published by Liturgical Press Preaching the Parables John R. Brokhoff, 1987-06 The parables of Jesus are timeless stories and with the current popularity of narrative preaching the parables are a familiar topic in the contemporary pulpit But preaching on the parables is not as easy as it looks at first glance Should we simply tell the parable in our own words and let it stand on its own feet or is its lesson most effectively communicated by constructing a sermon around the central theme Or should the preacher spiritualize the parable by probing for allegorical meaning Master homiletician John Brokhoff aids preachers in answering these key questions with rigorous and enlightening background information on parables from Mark and John appearing in Cycle B of the Revised Common Lectionary He offers not only exegesis and interpretation for each passage but also rich material for sermon development suggested outlining approaches and preaching illustrations Parables included are The Doorkeeper Mark 13 32 37 The Good Shepherd John 10 11 18 The True Vine John 15 1 8 A Strong Man Mark 3 20 25 The Miracle Seed Mark 4 26 34 Bread To Eat John 6 35 41 51 Eat The Bread John 6 51 58 A popular preacher teacher and writer John R Brokhoff served as Professor of Homiletics at Candler School of Theology Emory University from 1965 to 1979 Prior to that he pastored Lutheran congregations in Virginia Georgia North Carolina and Pennsylvania Brokhoff is the recipient of the George Washington medal from the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge Pennsylvania and is the author of many CSS titles including This You Can Believe and Pray Like Jesus Mark (Teach the Text Commentary Series) Grant R. variations and points of conflict across Middle English renditions of the same story In parables related to labour social inequality charity and penance the book locates a creative theological discourse through which writers attempted to re-construct Christian belief and practice Analysis of these diverse retellings reveals not what a given parable meant in a definitive sense but rather how Middle English parables inscribe the ideologies power structures and cultural debates of late medieval Christianity

Preaching Parables to Postmoderns Brian Stiller, 2005-01-01 Preachers in their call to preach the Scriptures are not only charged with the responsibility of speaking its truth but of speaking in such a way that people of this age and culture understand To do this the preacher builds a bridge between today's people and the gospel of both testaments For some this task is more difficult than for others Preaching to those living in an inner city housing project is far removed from an outpost mission in the two thirds world Each community has its own way of thinking and attaches different values to symbols of its own making For those called preach to a generation raised on MTV and late night comedians or those rooted in various economic cultures from government sponsored jobs overseen by union bosses to entrepreneurial dot com companies or generations stretching from high school students to freedom fifty fivers the task is enormous When one adds to that the complexity of a radical shift in underlying intellectual and cultural assumptions the task of preaching becomes even more complicated Preaching the Gospels Without Blaming the Jews Ronald James Allen, Clark M. Williamson, 2004-01-01 In this commentary on the Gospel readings in the Revised Common Lectionary Allen and Williamson call attention to ways in which the lections are continuous with the theology values and practices of Judaism and reflect critically on the caricatures in the readings They explain the polemics in their first century setting but criticize them historically and theologically They also suggest ways that preachers can help their congregations move beyond these contentious themes to a greater sense of kinship and shared mission with Judaism BOOK JACKET
