Rights And Wrongs Vol 89 How Children And Young Adults Evaluate The World:

Handbook of Moral Development Melanie Killen, Judith G. Smetana, Judith Smetana, 2005-07-06 The psychological study of moral development has expanded greatly both in terms of the diversity of theoretical perspectives that are represented in the field as well as in the range of topics that have been studied This Handbook of Moral Development represents the diversity and multidisciplinary influences on current theorizing about the psychological study of moral development and the range and broad scope of topics being considered by scholars in the field The Oxford Handbook of Developmental Psychology, Vol. 1 Philip David Zelazo, 2013-03-21 This handbook provides a comprehensive survey of what is now known about psychological development from birth to biological maturity and it highlights how cultural social cognitive neural and molecular processes work together to yield human behavior and changes in human behavior Advances in Child Development and Behavior Robert V. Kail, 2011-07-29 Volume 34 of the Advances in Child Development and Behavior series is divided into eight components that highlight some of the most recent research in developmental and educational psychology A wide array of topics are discussed in detail including social stereotypes and prejudice phonetic and lexical learning poverty the development of moral thinking and others Each component provides in depth discussions of various developmental psychology specializations This volume serves as an invaluable resource for psychology researchers and advanced psychology students Goes in depth to address eight different developmental and educational psychology topics A necessary resource for both psychology researchers and students Being Hurt and Hurting Others Cecilia Wainryb, Beverly A. Brehl, Sonia Matwin, 2005-09-12 Documents the narrative accounts and moral evaluations that children between the ages of 5 and 16 made of incidents in which they had been the targets of their peers unfair or harmful actions and incidents in which they had been those inflicting harm on their peers P 4 of cover Connections Between Theory of Mind and Sociomoral Development Bryan W. Sokol, 2004-04-13 The heightened attention to research on theory of mind is due in large part to the shared intuition that this core aspect of development must have important consequences for and connections with children's evolving social competence This seems particularly true for the moral domain where a psychological or inward focus is often taken to be a constitutive feature of what distinguishes moral actions from other kinds of behavior Unfortunately the theory of mind enterprise has largely failed to capitalize on this fundamental connection between mental life and morality and as a result it has been effectively cut off from the study of sociomoral development Contributors to this volume illustrate different though complementary attempts to bridge the gap that exists between these research traditions Two central questions are addressed First what is the impact of children's conceptions of the mind on their moral judgments Second does children's mental state understanding influence the moral quality of their own behavior In the concluding chapters prominent scholars from both the theory of mind literature and the moral development domain comment on the efforts being made to link these research traditions and offer suggestions for future inquiry This is the 103rd

Peters, 2021-12-29 This book explores Marxism and related political economic theory and its implications for education around the world as seen in the history of the journal Educational Philosophy and Theory As such it illustrates the evolution of political economic changes across societies as they have been brought to bear within the academic field and in the journal through the exploration of typical and noteworthy articles examining political economic themes over time In the early decades of Educational Philosophy and Theory only a few works can be found focused on Marx's work Marxism and related themes However since the mid 1990s Educational Philosophy and Theory has published many articles focused on neoliberalism and educational responses to theories and policies based on political economic perspectives This collection serves to showcase this work exploring the way Marxist neoliberal and other related political economic theories have been applied to educational discussions among philosophers and theorists of education in the history of Educational Philosophy and Theory As a collection this book provides a glimpse of a dramatically changing world and changing scholarly responses to it during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries This collection can therefore be useful to scholars interested in better understanding how changes to the political economy have intersected with those in education over time as well as the diverse ways scholars have approached and reacted to a shifting landscape considering views ranging from Marxist to Post Marxist to neoliberal and beyond

Women's Minds, Women's Bodies G. Boswell, F. Poland, 2002-12-02 The most positive approaches to women's health frequently emerge from women's own endeavours to achieve physical and mental balance in their lives Abandoning the artificiality of subject divides this book engages with that ethos Drawing on the experience of an interdisciplinary women's health initiative Gwyneth Boswell and Fiona Poland I have assembled a formidable range of academic and professional experts in this highly accessible collection Concepts of health are explored across disciplines which include psychology law history health economics nursing counselling social work and sociology Threatening Dystopias Kasia Paprocki, 2021-12-15 Bangladesh is currently ranked as one of the most climate vulnerable countries in the world In Threatening Dystopias Kasia Paprocki investigates the politics of climate change adaptation throughout the South Asian nation Drawing on ethnographic and archival fieldwork she engages with developers policy makers scientists farmers and rural migrants to show how Bangladeshi and global elites ignore the history of landscape transformation and its attendant political conflicts Paprocki looks at how groups craft economic narratives and strategies that redistribute power and resources away from peasant communities Although these groups claim that increased production of export commodities will reframe the threat of climate change into an opportunity for economic development and growth the reality is not so simple For the country's rural poor these promises ring hollow As development dispossesses the poor from agrarian livelihoods outmigration from peasant communities leads to precarious existences in urban centers And a vision of development in which urbanization and export led growth are both desirable and inevitable is not one the land and its people can sustain Threatening Dystopias shows how a powerful rural movement although hampered by an all consuming climate emergency is seeking climate justice in Bangladesh
