Race The Reality Of Human Differences:

Race Vincent Sarich, Frank Miele, 2005-08-19 Arguing that race is a biologically significant difference the authors challenge the weight of academic opinion on the subject and suggest honesty rather than fear mongering in light of growing evidence that the various races are significantly different 20 000 first printing

Race Vincent Sarich, 2018 The conventional wisdom in contemporary social science claims that human races are not biologically valid categories Many argue the very words race and racial differences should be abolished because they support racism In Race Vincent Sarich and Frank Miele challenge both these tenets First they cite the historical record the art and literature of other civilizations and cultures morphological studies cognitive psychology and the latest research in medical genetics forensics and the human genome to demonstrate that racial differences are not trivial but very real They conclude with the paradox that while scientific honesty requires forthright recognition of racial differences public policy should not recognize racial group membership The evidence and issues raised in this book will be of critical interest to students of race in behavioral and political science medicine and law Provided by publisher

Race, Racism, and Science John P. Jackson, Nadine M. Weidman, 2006 Since the eighteenth century when natural historians created the idea of distinct racial categories scientific findings on race have been a double edged sword For some antiracists science holds the promise of one day providing indisputable evidence to help eradicate racism On the other hand science has been enlisted to promote racist beliefs ranging from a justification of slavery in the eighteenth century to the infamous twentieth century book The Bell Curve whose authors argued that racial differences in intelligence resulted in lower test scores for African Americans This well organized readable textbook takes the reader through a chronological account of how and why racial categories were created and how the study of race evolved in multiple academic disciplines including genetics psychology sociology and anthropology In a bibliographic essay at the conclusion of each of the book's seven sections the authors recommend primary texts that will further the reader's understanding of each topic Heavily illustrated and enlivened with sidebar biographies this text is ideal for classroom use

Should Race Matter? David Boonin, 2011-11-14 In this book philosopher David Boonin attempts to answer the moral questions raised by five important and widely contested racial practices slave reparations affirmative action hate speech restrictions hate crime laws and racial profiling Arguing from premises that virtually everyone on both sides of the debates over these issues already accepts Boonin arrives at an unusual and unorthodox set of conclusions one that is neither liberal nor conservative color conscious nor color blind Defended with the rigor that has characterized his previous work but written in a more widely accessible style this provocative and important new book is sure to spark controversy and should be of interest to philosophers legal theorists and anyone interested in trying to resolve the debate over these important and divisive issues

'We Hold These Truths to Be Self-Evident...' Kenneth N. Addison, 2009-02-16 We hold these truths to be self evident An Interdisciplinary Analysis of the Roots of Racism and Slavery in America delves into the philosophical historical socio cultural and political evolution of racism and slavery in America The premise of this work is that racism and slavery in America are the result of an unintentional historical intertwining of various Western philosophical religious cultural social economic and political strands of thought that date back to the Classical Era These strands have become tangled in a Gordian knot which can only be unraveled through the bold application of a variety of multidisciplinary tools By doing so this book is intended help the reader understand how the United States a nation that claims all men are created equal could be responsible for slavery and the intractable threads of racism and inequality that have become woven into its cultural the fabric

Human Nature and the Evolution of Society Stephen K. Sanderson, 2018-05-04 If evolution has changed humans physically has it also affected human behavior Drawing on evolutionary psychology sociobiology and human behavioral ecology Human Nature and the Evolution of Society explores the evolutionary dynamics underlying social life In this introduction to human behavior and the organization of social life Stephen K Sanderson discusses traditional subjects like mating behavior kinship parenthood status seeking and violence as well as important topics seldom included in books of this type especially gender economics politics foodways race and ethnicity and the arts Examples and research on a wide range of human societies both industrial and nonindustrial are integrated throughout With chapter summaries of key points thoughtful discussion questions and important terms defined within the text the result is a broad ranging and comprehensive consideration of human society thoroughly grounded in an evolutionary perspective

Race in Contemporary Medicine Sander L. Gilman, 2013-09-13 This collection of articles addresses contemporary debates regarding race in medicine today answering questions from a bio medical and social perspective

