Retirement Counseling A Handbook For Action:

Retirement Counseling Jane E. Myers, Harold C. Riker, 2014-07-22 This portrays retirement as an exceptional opportunity for individuals to create new lifestyles for themselves The authors encourage professionals in various fields to assist pre retirees as well as retirees in planning for a stimulating retirement future The Columbia Retirement Handbook Abraham Monk, 2010-06-01 The Columbia Retirement Handbook AIDS, Fear and Society Kenneth J. Doka, 2014-05-01 Historically AIDS is just one of a series of dreaded diseases that have aroused both great fear and irrational actions The previous diseases including bubonic plague syphilis tuberculosis leprosy and cancer have evoked such a sense of dread that rational moves to halt the disease have become compromised This text examines the deep sense of fear that AIDS evokes stigmatizing those who suffer from the disease as well as their families and caregivers Until AIDS can be seen for what it actually is a life threatening disease policies providing for humane treatment will not evolve The book also emphasizes that diseases are more than biological phenomena or individual catastrophes they are profoundly social events The ways in which diseases are spread and treated are strongly influenced by larger sociological considerations and they may have the capacity to change social institutions or society Itself Rooting Aids In The History Of Diseases The First Part Of The book reviews the nature history and responses of earlier dreaded diseases The next section examines AIDS itself proposed as the archetypal dreaded disease Already creating a sense of panic AIDS is also shown to be a social disease likely to have significant effects on the social order Thus only by containing the epidemic of fear and controlling the resulting irrationality can the AIDS epidemic be halted Counting Our Losses Darcy L. Harris, 2011-01-19 This text is a valuable resource for clinicians who work with clients dealing with non death nonfinite and ambiguous losses in their lives It explores adjustment to change transition and loss from the perspective of the latest thinking in bereavement theory and research The specific and unique aspects of different types of loss are discussed such as infertility aging chronic illnesses and degenerative conditions divorce and separation immigration adoption loss of beliefs and loss of employment Harris and the contributing authors consider these from an experiential perspective rather than a developmental one in order to focus on the key elements of each loss as it may be experienced at any point in the lifespan Concepts related to adaptation and coping with loss such as resilience hardiness meaning making and the assumptive world transcendence and post traumatic growth are considered as part of the integration of loss into everyday life experience Dealing with Dying, Death, and Grief during Adolescence David E. Balk, 2014-02-18 For some life s introduction to death and grief comes early and when it does it can take many forms Not only does Dealing with Dying Death and Grief during Adolescence tackle them all it does so with David Balk s remarkable sensitivity to and deep knowledge of the pressures and opportunities adolescents face in their transition from childhood to adulthood In seamless jargon free language Balk brings readers up to date with what we know about adolescent development because over time such changes form the backstory we need to comprehend the impact of death and bereavement in an adolescent's life. The book's later chapters break down the recent findings in the study of life-threatening illness and bereavement during adolescence. And crucially, these chapters also examine interventions that assist adolescents coping with these difficulties. Clinicians will come away from this book with both a grounded understanding of adolescent development and the adolescent experience of death, and they'll also gain specific tools for helping adolescents cope with death and grief on their own terms. For any clinician committed to supporting adolescents facing some of life's most difficult experiences, this integrated, up-to-date, and deeply insightful text is simply the book to have. David E. Balk is professor in the department of health and nutrition sciences at Brooklyn College, CUNY, where he directs the graduate program in thanatology. He is the author of Adolescent Development: Early Through Late Adolescence, Helping the Bereaved College Student, and several other books on death and bereavement. He is also co-editor of the 2nd edition of the Handbook of Thanatology (Routledge, 2013).

Katie's Diary David Lester, 2004-03. Katie's Diary is a unique analysis of the diary left behind by a young woman who has committed suicide. As compared to suicide notes, which are typically brief, Katie's diary consists of five separate books, an opportunity to look into the mind of a suicide from a source of data that is extraordinarily rare. Commenting on the diary are professionals in the fields of suicidology, linguistics, women's studies, Jungian analysis, and voice therapy, among others. Suicidal themes that prevail in her writing are discussed, as well as potential treatment methods. In the hopes that the study will contribute to suicide prevention.

