Racial Battle Fatigue Jennifer L. Martin, 2015-01-26 Covering equity issues of sex race class age sexual orientation and disability this work presents creative nontraditional narratives about performing social justice work acknowledging the contributions of previous generations describing current challenges and appealing to readers to join the struggle toward a better world Many would like to believe we are living as post racial America long past the days of discrimination and marginalization of people simply due to their race and minority status However editor Jennifer L Martin and a breadth of expert contributors show that prejudice and discrimination are still very much alive in the United States Sharing personal stories of challenges aggressions retaliations and finally racial battle fatigue these activists practitioners and scholars explain how they have been attacked in subtle shrouded and sometimes outright ways simply for whom and what they advocate social justice The stories within consist of discussions on the interconnections among equity issues sex race class age sexual orientation and disability Furthermore the work relates current events such as the banning of ethnic studies in Arizona and the shooting of Trayvon Martin to the battle for social justice Other topics addressed include the ongoing problems of white supremacist beliefs the challenges of teaching about the racist thinking that permeates our media and popular culture and the harms of aggressions faced by minorities and those possessing multiple minority status The unique narratives presented in this single volume work combine the various approaches to answering questions about not only the necessity of fighting for social justice but also the impact of the struggle on its champions Jesus for Revolutionaries: An Introduction to Race, Social Justice, and Christianity Robert Chao Romero, 2013 Are you a revolutionary Are you curious about exploring issues of race and social justice from a Christian perspective This book by UCLA Professor and Pastor Robert Chao Romero is for you Topics covered include a biblical framework for understanding poverty race and gender undocumented immigration politics affirmative action mixed race issues Christian social justice pioneers and an introduction to the Christian world of social justice and community development Affirmative Action Albert G. Mosley, Nicholas Capaldi, 1996 In this book two distinguished philosophers debate one of the most controversial public policy issues of the late 20th century Each begins by making a case for or against affirmative action laying out the major arguments on both sides Each author then responds to the other's essay Written in an engaging accessible style Affirmative Action is an excellent text for junior level philosophy political theory public policy and African American studies courses as well as a guide for professionals navigating this important debate

Trayvon Martin, Race, and American Justice Kenneth J. Fasching-Varner, Rema E. Reynolds, Katrice A. Albert, Lori L. Martin, 2014-11-04 Trayvon Martin Race and American Justice Writing Wrong is the first comprehensive text to analyze not only the killing of Trayvon Martin but the implications of this event for the state of race in the United States Bringing together contributions from a variety of disciplines and approaches this text pushes readers to answer the question In the wake of the killing of Trayvon Martin and the acquittal of his killer how post racial can we claim to be This collection of short and powerful chapters is at times angering and at times hopeful but always thought provoking critical and poignant This interdisciplinary volume is well suited for undergraduate and graduate students as well as faculty in sociology social work law communication and education This book can also be read by anyone interested in social justice and equity through the lens of race in the 21st century This text is an invitation to a rebellion the inevitable insurgency of Black youth brewing right now across the land as the descendants of enslaved workers step up to exercise their agency and at that moment become agents of liberty and actors in history William Ayers Distinguished Professor from the University of Illinois Chicago the authors offer incisive and vivid examinations of the contours of white supremacy today inviting readers into a much needed discussion of moral questions surrounding the very foundation life in the U S Christine Sleeter Professor Emerita California State University Monterey Trayvon Martin Race and American Justice Writing Wrong is a powerful assemblage of voices that speak to the salience of race gender and their intersection Collectively the authors provide us with poignant reminders of the multiple forces that rail against Black males in our society Each chapter grabs our attention ignites our activism and encourages us to remain steadfast in the struggle toward a true democracy for all Americans a society where Black males

