishment The final set of chapters examines the challenge of creating industrial policies that generate both innovation and employment using and going beyond concepts of systems of innovation

Single Motherhood and Poverty Annelou Ypeij, Johanna Louisa Ypeij, 2009 in the Netherlands single mothers run a high risk of becoming poor even though the country has a well developed welfare system This study brings together many partial life histories of single mothers of different cultural backgrounds and origins and shows that poverty is not solely material deprivation Through its in depth account of the ways single mothers construct their everyday lives this book sheds light on the many social cultural and structural dimensions of poverty

Exploitation and Overexploitation in Societies Past and Present Brigitta Benzing, Bernd Herrmann, 2003 Human impact on landscape can be conceptualised in terms of socially governed ecological systems In the past the adaptive capacity of human cultural systems has been emphasised Nowadays a shift can be recognised towards modified views Resources are discussed as prerequisites for establishing complex human societies This includes also a more biologically minded view from the standpoint of the humanities In such a view human societal complexes can be understood as systems that manage energy and matters The concept of social metabolic regimes has developed in such a context Cultures as seen within this paradigm are not understood merely as autopoietic symbolic entities but as results of an interaction of material prerequisites and emerging social structures One might dismiss this as an epistemological shift part of the play of science with itself But it remains unsolved so far in terms of evolutionary theory if the ultimate goal of evolution is reproductive success or access

Urban Encounters A. Cicalo, 2012-10-15 Winner of the Latin American Studies Association Brazil Section Book Awards Utilizing an ethnographic study of a public university and its users Cicalo analyzes the practical and symbolic potential that affirmative action has to redress historically produced and territorialized inequalities in the urban space

Being poor in modern Europe Inga Brandes, 2006 Edited papers from an international conference at the University of Trier 2003

Andeans and Their Use of Cultural Resources Arij Ouweneel, 2012

Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004

Canadian Urban Governance in Comparative Perspective Kristin R. Good, Redefining Urban and Suburban America Alan Berube, Bruce Katz, Robert E. Lang, 2005-10-01 Results from Census 2000 continue to reveal the striking changes taking place in the nation's cities and suburbs during the 1990s Thanks to a decade of strong economic growth concentrated poverty in inner cities declined dramatically homeownership rose among young minority households and workers from abroad settled in growing metropolitan areas that had experienced little immigration to date This second volume in the Redefining Urban and Suburban America series makes clear however that regional differences add texture to these broader social and economic trends Using data from the Census long form the contributors to this book probe migration income and poverty and housing trends in the nation's largest cities and metropolitan areas Economically the fast growing Sunbelt and the Midwest performed well in the 1990s enjoying declining poverty rates rising homeownership and the evolution of a solid middle class population Cities like San Antonio Chicago Houston and Columbus saw stunning declines in high poverty neighborhoods The story was more mixed in the coastal areas of the Northeast and West where poverty rates rose in cities such as Boston New York Washington and Los Angeles On net their metro areas lost residents to other parts of the United States even as they gained workers and families from abroad This volume provides a closer look at the unprecedented social and economic changes taking place in the nation s oldest and newest communities and explores the implications for a diverse set of policy areas including metropolitan development patterns immigrant incorporation and the promotion of affordable housing and homeownership

Cultures of Migration Hans Peter Hahn,Georg Klute,2007

International Migrations have become a central topic in the Humanities in the last years Understanding migration requires a closer look at the migratory phenomena and the continuities within the societies involved in the migration process This volume intends to overcome simplistic views on migration and the shortcomings of a push and pull factor analysis Instead the perspective of the migrants themselves orients the approach of cultures of migration In this view migration becomes a complex issue and motives and acceptance of migration appear to be a matter of negotiations in the migrants societies of origin and in the host societies as well The present volume brings together a number of essays exploring the cultures of migration in various contexts It is organised in three sections dealing with Migrations as Encounters Migration as Challenge and Transcontinental Migrants Ten contributions each based on original fieldwork in various parts of Africa examine the validity of the concept of cultures of migration as explained in the introduction

The European Social Model under Pressure Romana Careja,Patrick Emmenegger,Nathalie Giger,2019-07-11

The European Social Model is at a crossroad Although from the 1990s onwards the threat of an imminent crisis shaped much of the rhetoric surrounding the future of the welfare state disagreement within the academic community remains What is however increasingly clear is that with the global financial crisis and the Euro crisis that followed it the challenges the European Social Model faces have become more acute and demand action This volume launches a multifaceted inquiry into these challenges Each contribution written by renowned scholars in their fields represents an in depth exploration of issues that cut to the core of current political economic and social processes They are an invitation to the seasoned scholars as well as to the beginning students of social sciences public administration or journalism to engage with by now a large body of scholarship to accompany the authors in their endeavours to seek an explanation to burning questions and start their own inquiries

People Under Three Elinor Goldschmied,Sonia Jackson,2004

People Under Three is an established text for all those training to work with young children or managing day care facilities

A Research Agenda for Critical Political Economy Bill Dunn,2020-09-25

Forward thinking and provocative this Research Agenda demonstrates different approaches to the field from experts focusing on global and local and historical and contemporary issues Eminent global scholars examine a diverse selection of interdisciplinary themes raising questions surrounding future research offering examples and linking the theory to its implications for practice and policy

Redefining Human Rights in the Struggle for Peace and Development Terrence E.

Paupp,2014-01-20 Examines the history of the struggle to advance human rights and provides a global framework of constitutional protections to implement these rights

How Nations Escape Poverty Rainer Zitelmann,2024-03-26 A rigorous defense of free markets and open enterprise in the tradition of Adam Smith During the 20th century Vietnam and Poland were both victims not only of devastating wars but also of socialist planned economies that destroyed whatever war hadn't already In 1990 Vietnam was still one of the poorest countries in the world while Poland was one of the poorest in Europe But in the three decades since then both countries have drastically improved their citizens standards of living and escaped the vicious cycle of national poverty In this book Rainer Zitelmann identifies the reasons behind the sensational growth of both nations economies drawing out the lessons that other countries can learn from these two success stories To explain the source of their success he returns to Adam Smith's 1776 treatise The Wealth of Nations the only way to overcome poverty is through economic growth Smith wrote and economic freedom is the crucial prerequisite for such growth Developments over the past 250 years have proved Smith right The market economy has led to a global decline in poverty unparalleled in human history Compare this to the fifty years of development aid in Africa that have only entrenched the status quo and it is clear which approach yields superior results Despite these strides almost ten percent of the world's population still lives in extreme poverty So what measures actually help to alleviate poverty today Through a wealth of data and stories from the everyday lives of Polish and Vietnamese people who experienced reforms Zitelmann demonstrates the persistent relevance of Smith's ideas to economic flourishing in the 21st century

Democracy under Construction Ursula J. van Beek,2005-09-12 The book compares five newly emerged democracies in Europe South East Asia Latin America and Africa Cutting across vastly different historical and cultural backgrounds it tells the story of how societies come to terms with a painful past and how politics culture and the economy intertwine in the process of creating new democratic nations