Grieving Beyond Gender Kenneth J. Doka, Terry L. Martin, 2011-01-19. Grieving Beyond Gender: Understanding the Ways Men and Women Mourn is a revision of Men Don't Cry: Women Do Transcending Gender Stereotypes of Grief. In this work, Doka and Martin elaborate on their conceptual model of styles or patterns of grieving, a model that has generated both research and acceptance since the publication of the first edition in 1999. In that book, as well as in this revision, Doka and Martin explore the different ways that individuals grieve, noting that gender is only one factor that affects an individual's style or pattern of grief. The book differentiates intuitive grievers, where the pattern is more affective, from instrumental grievers, who grieve in a more cognitive and behavioral way, while noting other patterns that might be more blended or dissonant. The model is firmly grounded in social science theory and research. A particular strength of the work is the emphasis placed on the clinical implications of the model on the ways that different types of grievers might best be supported through individual counseling or group support.

Parenting After the Death of a Child Jennifer L. Buckle, Stephen J. Fleming, 2011-01-19. The death of a child has a tremendous and overwhelming impact on parents and siblings, completely altering the psychological landscape of the family. In the aftermath of such a tragedy, parents face the challenge of not only dealing with their own grief but also that of their surviving children. How can someone attempt to cease parenting a deceased child while maintaining this role with his/her other children? Is it possible for a mother or father to effectively deal with feelings of grief and loss while simultaneously helping their surviving children? Parenting After the Death of a Child: A Practitioner's Guide addresses this complex and daunting dilemma. Following on the heels of a qualitative research study that involved interviewing bereaved parents both fathers and mothers Buckle and Fleming have put together several different stories of loss and recovery to create an invaluable resource for clinicians students and grieving parents The authors present the experience of losing a child and its subsequent impact on a family in a novel and effective way demonstrating the strength and importance of their book for the counseling field

Bereavement Care for Families David W. Kissane, Francine Parnes, 2014-01-03 Grief is a family affair When a loved one dies the distress reverberates throughout the immediate and extended family Family therapy has long attended to issues of loss and grief yet not as the dominant therapeutic paradigm Bereavement Care for Families changes that it is a practical resource for the clinician one that draws upon the evidence supporting family approaches to bereavement care and also provides clinically oriented strategic guidance on how to incorporate family approaches into other models Subsequent chapters set forth a detailed research based therapeutic model that clinicians can use to facilitate therapy engage the ambivalent deal with uncertainty manage family conflict develop realistic goals and more Any clinician sensitive to the roles family members play in bereavement care need look no further than this groundbreaking text

Music of the Soul Joy S. Berger, 2012-10-12 Music of the Soul guides the reader through principles techniques and exercises for incorporating music into grief counseling with the end goal of further empowering the grieving person Music has a unique ability to elicit a whole range of powerful emotional responses in people even so far as altering or enhancing one's mood as well as physical reactions This interdisciplinary text draws in equal parts from contemporary grief loss theory music therapy research historical examples of powerful music case studies and both self reflecting and teaching exercises Music is as much about beginnings as endings and thus the book moves through life's losses into its new beginnings using musical expression to help the bereaved find meaning in loss and hurt and move forward with their lives With numerous exercises and examples for implementing the use of music in grief counseling the book offers a practical and flexible approach to a broad spectrum of mental health practitioners from thanatologists to hospice staff at all levels of professional training and settings

Death Attitudes and the Older Adult Adrian Tomer, 2018-10-24 This innovative and informative new text bridges the fields of gerontology and thanatology

Widow to Widow Phyllis R. Silverman, 2004 Widow to Widow powerfully links theory and practice perspectives through the extensive use of case illustrations its comprehensive knowledge base and the challenge to the professional monopoly of bereavement care makes this an important text for all carers new or experienced who are offering support to the widowed Linda Machin in BereavementCare Vol 25 No 2

