R I P Memorial Wall Art:

R.I.P. Martha Cooper, Joseph Sciorra, 1994 This classic collection of photographs documents the best of New York City's memorial murals which were painted for the victims of tragic and untimely deaths. Commissioned by families and friends of the victims to commemorate the casualties of shootings, accidents, arguments, police killings, and drug-related turf wars, these vibrant murals have in most cases now been painted over or destroyed. R I P contains superb color photographs of memorials from Harlem and the Lower East Side, the South Bronx, and Brooklyn, together with the moving stories behind them. The photographs of these painted walls ensure that the dead are not forgotten for a sometimes violent and indifferent city also spawned a rich urban art form. 137 color photographs. On the Wall Janet Braun-Reinitz, Jane Weissman, 2009 A comprehensive survey of New York City's vibrant neighborhood art. Memorials to Shattered Myths Harriet Senie, 2016 Memorials to Shattered Myths Vietnam to 9/11 traces the evolution and consequences of a new hybrid paradigm which grants a heroic status to victims of national tragedies and by extension to their families, thereby creating a class of privileged participants in the permanent memorial process. Harriet F. Senie suggests that instead the victims' families be able to determine the nature of an interim memorial, one that addresses their needs in the critical time between the murder of their loved ones and the completion of the permanent memorial. She also observes that the memorials discussed herein are inadvertently based on strategies of diversion and denial that direct our attention away from actual events and reframe tragedy as secular or religious triumph. In doing so, they camouflage history and, seen as an aggregate, they define a nation of victims exactly the concept they and their accompanying celebratory narratives were apparently created to obscure.

Darkly Leila Taylor, 2019-11-12 A fascinating journey into the dark heart of the American gothic that analyzes its connections to race and racism in 21st-century America. Haunted houses, bitter revenants, and muffled heartbeats under floorboards: the American gothic is a macabre tale based on a true story. Part memoir and part cultural critique, Darkly explores American culture's inevitable gothic in the traces left from chattel slavery. The persistence of white supremacy and the ubiquity of Black death feeds a national culture of terror and a perpetual undercurrent of mourning. If the gothic narrative is metabolized fear, if the goth aesthetic is Are Italians White? Jennifer Guglielmo, Salvatore Salerno, 2012-11-12 This dazzling collection of original essays from some of the country's leading thinkers asks the rather intriguing question: Are Italians White? Each piece carefully explores how, when, and why whiteness became important to Italian Americans and the significance of gender, class, and nation to racial identity. Death, Bereavement, and Mourning Samuel C.

Heilman, 2018-02-06 An encounter with the death of another is often an occasion when the bereaved need to be sustained in their loss, relieved of the anxiety that the meeting with death engenders, and comforted in their grief. It is a time when those left behind often seek to redress wrongs in themselves or in the relationships that death has shaken and upset. In both collective and individual responses to the trauma of encountering death, we witness efforts to counter the misfortune and to explain the meaning of the loss to turn memory into blessing to reconcile life with death to regenerate life and redeem both the bereaved and the dead Sometimes loss may transform the bereaved in ways that lead to growth and maturity other times a loss leads to unrelenting anger or melancholia There may be a variety of spiritual expressions that the bereaved experience in their time of loss but there appears to be some common elements in all of them Overtime survivors feelings are transformed into growing exploration of the spiritual a profound sense of rebirth newfound feelings of self mastery or confidence and a deeply held conviction that life goes on The contributions to this volume are based on a conference held in New York on the first anniversary of September 11 2001 Contributors include Peter Metcalf Robert Jay Lifton Ilana Harlow Robert A Neimeyer Samuel Heilman and Neil Gillman This sensitive and heartfelt volume relates specifically to issues of death bereavement and mourning in the aftermath of the attack on the World Trade Center but the applications to other individual and catastrophic events is obvious The contributions do not simply explore how people deal with bereavement or are psychologically affected by extreme grief they address how people can try to find meaning in tragedy and loss and strive to help restore order in the wake of chaos The multidisciplinary perspectives include those of anthropology psychology theology social work and art

The Unfinished Bombing Edward T. Linenthal, 2003-05-01 On April 19 1995 the bombing of the Alfred P Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City shook the nation destroying our complacent sense of safety and sending a community into a tailspin of shock grief and bewilderment Almost as difficult as the bombing itself has been the aftermath its legacy for Oklahoma City and for the nation and the struggle to recover from this unprecedented attack In The Unfinished Bombing Edward T Linenthal explores the many ways Oklahomans and other Americans have tried to grapple with this catastrophe Working with exclusive access to materials gathered by the Oklahoma City National Memorial Archive and drawing from over 150 personal interviews with family members of those murdered survivors rescuers and many others Linenthal looks at how the bombing threatened cherished ideas about American innocence sparked national debate on how to respond to terrorism at home and abroad and engendered a new bereaved community in Oklahoma City itself Linenthal examines how different stories about the bombing were told through positive narratives of civic renewal and of religious redemption and more negative narratives of toxicity and trauma He writes about the extraordinary bonds of affection that were created in the wake of the bombing acts of kindness empathy and compassion that existed alongside the toxic legacy of the event The Unfinished Bombing offers a compelling look at both the individual and the larger cultural consequences of one of the most searing events in recent American history

