Boston's Historic Hub David Lyon, Patricia Harris, 2021-08-01 What do the oldest black church in the country an Arts and Crafts style artists studio building a concrete football stadium and an acoustically perfect performance space have in common They are all National Historic Landmarks located in Boston In fact the city boasts more National Historic Landmarks per square mile than any other major city in the country Given Boston's long history and record of accomplishments it's really not surprising that 57 properties from the nation's oldest subway tunnel to a floating lighthouse have received this designation Add in the adjoining cities of Cambridge and Brookline and the number swells Historic Boston includes the most rewarding and easily visited landmarks That's a lot of history in 103 square miles The Secretary of the Interior designates the status of National Historic Landmark to places considered exceptional because of their abilities to illustrate U S heritage More simply put they are the places that resonate broadly with us that we cherish and want to pass on to future generations The list is surprisingly diverse In metro Boston it includes an historic church with a stunning collection of Tiffany windows a Transcendentalist community a Grand Banks schooner and the home and studio of landscape architect Frederick Law Olmsted Old Landmarks and Historic Personages of Boston Samuel Adams Drake, 1873 Old Landmarks and Historic Personages of Boston. Pickett,M.L. Cadenasso,Brian McGrath,2013-01-13 The contributors to this volume propose strategies of urgent and vital importance that aim to make today's urban environments more resilient Resilience the ability of complex systems to adapt to changing conditions is a key frontier in ecological research and is especially relevant in creative urban design as urban areas exemplify complex systems With something approaching half of the world's population now residing in coastal urban zones many of which are vulnerable both to floods originating inland and rising sea levels making urban areas more robust in the face of environmental threats must be a policy ambition of the highest priority The complexity of urban areas results from their spatial heterogeneity their intertwined material and energy fluxes and the integration of social and natural processes All of these features can be altered by intentional planning and design The complex integrated suite of urban structures and processes together affect the adaptive resilience of urban systems but also presupposes that planners can intervene in positive ways As examples accumulate of linkage between sustainability and building landscape design such as the Shanghai Chemical Industrial Park and Toronto's Lower Don River area this book unites the ideas data and insights of ecologists and related scientists with those of urban designers It aims to integrate a formerly atomized dialog to help both disciplines promote urban resilience
