Race And Ethnicity In East Africa:

Race and Ethnicity in East Africa Peter G. Forster, Michael Hitchcock, Francis F. Lyimo, 2000-03-16 Race and ethnicity continue to be important if unwelcome factors in modern politics This is evident in East Africa where the ethnic factor is often dominant in multi party elections and in Rwanda and Burundi bloodshed and genocidal attacks have been linked to ethnic difference This book examines the phenomena of race and ethnicity in general but with particular reference to East Africa The impact of non indigenous groups is considered along with ethnic differences between Africans and the relevance of tourism and religion

Race and Ethnicity in East Africa P. Forster, M. Hitchcock, F. Lyimo, 1999-12-14 Race and ethnicity continue to be important if unwelcome factors in modern politics This is evident in East Africa the ethnic factor is often dominant in multi party elections while in Rwanda and Burundi bloodshed and genocidal attacks have been linked to ethnic difference This book examines the phenomena of race and ethnicity in general but with particular reference to Africa especially the East The impact of non indigenous groups is considered together with ethnic differences between Africans The relevance of tourism and religion is also examined

Race and Ethnicity in Africa Pierre L. Van den Berghe, 1975 Ethnic Diversity in Eastern Africa Kimani Njogu, Kabiri Ngeta, 2010-11-01 In most of Africa there is evidence of politicised inter ethnic rivalry and ethnic mobilisation to acquire maintain or monopolise power as competition for resources intensify This volume demonstrates how ethnic diversity can be managed at a number of levels in order to improve the lives of citizens As the contributors show ethnicity as an identity is fluid and malleable It can be deconstructed in order to reduce its saliency Evidently strong ethnic affiliation has also been viewed as a major barrier to human and economic development although ethnically bound welfare organisations do influence the economic and social life of citizens especially in the rural areas In most of Africa it is through ethnic identification that competition for influence in the state and in the allocation of resources becomes apparent Occasionally governments have sought to address this challenge through ethnic and regional balancing in political appointments But this does not always work Drawing on experiences from Eastern Africa and beyond the contributors discuss how ethnic diversity can be a resource for the region

Ethnic Patriotism and the East African Revival Derek R. Peterson, 2012-09-24 Ethnic Patriotism and the East African Revival shows how in the era of African political independence cosmopolitan Christian converts struggled with East Africa's patriots over the definition of culture and community The book traces the history of the East African Revival an evangelical movement that spread through much of eastern and central Africa Its converts offered a subversive reading of culture disavowing their compatriots and disregarding their obligations to kin They earned the ire of East Africa's patriots who worked to root people in place as inheritors of ancestral wisdom This book casts religious conversion in a new light not as an inward reorientation of belief but as a political action that opened up novel paths of self narration and unsettled the inventions of tradition

Race, Nation, and Citizenship in Post-Colonial Africa Ronald Aminzade, 2013-10-31 Introduction Part I The struggle for independence and birth of a nation