After Multiculturalism John F. Welsh, 2007-12-12 After Multiculturalism The Discourse on Race and the Dialectics of Liberty provides a unique critique of multiculturalist thought in social theory and public policy from an individualist perspective Contemporary academic and policy discourse on race and racism in the United States is dominated by collectivist social theories that are founded on the idea that the only meaningful challenges to racism are those that foster collective social identities and seek to influence and direct the use of state power in the interest of particular racial and ethnic groups Multiculturalism is the prevailing incarnation of anti racist thought that informs and mediates political process and organizational life in the United States The multicultural discourse on race has become tribalist anti western anti market and statist After Multiculturalism challenges the notion that collectivist and statist ideologies own racism as an educational and public policy issue Welsh demonstrates that individualist philosophies entail critiques of racism that follow directly from their anti collectivist and anti statist foundations He argues that multiculturalism is unlikely to promote the types of social action and changes essential to overcoming racism and that the individualist and libertarian ideas discussed in the book make important contributions toward the realization of a world free of racial domination To this end the ideas of Ayn Rand Murray Rothbard Benjamin Benjamin Tucker Lysander Spooner Max Stirner and contemporary libertarian scholars are discussed to the lay the foundation for a critique of multiculturalism The book explores the concepts of post ethnicity and transracialism as individualist and libertarian expressions of a society after multiculturalism Welsh s discussions of transracialism and post ethnicity constitute unique and important contributions to social thought This book will hold great interest for scholars and students concerned with race ethnicity political theory or individualist thought as well as scholars and students of the history of ideas      Race in North America Audrey

Smedley,2018-04-20 This sweeping work traces the idea of race for more than three centuries to show that race is not a product of science but a cultural invention that has been used variously and opportunistically since the eighteenth century Updated throughout the fourth edition of this renowned text includes a compelling new chapter on the health impacts of the racial worldview as well as a thoroughly rewritten chapter that explores the election of Barack Obama and its implications for the meaning of race in America and the future of our racial ideology      Readings for a History of Anthropological Theory Paul A. Erickson,Liam Donat Murphy,2013-01-01 This comprehensive anthology offers over 40 readings that are critical to the understanding of anthropological theory and the development of anthropology as an academic discipline The fourth edition maintains a strong focus on the four field roots of the discipline in North America but has been reorganized with a new section on twenty first century theory including coverage of postcolonial and public anthropology New key terms and introductions accompany each reading and a revamped glossary makes the book more student friendly Used on its own or together with the overview text A History of Anthropological Theory Fourth Edition this anthology offers a flexible and unrivaled introduction to anthropological theory that reflects not only the history but also the changing nature of the discipline today For additional resources visit the Teaching Theory page at www.utpteachingculture.com      On Human Nature Michel Tibayrenc,Francisco J. Ayala,2016-09-12 On Human Nature Biology Psychology Ethics Politics and Religion covers the present state of knowledge on human diversity and its adaptative significance through a broad and eclectic selection of representative chapters This transdisciplinary work brings together specialists from various fields who rarely interact including geneticists evolutionists physicians ethologists psychoanalysts anthropologists sociologists theologians historians linguists and philosophers Genomic diversity is covered in several chapters dealing with biology including the differences in men and apes and the genetic diversity of mankind Top specialists known for their open mind and broad knowledge have been carefully selected to cover each topic The book is therefore at the crossroads between biology and human sciences going beyond classical science in the Popperian sense The book is accessible not only to specialists but also to students professors and the educated public Glossaries of specialized terms and general public references help nonspecialists understand complex notions with contributions avoiding technical jargon Provides greater understanding of diversity and population structure and history with crucial foundational knowledge needed to conduct research in a variety of fields such as genetics and disease Includes three robust sections on biological psychological and ethical aspects with cross fertilization and reciprocal references between the three sections Contains contributions by leading experts in their respective fields working under the guidance of internationally recognized and highly respected editors     Northwest Anthropological Research Notes Roderick Sprague, Deward E. Walker, Jr., No Bones About It The Effects of Cooking and Human Digestion on Salmon Bones Christopher Jordan Impediments to Archaeology Publishing and the Growing Translucency of Archaeological Research R Lee Lyman Abstracts of Papers Presented at the 49th Annual Northwest Anthropological Conference Moscow 1996 The Yakama System of Trade and Exchange Deward E Walker Jr Tribes of Western Washington and Northwestern Oregon George Gibbs The Lolo Trail An Annotated Bibliography Donna Turnipseed and Norman Turnipseed     Nature, Human Nature, & Human Difference Justin E. H. Smith, 2015-06-30 People have always been xenophobic but an explicit philosophical and scientific view of human racial difference only began to emerge during the modern period Why and how did this happen Surveying a range of philosophical and natural scientific texts dating from the Spanish Renaissance to the German Enlightenment Nature Human Nature and Human Difference charts the evolution of the modern concept of race and shows that natural philosophy particularly efforts to taxonomize and to order nature played a crucial role Smith demonstrates how the denial of moral equality between Europeans and non Europeans resulted from converging philosophical and scientific developments including a declining belief in human nature's universality and the rise of biological classification The racial typing of human beings grew from the need to understand humanity within an all encompassing system of nature alongside plants minerals primates and other animals While racial difference as seen through science did not arise in order to justify the enslavement of people it became a rationalization and buttress for the practices of trans Atlantic slavery From the work of Francois Bernier to G W Leibniz Immanuel Kant and others Smith delves into philosophy's part in the legacy and damages of modern racism With a broad narrative stretching over two centuries Nature Human Nature and Human Difference takes a critical historical look at how the racial categories that we divide ourselves into came into being     Grounds for Difference Rogers Brubaker, 2015-03-09 Offering fresh perspectives on perennial questions of ethnicity race nationalism and religion Rogers Brubaker makes manifest the forces that shape the politics of diversity and multiculturalism today In a lucid and wide ranging analysis he contends that three recent developments have altered the stakes and the contours of the politics of difference the return of inequality as a central public concern the return of biology as an asserted basis of racial and ethnic difference and the return of religion as a key terrain of public contestation Grounds for Difference is a subtle original and comprehensive book All the hallmarks of Brubaker's earlier work such as the conceptual clarity the theoretical rigor grounded in a well researched and well informed analysis the crisp writing style and the impeccable sociological reasoning are displayed here There is a wealth of original ideas developed in this book that requires much careful reading and unpacking Sinisa Malevi H Net Reviews This is an imposing collection that will be another milestone in the literature of ethnicity and nationalism Christian Joppke University of Bern     Human Biological Diversity Daniel E. Brown, 2015-11-17 This text is intended for the sophomore level course in human variation human biology taught in anthropology departments It may also serve as a supplementary text in introductory physical anthropology courses In addition to covering the standard topics for the course it features contemporary topics in human biology such as the Human Genome Project genetic engineering the effects of stress obesity and pollution Rethinking Race Michael O. Hardimon, 2017-06-12 Because science has shown that racial essentialism is false and because the idea of race has proved virulent many people believe we should eliminate the word and concept entirely Michael Hardimon criticizes this thinking arguing that we must recognize the real ways in which race exists in order to revise our understanding of its significance

