Intersectionality and Higher Education W. Carson Byrd, Rachelle J. Brunn-Bevel, Sarah M. Ovink, 2019-05-03 Though colleges and universities are arguably paying more attention to diversity and inclusion than ever before to what extent do their efforts result in more socially just campuses This book examines how race ethnicity class gender sexuality sexual orientation age disability nationality and other identities connect to produce intersected campus experiences Race, Culture, and Identities in Second Language Education Ryuko Kubota, Angel M.Y. Lin, 2009-06-02 This groundbreaking volume presents empirical and conceptual research that specifically explores critical issues of race culture and identities in second language education and provides implications for engaged practice

Race, Education and Educational Leadership in England Paul Miller, Christine Callender, 2019-04-18 In recent years the issue of race in education in the UK have been submerged in wider discourses of diversity leading to an invisibility of the quotidian experiences of marginalised peoples in educational institutions Race Education and Educational Leadership in England looks at how the experiences of black and ethnic minority BME students and academics in education has changed and investigates how the implementation of current policies on race equality are being monitored by the government The contributors take an integrated approach looking at issues and themes that occur across all educational phases in England and draw on expertise from within and outside the education system The editors highlight areas of weakness and good practice in access curriculum progression and the lived experience This book makes a compelling argument for why race equality matters in England s education system

Racialized Identities Na'ilah Nasir, 2011-09-21 This book explores how various constructions of identity can influence educational achievement for African American students both within and outside of school

Race, Identity, and Representation in Education Cameron McCarthy, 1993 Despite differing orientations the contributors here all share a common concern for stressing the importance of social context nuance and language in understanding the dynamics of race relations

Making and Molding Identity in Schools Ann Locke Davidson, 1996-08-23 Making and Molding Identity in Schools delves into the lives of adolescents to examine how youths assert ethnic and racial identities in the face of policies discourses and practices that work both to reproduce and challenge social categories Detailed case studies illuminate adolescent voices and perspectives revealing that identity and academic engagement emanate not just from societal and cultural forces but also from ordinary day to day interactions and experiences within school settings Drawing on contemporary social theory the author emphasizes the political and relational nature of race and ethnicity and illustrates the potential for identities and ideologies to vary over time and across school settings The book provides a needed expansion of theories that link youth identities and ideologies solely to cultural economic and political forces and provides insight into settings that allow students to engage without discarding their ethnic and racial selves      Race, Culture, and Identities in Second Language Education Ryuko Kubota, Angel M.Y. Lin, 2009-06-02 The concept and construct of race is often implicitly yet profoundly connected to issues of culture and identity Meeting an urgent need for empirical and conceptual research that specifically explores critical issues of race culture and identities in second language education the key questions addressed in this groundbreaking volume are these How are issues of race relevant to second language education How does whiteness influence students and teachers sense of self and instructional practices How do discourses of racialization influence the construction of student identities and subjectivities How do discourses on race such as colorblindness influence classroom practices educational interventions and parental involvement How can teachers transform the status quo Each chapter is grounded in theory and provides implications for engaged practice Topics cover a wide range of themes that emerge from various pedagogical contexts Authors from diverse racial ethnic cultural backgrounds and geopolitical locations include both established and beginning scholars in the field making the content vibrant and stimulating Pre reading Questions and Discussion Questions in each chapter facilitate comprehension and encourage dialogue      Understanding Curriculum as Racial Text Louis Anthony Castenell, William Pinar, 1993-01-01 This book examines issues of identity and difference both theoretically and as represented in curriculum materials Here debates over the cultural character of the curriculum are characterized as debates over the American national identity The editors argue that historically cultural conservatives have failed to appreciate that the United States is in a fundamental and central way an African and African American place European Americans are in a cultural sense also black and the failure to teach sequestered suburban usually Caucasian students about their cultural African and African American heritage perpetuates their delusion regarding their deeper identities A curriculum which reflects the non synchronous identity of Americans is sketched in the last section Such a curriculum involves not only the inclusion of African and African American content but interracial intellectual marriage as well Contributors to this book include Peter Taubman Susan Edgerton Beverly Gordon Alma Young Wendy Luttrell Cameron McCarthy Patricia Collins Roger Collins Brenda Hatfield Marianne H Whatley and Joe L Kincheloe      Race, Education, and Reintegrating Formerly Incarcerated Citizens John R. Chaney, Joni Schwartz, 2017-07-18 This timely readable text offers an authoritative and balanced analysis of how racially driven policies in America impact post release education as a leading pathway to social reintegration Compelling research findings from an assemblage of college faculty seasoned administrators and criminal justice professionals are interwoven with first person narratives from formerly incarcerated individuals This book takes full advantage of its interdisciplinary mixture of voices and positionality to build its argument upon a three part framework from Critical Race Theory CRT It convincingly utilizes the tools of academic research counterstories and counterspaces to make a persuasive case that the intersection of race the criminal justice system and education represent one of the greatest civil rights issues of our time Part 1 Context Critical Race Theory and College Re

