Asian Sacred Natural Sites Bas Verschuuren, Naoya Furuta, 2016-08-12 Nature conservation planning tends to be driven by models based on Western norms and science but these may not represent the cultural philosophical and religious contexts of much of Asia This book provides a new perspective on the topic of sacred natural sites and cultural heritage by linking Asian cultures religions and worldviews with contemporary conservation practices and approaches The chapters focus on the modern significance of sacred natural sites in Asian protected areas with reference where appropriate to an Asian philosophy of protected areas Drawn from over 20 different countries the book covers examples of sacred natural sites from all of IUCN s protected area categories and governance types The authors demonstrate the challenges faced to maintain culture and support spiritual and religious governance and management structures in the face of strong modernisation across Asia The book shows how sacred natural sites contribute to defining new more sustainable and more equitable forms of protected areas and conservation that reflect the worldviews and beliefs of their respective cultures and religions The book contributes to a paradigm shift in conservation and protected areas as it advocates for greater recognition of culture and spirituality through the adoption of biocultural conservation approaches

Lama,2025-04-10 Tourism Products of India is structured into two distinct sections The first section covers nature based tourism products in Volume I while the second section delves into human made and symbiotic based tourism products in Volume II The first volume of this extensive manual illuminates the varied natural marvels of the nation and distinctive encounters that enchant tourists worldwide It goes beyond being just a textbook but a groundbreaking tool for a comprehensive insight into India's diverse tourism offerings empowering future leaders and experts in the field. Each chapter is meticulously crafted to highlight not only the geographical wonders but also the cultural richness that defines the Indian experience. Furthermore, the manual includes first-hand accounts from seasoned travelers and local guides providing invaluable perspectives that enhance the reader's understanding. As such, it serves as both a reference and an inspiration for those looking to explore the depths of India's tourism potential. This volume aims to foster a deeper appreciation for the intricate tapestry of experiences that await in every corner of the country.

All We Want is the Earth Patrick Bresnihan, Naomi Millner, 2023-07-27 This book traces a counter history of modern environmentalism from the 1960s to the present day. It focuses on claims concerning land, labour, and social reproduction arising at important moments in the history of environmentalism made by feminist, anti-colonial, Indigenous workers, and agrarian movements.

Making Nature Sacred John Gatta, 2004-10-14 This book argues that the religious import of American environmental literature has yet to be fully recognized or understood. Making Nature Sacred explores how the quest for natural revelation has been pursued through successive phases of American literary and intellectual history.

Our Future in Nature: Edmund Barrow, 2019-05-21 Who has not felt a sense of awe, silence, stillness, and presence in an ancient woodland or forest or in front of a sacred tree? Humankind has held trees and woodlands in awe and reverence since the dawn of time. We depend on nature for the air we breathe, the water we drink, and the services nature provides. This book is about the importance of sacred trees and groves in our stress-filled and increasingly urban world. Note that over 50 percent of the world is urban. Sacred trees and sacred groves transcend race, color, and creed. They are found all over our fragile planet. Where there is a tree, there is a sacred tree. This book will appeal to religious and spiritual traditions as well as to conservation and environmental movements. It will offer its reader means to take better care of our only home planet Earth. Often undervalued, unrecognized, or disrespected, sacred trees and groves are conserved against mind-boggling pressures. For example, there is a sacred fig tree between two shops in one of the main streets in Hanoi, Vietnam. There is also a one-hectare sacred grove in the center of Kumasi, a city of 2.5 million people in Ghana. There are over 150,000 sacred groves in India and the sacred hill forests of every village in Yunnan, South China. Sacred trees and groves often conserve unique biodiversity, which can help create or recreate connectivity in the landscape. As such, sacred trees and groves may be relic survivors of bygone ages and are an important resource for restoring degraded natural landscapes. This book offers ways for those involved with religion and spirituality and for those working with conservation and land use to jointly engage in repairing the damage we have done to Earth.

Religion and Nature Conservation Radhika Borde,Alison A Ormsby,Stephen M Awoyemi,Andrew G Gosler,2022-10-31 This book presents a broad array of global case studies exploring the interaction between religion and the conservation of nature from the viewpoints of the religious practitioners themselves With conservation and religion often being championed as allies in the quest for a sustainable world where humans and nature flourish this book provides a much needed compendium of detailed examples where religion and conservation science have been brought together Case studies cover a variety of religions faiths and practices including traditional Indigenous Buddhism Christianity Hinduism Islam Jainism Judaism Shinto and Zoroastrianism Importantly this volume gives voice to the religious practitioners and adherents themselves Beyond an exercise in anthropology ethnobiology and comparative religion the book is an applied work seeking the answer to how in a world of nearly eight billion people we might help our own species to prevent the extinction of life This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of nature conservation environment and religion cultural geography and ethnobiology as well as practitioners and professionals working in conservation

Constructivist Co-Curation Viki D. Thompson Wylder, Marcia S. Meale, 2025-07-11 Constructivist Co Curation A Method of Interweaving Museum and School Based Art Education tells a unique story through a retrospective case study of the curatorial convergence of museum educators utilizing their theory and programs with art educators utilizing their theory and pedagogy The book describes a method that advances museum and school based practice by asking art teachers to develop projects and curate exhibitions with museum educators Inherent is the diminishment of unintentional barriers between school and museum systems as school and museum educators strive for mutual conceptualization and purpose The method nurtures usage of museums and increased meaning making within them by the school system audience teachers students and families School programs expand and deepen through increased and more easily accessed museum based resources original artworks artist interactions exhibitions and museum materials and activities This book presents Constructivist Co Curation as a cutting edge model and includes a how to do it guide

Beyond Conservation Peter Taylor, 2013 After decades of operating off the backfoot and protecting and conserving nature perceived as under threat conservationists are becoming proactive and creative in the face of habitat loss agricultural intensification and climate change Beyond Conservation offers a revolutionary agenda for both managing existing wildlands in Britain and for expanding and connecting such lands Central to this strategy is the imperative to rewild or restore and repair damaged habitat and ecosystems promote existing biodiversity and reintroduce vanished plant and animal species while working to reconcile human needs and livelihoods and the needs of nature

Peace Through Tourism Freya Higgins-Desbiolles, Lynda-Ann Blanchard, Yoko Urbain, 2022-12-26 Peace through Tourism considers the possibilities for tourism to contribute to efforts to unmask conflict and promote peace This edited volume considers the intersections between tourism peace justice and sustainability through conceptual and empirical works surveying practices problems and challenges all around the globe It presents a complex and critical approach arguing that peace through tourism is dialogic and not as simple as describing a few good niche segments of tourism The pedagogies of peace represented here work to analyse structural violence associated with tourism such as in the dominance of neoliberal market imperatives over local or social economies colonising patriarchal and anthropocentric practices in tourism and tourism's complex role in post conflict settings Analyses found here place scholars industry and communities in conversation about building shared tourism futures where peace is understood as peace with justice and differences are bridged through dialogues towards understanding In light of the many challenges in attaining sustainable development in the 21st century this volume is an important and timely endeavour Radical practices are explored that support more just tourism futures With a new introduction this book is an insightful resource for scholars and researchers of Tourism and Peace and Conflict Studies The chapters in this book were originally published in Journal of Sustainable Tourism
