Fertilizers, Pills & Magnetic Strips Gene V Glass, 2008-03-01 Now available for Kindle Click here We shape our tools and then they shape us With these words Kenneth Boulding captured one of the great truths of the modern world In Fertilizers Pills and Magnetic Strips Gene V Glass analyzes how a few key technological inventions changed culture in America and how public education has changed as a result Driving these changes are material self interest and the desire for comfort and security both of which have transformed American culture into a hyper consuming xenophobic society that is systematically degrading public education Glass shows how the central education policy debates at the start of the 21st century vouchers charter schools tax credits high stakes testing bilingual education are actually about two underlying issues how can the costs of public education be cut and how can the education of the White middle class be quasi privatized at public expense Working from the demographic realities of the past thirty years he projects a challenging and disturbing future for public education in America

Welcome to the Jungle Geoffrey T. Holtz, 2011-04-01 A provocative examination of the challenges and realities faced by Generation X In Welcome to the Jungle Geoffrey T Holtz delves into the complex world of Generation X exploring the unique circumstances and societal shifts that have shaped this often misunderstood demographic From the population bomb to the warehouse generation Holtz investigates the myriad factors influencing the lives of those born between 1965 and 1980 Through meticulous research and insightful analysis Holtz uncovers the truths behind the stereotypes shedding light on the challenges faced by Gen Xers including shrinking paychecks rising anxiety levels and the struggle to balance work and family life in an increasingly competitive world He explores the impact of media technology and evolving parenting styles on this generation s identity and outlook With a keen eye on the future Welcome to the Jungle offers a thought provoking perspective on the long term consequences of these societal changes and the potential fallout from the Movement This book is a must read for anyone seeking to understand the complexities of Generation X and the world they inhabit

Does Government Need to be Involved in Primary and Secondary Education Michael T. Peddle, 2002-05-03 This book is an investigation of some of the policy issues related to the government's role in the reform of primary and secondary education in the United States      Due Diligence Frances S. De Nuit, 1999-04 The role of the school board in public K 12 schools is considered from the agency and the stakeholder perspectives A new theoretical model for the school board members practice of due diligence encompassing content and process issues is developed from empirical literature on agency and stakeholder relationships vision content and process and strategy making process capability A four pronged methodology is used to test the model and resolve research issues on the practice of due diligence 1 Development of an accountability measure of student performance using the Accountability Report from the New Mexico State Department of Education 2 Testing of 10 propositions and 7 hypotheses using case studies of seven districts survey results of 89 district board presidents and superintendents and the measure of student performance 3 Determination of existence of due diligence through case studies of seven school boards 4 Comparison of existing models of due diligence with the literature based model The sample is all New Mexico Public K 12 school districts Case studies focused on monitoring of district educational and financial plans and the coherency between the two plans The surveys were replications of Larwood 1993 1995 et al on vision and Hart Banbury 1994 on strategy making process capability Key findings 1 Uniform accountability measures are available for all districts in the state but case study districts used these selectively with regard to student performance measures 2 Board presidents and superintendents were capable of articulating a vision for the district but vision alignment was not evident 3 The New Mexico board superintendent contract is a behavioral versus performance contract Diagrams of the theoretical and New Mexico models are included along with a revised model of due diligence Recommendations for training school boards include the use of questions provoking examination of board practice leading to improved student achievement      School Climate H. Jerome Freiberg, 2005-08-02 Like a strong foundation in a house the climate of a school is the foundation that supports the structures of teaching and learning This book provides a framework for educators to look at school and classroom climates using both informal and formal measures Each chapter focuses on a different aspect of climate and details techniques which may be used by heads or classroom teachers to judge the health of their learning environment The book sets out to enhance understanding of the components of a healthy learning environment and the tools needed to improve that environment It also looks at ways to assess the impact of change activities in improving and sustaining educational excellence The international team of contributors bring perspectives from the school systems in America UK Australia and Holland      Sociology of Education: Theories and methods Stephen J.