Race Peter Wade, 2015-07-02 An introduction to race that compares diverse historical and regional contexts illustrated with numerous examples from daily life Race and the American Prospect Samuel T. Francis, 2006 The Palgrave

Handbook of the Anthropology of Technology Maja Hojer Bruun, Ayo Wahlberg, Rachel Douglas-Jones, Cathrine Hasse, Klaus Hoeyer, Dorthe Brogård Kristensen, Brit Ross Winthereik, 2022-03-23 This Handbook offers an overview of the thriving and diverse field of anthropological studies of technology It features 39 original chapters each reviewing the state of the art of current research and enlivening the field of study through ethnographic analysis of human technology interfaces forms of social organisation technological practices and or systems of belief and meaning in different parts of the world The Handbook is organised around some of the most important characteristics of anthropological studies of technology today the diverse knowledge practices that technologies involve and on which they depend the communities collectives and categories that emerge around technologies anthropology's contribution to proliferating debates on ethics values and morality in relation to technology and infrastructures that highlight how all technologies are embedded in broader political economies and socio historical processes that shape and often reinforce inequality and discrimination while also generating diversity All chapters share a commitment to human experiences embodiments practices and materialities in the daily lives of those people and institutions involved in the development manufacturing deployment and or use of particular technologies Chapters 11 and 31 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com Toward a Biosocial Science Alexander Riley, 2021-05-03 Sociology is in crisis While other disciplines have taken on board the revolutionary discoveries driven by evolutionary biology and psychology genomics and behavioral genetics and the neurosciences sociology has ignored these advances and embraced a biophobia that threatens to drive the discipline into marginality This book takes its place in a rich tradition of efforts to integrate sociological thinking into the world of the biological sciences that can be traced to the origins of the discipline and that took on modern form beginning a generation ago in the works of thinkers such as E. O. Wilson Richard Alexander Joseph Lopreato and Richard Machalek It offers an accessible introduction to rethinking sociological science in consonance with these contemporary biological revolutions From the standpoint of a biosociology rooted in the single most important scientific theory touching on human life the Darwinian theory of natural selection the book sketches an evolutionary social science that would enable us to properly attend to basic questions of human nature human behavior and human social organization Individual chapters take on such topics as The roots and nature of human sociality the origins of morality in human social life and an evolutionary perspective on human interests reciprocity and altruism the sex difference in our species and what it contributes to an explanation of sociological facts the nature of stratification status and inequality in human evolutionary history the question of race in our species and the contribution evolutionary theory makes to explaining the origins and the importance of culture in human societies