Colonialism racism and modernity Foreigners and nation building Race and the nation building project Part II The socialist experiment African socialism the challenges of nation building Socialism self reliance and foreigners Nationalism state socialism and the politics of race Part III Neoliberalism global capitalism and the nation state Neoliberalism and the transition from state socialism to capitalism Neoliberalism foreigners and globalization Neoliberalism race and the global economy Conclusion race nation and citizenship in historical and comparative perspective Ethnicity In Modern Africa Brian M. du Toit, 2019-04-11 The fifteen essays written for this volume reflect the increasing importance for social scientists of ethnic rather than physical or tribal criteria for classifying modern population groups The authors from South Africa the United States South West Africa Namibia Nigeria and Scotland cover most of Africa south of the Sahara They consider the range from large national population groupings to small scale societies attempting to maintain their social boundaries and discuss such topics as emergent nationalism ethnic divisiveness social distance voluntary association and the role of women The first section is concerned with particular communities peoples and ethnic groups and treats traditional tribal groupings as well as communities delineated on phenotypic grounds In the second section the focus turns to modern situations of interaction the two major themes discussed here are situational ethnicity and situational realignment The third section deals with color one of the physical criteria of ethnic identification here the authors discuss the political and legal implications of a system based on color The last essay reports on current changes in attitude and organization within the countries of white ruled southern Africa Race, Ethnicity, and Violence in South Sudan Amir Idris, 2024-06-19 The purpose of this book is to understand how and why liberators of South Sudan have become perpetrators of ethnically driven violence How and why did violence happen immediately after independence in South Sudan South Sudan slid into civil war in December 2013 just two years after winning its hard won independence A great deal has been written about the conflict and violence of this period much of which emphasizes the notion that the root causes of the conflict can be traced to the ethnic division and hatred among the population or the lack of state capacity to manage ethnic diversity and hostilities However the existing literature exhibits important analytical gaps focusing primarily on the state of the violence and the immediate political history of South Sudan dating back to its political independence in 2011 but lacking critical analysis of historical and anthropological interpretations of state and society This book addresses these gaps in knowledge and understanding and in so doing seeks to explain how and why liberators become perpetrators of violence and how the intersection of the legacies of slavery colonialism and national liberation struggle contributed to violence in South Sudan Through a comprehensive exploration of identity and violence within the broader context of state formation the book sheds light on why those who sought sovereignty may turn against their own drawing parallels with colonial discourse It aspires to provide nuanced frameworks and empirical insight for scholars students practitioners and policymakers engaged in South Sudan politics development and peacebuilding Politics and higher education in East Africa from the 1920s to 1970 Bhekithemba R. Mngomezulu, 2012-01-01 The main objective of this book is to establish the salient reasons why higher education was developed in East Africa and specifically why the Federal University of East Africa was constituted The book will identify the factors responsible for the collapse of this regional institution in June 1970 Another objective of this book is to demonstrate how the history of the University of East Africa sheds light on colonial and post colonial policies on education especially higher education as a contribution to educational planning in contemporary Africa Ethnicity, Citizenship and State in Eastern Africa Aquiline S. J.

Tarimo, Aquiline Tarimo, 2011 This volume from an Africa perspective examines the relationship between ethnicity and citizenship within the framework of nation state Its objective and scope engage relational aspects of political integration awaken public conscience and motivate civic engagement It provides a platform that could be considered prerequisite for political transformation Such a framework is indispensable not only for challenging the politics of exclusion and marginalization but also for reconstructing fractured social relationships The test of its validity and relevancy is not whether it accounts for particular traditions but whether it provides a framework through which we can comprehend the dynamics of ethnic identities as an avenue for promoting participatory governance and democratic accountability An interdisciplinary study of this kind brings forth practical and theoretical contributions to the evolving concepts of ethnicity and citizenship

Race and Ethnicity in Africa Pierre L. Van den Berghe, 1975 The International Handbook of the Demography of Race and Ethnicity Rogelio Sáenz, David G. Embrick, Néstor P. Rodríguez, 2015-06-03 Examining key countries in every region of world this handbook presents population profiles and analyses concerning racial ethnic disparities and changing intergroup relations Inside prominent scholars from various parts of the world and disciplines address the links between stratification demography and conflict across the globe Organized by region continent coverage for each profiled country includes demographic information a historical overview that addresses past racial ethnic conflict identification of the most salient demographic trends and issues that the country faces theoretical issues related to the linkages between stratification demography and conflict methodological issues including quality of data and cutting edge methods to better understand the issue at hand and details on the possible future of the existing trends and issues with particular emphasis on public policy and human rights This handbook will help readers to better understand the commonalities and differences that exist globally in the interplay between stratification demography and conflict In addition it also provides an excellent inventory of theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches that are needed to better comprehend this issue This handbook will appeal to students researchers and policy analysts in the areas of race and ethnic relations demography inequality international sociology international relations foreign studies social geography and social development Undercurrents of Ethnic Conflict in Kenya John Ocho, 2021-11-08 This book analyses the ethnic conflict that engulfed Kenya's Rift Valley Province at the turn of the nineties when multi party democratic politics were being reintroduced in the country Its central thesis is that ethnic conflict in the country then was a function of several issues among them ethnocentrism politics the land

question and criminal behaviour in certain circles Both its determinants and consequences are demographic economic political and socio cultural implying the risks involved in oversimplifying issues

