Congress. Senate. Special Committee on Aging,1964 Housing Problems of the Elderly: Los Angeles, Calif United States. Congress. Senate. Special Committee on Aging,1964 Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Barbara Berkman,2006-02-09 The Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging is the first reference to combine the fields of health care aging and social work in a single authoritative volume These areas are too often treated as discrete entities while the reality is that all social workers deal with issues in health and aging on a daily basis regardless of practice specialization As the baby boomers age the impact on practice in health and aging will be dramatic and social workers need more specialized knowledge about aging health care and the resources available to best serve older adults and their families The volume s 102 original chapters and 13 overviews written by the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars in the United States and across the world provide social work practitioners and educators with up to date knowledge of evidence based practice guidelines for effectively assessing and treating older adults and their families new models for intervention in both community based practice and institutional care and knowledge of significant policy and research issues in health and aging A truly monumental resource this handbook represents the best research on health and aging available to social workers today Encyclopedia of American Social Movements Immanuel Ness,2015-07-17 This four volume set examines every social movement in American history from the great struggles for abolition civil rights and women s equality to the more specific quests for prohibition consumer safety unemployment insurance and global justice The New Neighborhood Senior Center Joyce Weil,2014-11-03 In 2011 seven thousand American baby boomers those born between 1946 and 1964 turned sixty five daily As this largest U S generation ages cities municipalities and governments at every level must grapple with the allocation of resources and funding for maintaining the quality of life health and standard of living for an aging population In The New Neighborhood Senior Center Joyce Weil uses in depth ethnographic methods to examine a working class senior center in Queens New York She explores the ways in which social structure directly affects the lives of older Americans and traces the role of political social and economic institutions and neighborhood processes in the decision to close such centers throughout the city of New York Many policy makers and gerontologists advocate a concept of aging in place whereby the communities in which these older residents live provide access to resources that foster and maintain their independence But all aging in place is not equal and the success of such efforts depends heavily upon the social class and availability of resources in any given community Senior centers expanded in part by funding from federal programs in the 1970s were designed as focal points in the provision of community based services However for the first wave of boomers the role of these centers has come to be questioned Declining government support has led to the closings of many centers even as the remaining centers are beginning to rebrand to attract the boomer generation However The New Neighborhood Senior Center demonstrates the need to balance what the boomers want from centers with the needs of frailer or more vulnerable elders who rely on the services of senior centers on a daily basis Weil challenges readers to consider what changes in social policies are needed to support or supplement senior centers and the functions they serve Older People in Modern Society Anthea Tinker, 2014-10-13 Older People in Modern Society is an established classic text in its field and through subsequent editions its reputation and that of its author has grown In this fourth and renamed edition Anthea Tinker synthesises and discusses a wide range of literature about older people drawing from fields such as medicine sociology and social policy and using primary source material to illustrate the text She also introduces a number of topics that have attained greater importance since publication of the third edition in 1992 for example continuing care and the abuse of older people Successful Administration of Senior Housing Nancy W. Sheehan, 1992-08-04 This book provides concrete help on how to address the support needs of elderly residents of sheltered housing Sheehan offers specific strategies to housing managers social service providers and health care professionals working with elderly tenants The book includes discussions of appropriate responses to increasing frailty of residents and of how to judge when independent housing is no longer appropriate It also includes an examination of guidelines available to housing managers in their expanded role which is no longer simply a matter of bricks and mortar but now encompasses consideration of elderly residents special needs
