Plantation Forestry in the Amazon Clayton E. Posey, 1997 Plantation Forestry in the Amazon contains interviews with Clayton Posey Robert Gilvary John Welker and Lawrence Thompson about their experiences on American billionaire Daniel K Ludwig's tropical forest plantation along the Jari River near Monte Dourado in the Brazilian Amazon from the 1960s through the 1980s This was one of the largest plantation forestry efforts in the world

Forest History Today, 2000 Insatiable Appetite Richard P. Tucker, 2000-11-01 In the late 1800s American entrepreneurs became participants in the 400 year history of European economic and ecological hegemony in the tropics Beginning as buyers in the tropical ports of the Atlantic and Pacific they evolved into land speculators controlling and managing the areas where tropical crops were grown for carefully fostered consumer markets at home As corporate agro industry emerged the speculators took direct control of the ecological destinies of many tropical lands Supported by the U S government's diplomatic and military protection they migrated and built private empires in the Caribbean Central and South America the Pacific Southeast Asia and West Africa Yankee investors and plantation managers mobilized engineers agronomists and loggers to undertake what they called the Conquest of the Tropics claiming to bring civilization to benighted peoples and cultivation to unproductive nature In competitive cooperation with local landed and political elites they not only cleared natural forests but also displaced multicrop tribal and peasant lands with monocrop export plantations rooted in private property regimes This book is a rich history of the transformation of the tropics in modern times pointing ultimately to the declining biodiversity that has resulted from the domestication of widely varied natural systems Richard P Tucker graphically illustrates his study with six major crops each a virtual empire in itself sugar bananas coffee rubber beef and timber He concludes that as long as corporate dominated free trade is ascendant paying little heed to its long term ecological consequences the health of the tropical world is gravely endangered

Jensen, 2013-03-09 Planted forests from irrigated eucalypts in Brazil to Douglas fir seedlings in the mountains of Oregon are described and discussed by international experts The varieties purposes forms and ecological economic and social aspects of planted forests are considered in technical details and in case studies from temperate and tropical regions of the world

Sedjo,2015-09-25 Plantation forestry is the planting managing and harvesting of trees for the production of industrial wood Originally published in 1983 the principal focus and contribution of the study lies in Roger Sedjo s examination of the economic returns in twelve forest regions throughout the world The results of the analysis strongly demonstrate the feasibility of major expansion of plantation forestry in a number of areas around the world and suggest the likelihood of major shifts in the principal supply areas The results also have potentially important implications for countering the threats of deforestation This title will be of interest for students of Environmental Studies Native Forests, Secondary Species, Plantation Forests and the Sustainability of Indonesia's Forest Industry Roger A.
