Risk Based Corrective Action And Brownfields Restorations:

Risk-based Corrective Action and Brownfields Restorations Craig H. Benson, 1998 Describes tools and methods of an approach to remediating contaminated sites that balances health and environmental risk with costs in order to reduce the amount being spent to clean up after companies that have taken the money and left the pollution The 20 papers also explore the underlying principles of the approach look at past performance and emerging trends and present many case histories Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Brownfields, Risk-Based Corrective Action, and Local Communities Peter B. Meyer, 2011-04 Addresses the problems facing communities that suffer both environmental risks from past contamination and depressed economic activity In such settings redevelopment of contaminated sites and the associated economic development may require compromised standards for environmental mitigation But partial cleanups can be shown to face inevitable failure at some future date Thus in such an approach communities face risks that they should be capable of accepting or rejecting The study considers these risks and assesses 4 alternative land use control strategies for assuring community participation in making decisions about both the cleanup process today and the response to risks of failure in the future Illus This is a print on demand report

Risk Methodologies for Technological Legacies Dennis Bley, Vitaly A. Eremenko, 2012-12-06 The Cold War Era left the major participants the United States and the former Soviet Union FSU with large legacies in terms of both contamination and potential accidents Facility contamination and environmental degradation as well as the accident vulnerable facilities and equipment are a result of weapons development testing and production Although the countries face similar issues from similar activities important differences in waste management practices make the potential environmental and health risks of more immediate concern in the FSU and Eastern Europe In the West most nuclear and chemical waste is stored in known contained locations while in the East much of the equivalent material is unconfined contaminating the environment In the past decade the U S started to address and remediate these Cold War legacies Costs have been very high and the projected cost estimates for total cleanup are still increasing Currently in Russia the resources for starting such major activities continue to be unavailable

Toxic City Lindsey Dillon,2024-04-09 Toxic City presents a novel critique of postindustrial green gentrification through a study of Bayview Hunters Point a historically Black neighborhood in San Francisco As cities across the United States clean up and transform contaminated waterfronts and abandoned factories into inviting spaces of urban nature and green living working class residents who previously lived with the effects of state abandonment corporate divestment and industrial pollution are threatened with displacement at the very moment these neighborhoods are cleaned greened and revitalized Lindsey Dillon details how residents of Bayview Hunters Point have fought for years for toxic cleanup and urban redevelopment to be a reparative process and how their efforts are linked to long standing struggles for Black community control and self determination She argues that environmental racism is part of a long history of harm linked to slavery and its afterlives and concludes that environmental justice can be conceived within a larger project of reparations Quantitative Modeling in Toxicology Kannan Krishnan,Melvin E.

Andersen,2010-04-01 Governments around the world are passing laws requiring industry to assess the toxicity of the chemicals and products they produce but to do so while reducing refining or even replacing testing on animals To meet these requirements experimental toxicologists and risk assessors are adopting quantitative approaches and computer simulations to study the biological fate and effects of chemicals and drugs In Quantitative Modeling in Toxicology leading experts outline the current state of knowledge on the modeling of dose tissue interactions and tissue responses Each chapter describes the mathematical foundation parameter estimation challenges and perspectives for development along with the presentation of a modeling template Additionally tools and approaches for conducting uncertainty sensitivity and variability analyses in these models are described Topics covered include the quantitative models of pharmacokinetics of individual chemicals and mixtures models for toxicant target tissue interaction models for cellular organ and organism responses approaches tools and challenges for model application and evaluation A website containing computer codes accompanies the book to help the reader reconstruct the models described and discussed in the various chapters Quantitative Modeling in Toxicology serves as an essential reference source and tool box for risk assessors and researchers and students in toxicology public health pharmacology and human toxicology interested in developing quantitative models for a better understanding of dose response relationships

Social Banks and the Future of Sustainable Finance Olaf Weber,Sven Remer,2011-03-21 Social Banking describes a way of value driven banking that has a positive social and ecological impact at its heart as well as its own economic sustainability Although it has a long and successful history it has arguably never been more topical than it is now in the aftermath of the latest financial crisis Most Social Banks came out of this crisis not only unscathed but much stronger and bigger than they were before And contrary to their conventional peers none of the Social Banks had to be bailed out with public funds This increasingly attracts the interest not only of clients searching for safe and sensible ways to deposit their funds but also of conventional banks that begin to understand the potential of a more socially oriented approach towards banking Social Banks and the Future of Sustainable Finance is the first book to deliver a comprehensive and detailed overview about the past present and possible future of Social and Sustainable Banking for researchers students and a professional audience The authors are experts from research and practice and have been involved in Social Banking for many years Thus they combine state of the art expertise with valuable insider knowledge The book covers the following topics the history of Social Banking the need for Social Banking in the current economy the particular issues of managing a Social Bank as business enterprise Social Banking products and services the special role of donations and foundations for financing change the opportunities and challenges for Social Banks lying ahead and concrete directions for the future of Social Banking In addition to these respective analyses are many real world examples and interviews with representatives of Social Banks As such this comprehensive collection delivers valuable insights for academics students and professionals who are interested in the growing field of Social Banking

Field Survey of HUD Site Contamination Policy: A Reprint From 'Cityscape Eugene Goldfarb, 2011-05 From 2000 through late 2009 the Federal Housing Admin FHA recommended a dig to clean approach for contaminated sites rather than the risk based corrective action RBCA approach favored by the EPA and state Voluntary Cleanup Programs Most offices followed FHA s dig to clean guidance and did not approve projects on brownfield sites Some however tried to promote redevelopment of housing on brownfield sites by following RBCA This study based on a 2007 survey of HUD field office practice discusses the issues encountered when field offices tried to resolve on a case by case project level basis the conflict between site contamination and brownfield redevelopment This is a print on demand edition of an important publication

Brownfields IV E. Beriatos, C. A. Brebbia, 2008-04-18 Rehabilitation of brownfields particularly those which are contaminated can be an expensive undertaking and requires not only technical solutions but the involvement of financial regulatory and community stakeholders Fundamental to this process is the analysis of the risks involved and the development of the appropriate strategies Those need to be weighted against the economic and social benefits of brownfield development to assess the general viability of the redevelopment In most cases the demand for development land drives the process forward while sometimes the rehabilitation is grounded on the wish to restore the landscape and the ecology of a region This volume contains the proceedings of the Fourth International Conference on Prevention Assessment Rehabilitation and Development of Brownfield Sites that was held in Cephalonia Greece in May 2008 Brownfield development is in most cases essential to attract new business to the locality and for the creation of healthy communities Therefore there is a great need for deeper research and study of all aspects of the problem technical institutional financial social and an exchange of ideas know how and experience among experts and scientists The proceedings have been arranged into the following sections Rehabilitation of Brownfields Development Issues Remediation Studies and Technologies Case Studies Risk Assessment and Management Community and Public Involvement