Hispanic New York Claudio Iván Remeseira, 2010 Over the past few decades a wave of immigration has turned New York into a microcosm of the Americas and enhanced its role as the crossroads of the English and Spanish speaking worlds Yet far from being an alien group within a mainstream and supposedly pure Anglo America people referred to as Hispanics or Latinos have been part and parcel of New York since the beginning of the city s history They represent what Walt Whitman once celebrated as the Spanish element of our nationality Hispanic New York is the first anthology to offer a comprehensive view of this multifaceted heritage Combining familiar materials with other selections that are either out of print or not easily accessible Claudio Iv n Remeseira makes a compelling case for New York as a paradigm of the country s Latinoization His anthology mixes primary sources with scholarly and journalistic essays on history demography racial and ethnic studies music art history literature linguistics and religion and the authors range from historical figures such as Jos Mart Bernardo Vega or Whitman himself to contemporary writers such as Paul Berman Ed Morales Virginia S nchez Korrol Roberto Suro and Ana Celia Zentella This unique volume treats the reader to both the New York and the American experience as reflected and transformed by its Hispanic and Latino components devoted to the canzone napoletana      New Italian Migrations to the United States Laura E Ruberto, Joseph Sciorra, 2017-03-22 Italian immigration from 1945 to the present is an American phenomenon too little explored in our historical studies Until now In this new collection Laura E Ruberto and Joseph Sciorra edit essays by an elite roster of scholars in Italian American studies These interdisciplinary works focus on leading edge topics that range from politics of the McCarren Walter Act and its effects on women to the ways Italian Americans mobilized against immigration restrictions Other essays unwrap the inner workings of multi ethnic power brokers in a Queens community portray the complex transformation of identity in Boston s North End and trace the development of Italian American youth culture and how new arrivals fit into it Finally Donna Gabaccia pens an afterword on the importance of this seventy year period in U S migration history Contributors Ottorino Cappelli Donna Gabaccia Stefano Luconi Maddalena Marinari James S Pasto Rodrigo Praino Laura E Ruberto Joseph Sciorra Donald Tricarico and Elizabeth Zanon      Global Media, Culture, and Identity Rohit Chopra, Radhika Gajjala, 2012-10-02 This edited volume examines the ways that global media shapes relations between place culture and identity Through the included essays Chopra and Gajjala offer a mix of theoretical reflections and empirical case studies that will help readers understand how the media can shape cultural identities and conversely how cultural formations can influence the political economy of global media The interdisciplinary international scholars gathered here push the discussion of what it means to do global media studies beyond uncritical celebrations of the global media technologies or globalization as well as beyond perspectives that are a priori dismissive of the possibilities of global media Some of the key questions and themes that the international contributors explore within the text include Is the global audience of global television the same as the global audience of the internet Can we conceptualize the global culture media identity dynamic beyond the discourse of postcolonialism How does the globalization of media affect feelings of nationalism How is the growth of a consumer global middle class spread and resisted through media Global Media Identity and Culture takes a comparative media approach to addressing these and other issues across media forms including print television film and new media

Italian Folk Joseph Sciorra, 2011 Sunday dinners basement kitchens and backyard gardens are everyday cultural entities long associated with Italian Americans yet the general perception of them remains superficial and stereotypical at best For many people these scenarios trigger ingrained assumptions about individuals beliefs politics aesthetics values and behaviors that leave little room for nuance and elaboration This collection of essays explores local knowledge and aesthetic practices often marked as folklore as sources for creativity and meaning in Italian American lives As the contributors demonstrate folklore provides contemporary scholars with occasions for observing and interpreting behaviors and objects as part of lived experiences Its study provides new ways of understanding how individuals and groups reproduce and contest identities and ideologies through expressive means Italian Folk offers an opportunity to reexamine and rethink what we know about Italian Americans The contributors to this unique book discuss historic and contemporary cultural expressions and religious practices from various parts of the United States and Canada to examine how they operate at local national and transnational levels. The essays attest to people's ability and willingness to create and reproduce certain cultural modes that connect them to social entities such as the family, the neighborhood, and the amorphous and fleeting communities that emerge in large scale festivals and now on the Internet. Italian Americans abandon, reproduce, and/or revive various cultural elements in relationship to ever shifting political, economic, and social conditions. The results are dynamic hybrid cultural forms such as valtaro accordion music, Sicilian oral poetry, a Columbus Day parade, and witchcraft stregheria. By taking a closer look and an ethnographic approach to expressive behavior, we see that Italian American identity is far from being a linear path of assimilation from Italian immigrant to American of Italian descent, but is instead fraught with conflict, negotiation, and creative solutions. Together, these essays illustrate how folklore is evoked in the continual process of identity revaluation and reformation.

Experiencing Religion Clara Saraiva, Peter Jan Margry, Lionel Obadia, Kinga Povedák, José Mapril, 2016. The various ethnologists and anthropologists contributing to this volume focus on the self perspective in relation to religion and spirituality, on how religiosity is personally thought, dreamt, imagined, created, felt, perceived, and experienced in its various subjective forms. The personal motive and practice in religion is here put to the front. One can see this perspective also reflected in today's society in the ways people, most strongly in the West, are nowadays dealing with religion, religiosity, or spirituality often drifted far away from the institutional church organizations. As a deeply personal experience, it is amazing how little effort is undertaken in a scholarly way to put the personal reflections, utterings, and experiences into words. A wide variety of personal religious or spiritual experiences, Christian and non-Christian, recent and historical, are now described and analysed in this fascinating volume. Clara Saraiva is a senior researcher at the Lisbon Institute for Scientific Tropical Research in Lisbon, a researcher of the Center for Research in Anthropology (CRIA) and a Professor at the Department of Anthropology, Faculty of Social and Human Sciences, Universidade Nova de Lisboa. Peter Jan Margry is Professor for European ethnology at the University of Amsterdam and Senior Research Fellow at Meertens Institute (KNAW Amsterdam). Lionel Obadia is professor in anthropology at the University of Lyon. Kinga Povedák is assistant research fellow at the Research Group on Religious Culture at Hungarian Academy of Sciences. José Mapril is lecturer in Anthropology at the New University of Lisbon and a research fellow at CRIA, New University of Lisbon.