Ethnicity, Democracy and Citizenship in Africa Samantha Balaton-Chrimes, 2016-03-09 As an ethnic minority the Nubians of Kenya are struggling for equal citizenship by asserting themselves as indigenous and autochthonous to Kibera one of Nairobi's most notorious slums Having settled there after being brought by the British colonial authorities from Sudan as soldiers this appears a peculiar claim to make It is a claim that illuminates the hierarchical nature of Kenya's ethnicised citizenship regime and the multi faceted nature of citizenship itself This book explores two kinds of citizenship deficits those experienced by the Nubians in Kenya and more centrally those which represent the limits of citizenship theories The author argues for an understanding of citizenship as made up of multiple component parts status rights and membership which are often disaggregated through time across geographic spaces and amongst different people This departure from a unitary language of citizenship allows a novel analysis of the central role of ethnicity in the recognition of political membership and distribution of political goods in Kenya Such an analysis generates important insights into the risks and possibilities of a relationship between ethnicity and democracy that is of broad global relevance

Uganda Jörg Wiegatz, Giuliano Martiniello, Elisa Greco, 2018-11-15 For the last three decades Uganda has been one of the fastest growing economies in Africa Globally praised as an African success story and heavily backed by international financial institutions development agencies and bilateral donors the country has become an exemplar of economic and political reform for those who espouse a neoliberal model of development The neoliberal policies and the resulting restructuring of the country have been accompanied by narratives of progress prosperity and modernisation and justified in the name of development But this self celebratory narrative which is critiqued by many in Uganda masks the disruptive social impact of these reforms and silences the complex and persistent crises resulting from neoliberal transformation Bringing together a range of leading scholars on the country this collection represents a timely contribution to the debate around the New Uganda one which confronts the often sanitised and largely depoliticised accounts of the Museveni government and its proponents Harnessing a wealth of empirical materials the contributors offer a critical multi disciplinary analysis of the unprecedented political socio economic cultural and ecological transformations brought about by neoliberal capitalist restructuring since the 1980s The result is the most comprehensive collective study to date of a neoliberal market society in contemporary Africa offering crucial insights for other countries in the Global South

Kenya's Independence Constitution Robert M. Maxon,2011-04-01 Kenya s Independence Constitution Constitution Making and End of Empire is a narrative of the evolution of the constitution that was put into effect as Kenya s history as a colonial possession came to an end It details the attempts of the colony s political elite and the British Colonial Office to find a constitutional means to move Kenya to the status of independent state As this process moved forward political ethnicity assumed central significance This produced an environment in which demands for a federal constitution popularly termed majimbo came to dominate constitutional discourse Deep disagreement among Kenya's political elite over this issue marked the remainder of the colonial period That elite now represented by the Kenya African National Union KANU and the Kenya African Democratic Union KADU advocated different constitutional paths to independence KADU's demands for a majimbo constitution dominated discourse during 1962 and early 1963 but deep disagreement characterized the constitutional negotiations This resulted in a constitution for self government introduced on June 1 1963 that was regional in character but fell short of a federal system Almost as soon as it came into existence this constitution faced pressure for substantial change from KANU the party that won the 1963 general election As a result the British government was forced to make alterations in what became the independence constitution The latter proved a prelude to the destruction of majimbo a year later Kenya's Independence Constitution provides the first in depth description of the final stage of colonial Kenya's constitutional evolution This book not only provides a detailed account of the process of constitution making including definitive treatments of the final two constitutional conferences of 1962 and 1963 Utilizing British and Kenya cabinet papers and secret intelligence reports never featured in earlier accounts the narrative also destroys many of the myths
