Prehistoric Early Historic Inhabitants:

Population Dynamics in Prehistory and Early History Elke Kaiser, Joachim Burger, Wolfram Schier, 2012-07-04 Migrations and population dynamics are considered very problematic topics in the fields of ancient studies. Recent scholarship in prehistorical population has generated new impulses by using scientific approaches using radiogenic and stable isotopes and palaeogenetics as well as computer simulation. As a result, the state of migration research has undergone rapid change. Several research groups presented papers at a conference held in Berlin in 2010 addressing specific historical aspects of population dynamics and migration with no chronological or geographical restrictions in the light of cutting edge bioarchaeological research. This volume divided into three larger thematic sections: isotope analysis, population genetics and modelling and computer simulation. It presents experiences and insights about methodological approaches, research results and prospects for future research in this area in a varied collection of papers. Scholars from widely diverse scientific disciplines present their approaches, findings and interpretations to an audience far broader than the circles of the individual disciplines.

Craft Specialization and Social Evolution Bernard Wailes, 1996-01-29 V Gordon Childe was the first scholar to attempt a broad and sustained socioeconomic analysis of the archaeology of the ancient world in terms that today could be called explanatory To most he was remembered only as a diligent synthesizer whose whole interpretation collapsed when its chronology was demolished There was little recognition of his insistence that the emergence of craft specialists and their very variable roles in the relations of production were crucial to an understanding of social evolution The interrelationship between sociopolitical complexity and craft production is a critical one so critical that one might ask just how complex would any society have become without craft specialization This volume derives from the papers presented at a symposium at the American Anthropological Association meetings on the centenary of Childe s birth Contributors to the volume include David W Anthony Philip J Arnold III Bennet Bronson Robert Chapman John E Clark Cathy L Costin Pam J Crabtree Philip L Kohl D Blair Gibson Antonio Gilman Vincent C Piggott Jeremy A Sabloff Gil J Stein Ruth Tringham Anne P Underhill Bernard Wailes Peter S Wells Joyce C White Rita P Wright and Richard L Zettler Symposium Series Volume VI University Museum Monograph 93