Entry explores the historical and current dynamics of these uniquely American intersections while linking Critical Race Theory with the field of re entry and offering serious analysis of post incarceration and education initiatives Interest convergence white privilege and writing from returning citizens as a way of coming to voice are also explored in this section Part 2 Counterstories offers case comparative case and phenomenological studies that include embedded quotations with first person narratives contributed from formerly incarcerated students and graduates This section also includes an honest and gripping analytic auto ethnography from the book s co editor who readily reveals his experiences as both a faculty member and formerly incarcerated individual Other highlighted topics include the issues of stigma overcoming obstacles in the classroom and the unique problems for returning citizens when acclimating to college culture Combining qualitative research and descriptions of successful programs Part 3 Counterspaces explores the dynamics of creating places within programs and classrooms that support physical emotional spiritual and intellectual engagement for and with the formerly incarcerated through learner centered culturally sensitive and racially explicit pedagogy This book is designed to be a most welcome addition to any serious academic discussion focusing upon institutionalized racism and education s use as a tool in reversing the mass incarceration of people of color in America

Race, Ethnicity, and Education: Racial identity in education Valerie Ooka Pang, 2006

Race and Early Childhood Education K. Davis, 2009-08-03 This book critiques the often presumed racial innocence of young children The authors challenge early childhood educators to engage with the racialized identity politics that form among their students and to reform their own identities and intersect and frame children s identities throughout their earliest years and national identities and their influence on the social construction of identity from the perspectives of seven nations China Israel Japan South Africa Ukraine Wales the U S      Race, Education, and Citizenship Sin Yee Koh,2017-01-04

Transnational skilled migrants are often thought of as privileged migrants with flexible citizenship This book challenges this assumption by examining the diverse migration trajectories experiences and dilemmas faced by tertiary educated mobile Malaysian migrants through a postcolonial lens It argues that mobile Malaysians culture of migration can be understood as an outcome and consequence of British colonial legacies of race education and citizenship inherited and exacerbated by the post colonial Malaysian state Drawing from archival research and interviews with respondents in Singapore United Kingdom and Malaysia this book examines how mobile Malaysians make sense of their migration lives and contextualizes their stories to the broader socio political structures in colonial Malaya and post colonial Malaysia Showing how legacies of colonialism initiate facilitate and propagate migration in a multi ethnic post colonial migrant sending country beyond the end of colonial rule this text is a key read for scholars of migration citizenship ethnicity nationalism and postcolonialism      Race and

Education Primer Aaron David Gresson,2008 The Race and Education Primer introduces its topic as perspective policy and pedagogy It provides a thematic introduction to the guiding beliefs and major practices in the field with a special emphasis on critical recurring themes These include race and intelligence the education gap teacher education and cultural competence Approaching race and education in global context the primer covers topics of interest to both novice and advanced students A glossary and suggested readings and resources add to the volume s value for students new to the field

Making the Case for Race in Middle School Tina M. Durand,2024-11-19 Race matters in the lives of youth A new set of politicized strategic and public assaults on the teaching of race or other divisive concepts in school have had a chilling effect in classrooms across the nation This poses a threat to students right to learn in educational spaces that are accountable for supporting all young people with equity and affirmation Drawing upon the voices of adolescents in four middle schools Making the Case for Race in Middle School Supporting Adolescents and Teachers in Critical Racial Consciousness and Advocacy advances the argument that providing youth with the space and opportunity to think critically about the pervasive dynamics of race in society and in their own lives is not partisan but an essential element of being a teacher in a multiracial democracy The academic literature on critical multiculturalism ethnic racial identity and anti racist pedagogy is brought together to provide theoretical and practical direction for educators with a particular focus on reflective praxis among White classroom teachers This book is a celebration of the agency of teachers who are committed to supporting students in their racial consciousness and potential for social justice advocacy during early adolescence when they are unabashedly open curious and hopeful in their desire for a better more inclusive world      Learning Race, Learning Place Erin N.

Winkler,2012-11-15 In an American society both increasingly diverse and increasingly segregated the signals children receive about race are more confusing than ever In this context how do children negotiate and make meaning of multiple and conflicting messages to develop their own ideas about race Learning Race Learning Place engages this question using in depth interviews with an economically diverse group of African American children and their mothers Through these rich narratives Erin N Winkler seeks to reorient the way we look at how children develop their ideas about race through the introduction of a new framework comprehensive racial learning that shows the importance of considering this process from children s points of view and listening to their interpretations of their experiences which are often quite different from what the adults around them expect or intend At the children s prompting Winkler examines the roles of multiple actors and influences including gender skin tone colorblind rhetoric peers family media school and especially place She brings to the fore the complex and understudied power of place positing that while children s racial identities and experiences are shaped by a national construction of race they are also specific to a particular place that exerts both direct and indirect influence on their racial identities and ideas

Race, Culture, and Schooling Peter C. Murrell, Jr., 2017-09-25 Responding to a need for greater cultural competence in the preparation and development of teachers in diverse public school settings this book investigates the critical developmental and social processes mediating students academic identities in those settings posing the greatest challenges to their school achievement and personal development It provides an accessible practice oriented culturally responsive framework for teachers in American schools Murrell proposes a situated mediated identity theory that emphasizes examining not just the child not just the school environment but also the child in context as the unit of analysis to understand how both mutually constitute each other in the social and cultural practices of schooling He then develops this theory into an applied psychology of identity and agency development among children and youth as well as their teachers striving together for academic achievement in diverse school settings For researchers professionals and students in multicultural education educational and developmental psychology social and cultural foundations of education and teacher education Murrell s cultural practices approach builds on current thinking about multicultural teacher preparation and provides the practice component underpinning theories about cultural competence