lives are valued and they no longer face daily threats to their humanity Yolanda Sealey Ruiz Assistant Professor Teachers College Columbia University While motivated by Trayvon Martin's unfortunate and tragic death this impressive collection serves as a one of a kind tribute to Martin and will help to keep his legacy alive The contributions are evocative and accessible and while the focus is on Martin the contributions also call attention to mundane severe and systemic racial wrongdoings biases in existing research colorblindness and white privilege and erasures of history and failures of memory Tony E Adams Professor at Northeastern Illinois University and NCA book award winner The editors and contributors have taken a tragic topic and presented it in a way that is engaging effective and surprisingly optimistic There is a style for everyone here making it a great text for multiple audiences and classrooms A truly superb addition to any classroom and a great read for those interested in social justice in today's world U Melissa Anyiwo Professor and Coordinator of African American Studies Curry College Trayvon Martin Race and American Justice Writing Wrong is true to its title it focuses attention through critical writing on the pernicious pervasive and persistent violence waged against black men especially black male youth in American society Using the still unpunished premeditated murder of Trayvon Martin as a highly emblematic example of this violence the editors and authors use carefully crafted and sequenced poetry and prose to write truth to power about the economic political social and cultural factors that produce and reproduce systemic aggression toward especially men and boys of African descent but also toward members of other societally minoritized groups The breadth and depth of the contributions included in Trayvon Martin Race and American Justice Writing Wrong makes it a particularly valuable resource for faculty and students engaged in teaching learning research service and activism related to issues of race racism blackness whiteness class caste classism language dialect literacy linguisticism geographic and national origin immigration status sex gender gender identity and expression masculinity sexual orientation size appearance and more broadly equity equality and social justice Chapters reflect the thoughtful insight and advanced expertise of their authors who bring increased levels of complexity to historical and contemporary dialogue discussion and debate about especially race and racism in the United States The editors' selection of contributors and organization of contributions balances pain truth telling with hope and possibility for a more just future In sum Trayvon Martin Race and American Justice Writing Wrong reciprocally links theory and practice relating to issues of power privilege oppression discrimination and liberation Christine Clark Professor Senior Scholar in Multicultural Education and Founding Vice President for Diversity and Inclusion University of Nevada Las Vegas Chapters in this timely and probing book stare straight at a difficult incident refuse to ignore injustice but call on a higher purpose of great academic criticism in writing the wrong Here the wrong is the corrosive and sometimes lethal bias by many in power toward black males who are too often seen as dangerous and disposable in American society The killing of Trayvon Martin and the subsequent acquittal of his killer George Zimmerman are examined by minds informed by reflection on theory and history We hear of conversations that black parents particularly mothers who often felt on trial themselves had with their teenage sons Some of these endangered sons were outraged by the act and verdict while some others were indifferent Chapters are devoted to the incident the trial and aftermath and to the future of the struggle against racial injustice Through what T J Yosso calls resistant capital we are urged to continue to interrogate a judicial system that prosecutes not only black males but their parents and families There is much to learn here about the current state of social justice and the way we live with and among each other In both prose and poetry these impassioned authors strive to write the wrong of Trayvon Martin and many others like him I recommend this volume highly and will use it in my graduate classes AG Rud Distinguished Professor College of Education Washington State University Kenneth J Fasching Varner PhD is Shirley B Barton Endowed Assistant Professor of Foundations and Elementary Education and holds a Ph D in Language Literacy and Culture from The Ohio State University Rema E Reynolds PhD is Assistant Professor of Education Policy Organization and Leadership and holds a doctorate in Education from the University of California Los Angeles Katrice A Albert PhD is Vice President for Equity and Diversity and holds a doctorate in Counseling from Auburn University Lori L Martin PhD is Associate Professor of Sociology and African American Studies and holds a doctorate in Sociology from University of Albany State University of New York

Cases on Academic Program Redesign for Greater Racial and Social Justice Cain-Sanschagrin, Ebony, Filback, Robert A., Crawford, Jenifer, 2021-11-19 Faculty and students confront persistent racial economic and social inequities in higher education locally nationally and globally To counter these inequities there has been a recent focus on universities providing an inclusive curriculum that serves the needs of students from a wide range of backgrounds Inclusive and equitable courses and instruction are crucial in today's world as calls for racial and social justice grow particularly in higher education Universities and instructors must take action and make changes to best serve their students Cases on Academic Program

Redesign for Greater Racial and Social Justice provides an equity oriented practical guide for those in higher education who are engaged in the work of curricular reform or program development It also explores practices and approaches to curriculum development that consider program quality and equitable outcomes as mutually beneficial and necessary outcomes Covering a range of topics such as antiracism and mindful hiring it is ideal for teachers instructional designers curricula developers administrators academics professors educators researchers those working in higher education and students

Social Justice Issues and Racism in the College Classroom Dannielle Joy Davis, Patricia G. Boyer, 2013-02-11 How do faculty members include social justice issues related to race ethnicity in their curricula How are issues associated with race or ethnicity discussed in the classroom by students as well as minority and nonminority faculty This book deals with these questions

Racing to Justice John A. Powell, 2024 In Racing to Justice renowned social justice advocate John A. Powell persuasively argues that we have yet to achieve a truly post racial society and that there is much work to be done to redeem the American promise of inclusive democracy Gathered from a decade of writing about social justice and spirituality these meditations on race identity and social policy provide an outline for laying claim to our shared humanity and a way toward healing ourselves and securing our future With an updated foreword and a new chapter on polarization this new edition continues to challenge us to replace the attitudes and institutions that promote and perpetuate social suffering with those that foster relationships and a way of being that transcends disconnection and separation Racing to Justice is a thought provoking book that offers readers a look into the issues that continue to plague our society It is a reminder that we have yet to address and reckon with the challenges we face in providing equal opportunities for all people in this country and the world

Going Public Nicholas Hartlep, 2011-02 If so Going Public Critical Race Theory and Issues of Social Justice is for you Nicholas Hartlep will show you that it is more sensible to believe that society and schools serve a hidden purpose to help some and hurt others instead of meritocracy Join Nicholas on an excursion into the questions of school society and the unseen oppression and privilege they provide in relation to critical race theory and issues of social justice You will discover startling realities about minorities disadvantages in the public school system and uncover the long journey to revamping school curricula for equality After Going Public you will never think about schools and society in the same way again Book jacket

Racism, African Americans, and Social Justice Rudolph Alexander Jr., 2005-04-07 One philosopher identified and defined five types of justice interpersonal justice commutative justice distributive justice communal justice and social justice Moving from the end of slavery to the present this book discusses how and why African Americans have received less than equal justice in these five areas This thesis is laid out in chapters discussing the history of race and what some professionals currently call modern racism higher education juvenile justice law enforcement the military economics the reparations for slavery issue and employment discrimination Arguments presented include the differential treatments in the law based on gender and race the false impression about the affirmative action benefits that African Americans allegedly receive in higher education and the issue of reparations