Techniques of Grief Therapy Robert A. Neimeyer, 2012 Techniques of Grief Therapy is an indispensable guidebook to the most inventive and inspirational interventions in grief and bereavement counseling and therapy Individually each technique emphasizes creativity and practicality As a whole they capture the richness of practices in the field and the innovative approaches that clinicians in diverse settings have developed in some cases over decades to effectively address the needs of the bereaved New professionals and seasoned clinicians will find dozens of ideas that are ready to implement and are packed with useful features including Careful discussion of the therapeutic relationship that provides a container for specific procedures An intuitive thematic organization that makes it easy to find the right technique for a particular situation Detailed explanations of when to use and when not to use particular techniques Expert guidance on implementing each technique and tips on avoiding common pitfalls Sample worksheets and activities for use in session and as homework assignments Illustrative case studies and transcripts Recommended readings to learn more about theory research and practice associated with each technique

Bereavement and Adaptation Marc P. H. D. Cleiren, 1993 First Published in 1993 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Bereavement and Adaptation Marc Cleiren, 2019-01-22 This book offers a critical review of the main psychological theories on adaptation after loss followed by an overview of the results of the empirical research on bereavement It also reflects on the results of the Leiden Bereavement Study which compares the consequences of death

Rational Suicide? James L. Werth Jr., 2016-02-04 The idea that suicide may be an acceptable rational option is rarely presented in professional literature However recent events and developments forcefully demonstrate that mental health professionals can no longer ignore the possibility that people can make a rational decision to die After introducing the concept of rational suicide the book explores the changing views of suicide over the centuries Common arguments against rational suicide are examined and rebutted

Dying Hannelore Wass, Robert A. Neimeyer, 1995 First Published in 1995 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Bereavement and Support Marylou Hughes, 2013-11-12 In the early 1970s bereavement support groups were almost unknown However the obvious benefits of the group process for recovery the mutual support and understanding that helps mourners to a better outlook has created a demand for people who can organise and facilitate these groups Addressing the basis and need for support groups for the bereaved this book presents a theoretical overview examines benefits and variety of support groups structured and unstructural special populations and specifics for initiating organising and running them such as publicity It differs from other treatments in that theory and practice are moulded into a how to approach with all procedures presented equally for the widest range of choices Also included is a comprehensive book bibliography for adults children children s helpers and parents This text is intended to be of use as a resource for professionals in the field of thanatology including psychologists psychiatrists gerontologists therapists group counsellors hospice workers educators funeral home directors home health employees hospital staff and volunteer organisations that work with survivors

Treatment Of Suicidal People Robert A. Neimeyer, John T. Maltzberger, Antoon A. Leenaars, 2013-02-01 Treatment of suicidal people takes three forms prevention strategies to avert conditions leading to suicide intervention treatment and care during the crisis and postvention response after the event has occurred Unlike other current literature here the focus is on the state of the art of intervention This type of examination is essential because suicidal people themselves are in need of such treatments crisis intervention psychotherapy psychopharmacology and hospitalization Written by professionals in the field the Treatment of Suicidal People allows readers to participate in a learning experience First is a case presentation of an individual Arthur Inman and his long road toward suicide as chronicled in his personal diary The second section puts forth guidelines for the evaluation of suicide risk and crisis intervention A focus on more sustained efforts in psychotherapy is next a theme which is continued in the fourth part by addressing psychiatric issues that are essential for treatment of highly disturbed and lethal patients The following section examines a number of clinical and legal issues that transcend any one population of suicidal people and any particular treatment approach or context And lastly the volume returns to Arthur Inman with case consultations providing alternative perspectives and recommendations on his treatment Suicide and related forms of self injurious behaviour can be circumvented if the involved professionals are sufficiently trained in assessment and prevention

Suicide Across The Life Span Judith M. Stillion, Eugene E. McDowell, 2015-12-03 First published in 1996 The complexities of suicide are examined from the developmental viewpoint The text includes appropriate case studies and three research studies which were conducted especially for this work
