Race Gender And The Education Of Teachers:

Race, Gender and the Education of Teachers Iram Siraj-Blatchford, 1993 Despite growing concern over the level of racism and sexism in schools recruitment and retention of ethnic minority students into teacher education remains very low Reports by the UK Commission for Racial Equality and the Equal Opportunities Commission continue to show poor career prospects of women and ethnic minority groups in education This book aims to fill the gap in research and writing on the practical and theoretical approaches to achieving race and gender equality at all levels of teacher education

Intersectionality of Race, Ethnicity, Class, and Gender in Teaching and Teacher Education Norvella P. Carter, Michael Vavrus, 2018-04-16 In Intersectionality of Race Ethnicity Class and Gender in Teaching and Teacher Education the editors bring together scholarship that employs an intersectionality approach to conditions that affect public school children teachers and teacher educators Chapter authors use intersectionality to examine group identities not only for their differences and experiences of oppression but also for differences within groups that contribute to conflicts among groups This collection moves beyond single dimension conceptions that undermines legal thinking disciplinary knowledge and social justice Intersectionality in this collection helps complicate static notions of race ethnicity class and gender in education Hence this book stands as an addition to research on educational equity in relation to institutional systems of power and privilege

Race and Gender in the Classroom Laurie Cooper Stoll, 2013-07-22 Race and Gender in the Classroom explores the paradoxes of education race and gender as Laurie Cooper Stoll follows eighteen teachers carrying out their roles as educators in an era of post racial and post gendered politics Because there are a number of contentious issues converging simultaneously in these teachers everyday lives this is a book comprised of several interrelated stories On the one hand this is a story about teachers who care deeply about their students but are generally oblivious to the ways in which their words and behaviors reinforce dominant narratives about race and gender constructing for their students a worldview in which race and gender do not matter despite their students lived experiences demonstrating otherwise This is a story about dedicated overworked teachers who are trying to keep their heads above water while meeting the myriad demands placed upon them in a climate of high stakes testing This is a story about the disconnect between those who mandate educational policy like superintendents and school boards and the teachers who are expected to implement those policies often with little or no input and few resources This is ultimately a story however about how the institution of education itself operates in a post racial and post gendered society

Difficult Subjects Badia Ahad-Legardy,OiYan A. Poon,2023-07-03 Difficult Subjects Insights and Strategies for Teaching about Race Sexuality and Gender is a collection of essays from scholars across disciplines institutions and ranks that offers diverse and multi faceted approaches to teaching about subjects that prove both challenging and often uncomfortable for both the professor and the student It encourages college educators to engage in forms of practice that do not pretend that teachers and students are unaffected by world events and incidents that highlight social inequalities Readers will find the collected essays useful for identifying new approaches to taking on the difficult subjects of race gender and sexuality The book will also serve as inspiration for academics who believe that their area of study does not allow for such pedagogical inquiries to also teach in ways that address difficult subjects Contributors to this volume span a range of disciplines from criminal justice to gender studies to organic chemistry and demonstrate the productive possibilities that can emerge in college classrooms when faculty consider identity as constitutive of rather than divorced from their academic disciplines Discussions of race gender and sexuality are always hot button issues in the college classroom whether they emerge in response to a national event or tragedy or constitute the content of the class over a semester long term Even seasoned professors who specialize in these areas find it difficult to talk about identity politics in a room full of students And many professors for whom issues of racial and sexual identity is not a primary concern find it even more challenging to raise these issues with students Offering reflections and practical guidance the book accounts for a range of challenges facing college educators and encourages faculty to teach with courage and conviction especially when it feels as though the world around us is crashing down upon our students and ourselves education language in education policy and research Men Teaching Children 3-11 Elizabeth Burn, Simon Pratt-Adams, 2015-11-19 Men Teaching Children 3-11 provides a comprehensive exploration of work experiences of men who teach young children. The authors draw on their own research as well as international studies to provide realistic strategies to help to remove barriers in order to develop a more gender balanced teacher workforce. Burn and Pratt Adams, former primary school teachers who have both experienced these unfair gender practices, also trace the historical roots of the gender barriers that have now become embedded within the occupational culture. Throughout Men Teaching Children 3-11, the authors argue that primary school teachers should be judged by their teaching talents rather than by the application of biased gender stereotypes and that male and female teachers need to work together to remove these stereotypes from the occupation.

Race, Gender and Sport Aarti Ratna, Samaya F. Samie, 2017-09-08 The experiences of ethnic Other females have until recently been widely overlooked in the study of sport. There continues to be a need to produce critical scholarship about ethnic Other girls and women in sport and physical culture in order to represent their complex multifarious and dynamic lived realities. This international collection of critical essays provides compelling insight into the lived realities of ethnic Other females in sport. Throughout the book, contributors either draw on the political consciousnesses of Other feminisms or privilege the voices of ethnic Other girls and women so as to broaden, diversify and advance critical thinking pertaining to ethnic Other females in sport and physical culture. The purpose of the collection is both to produce knowledge and privilege otherwise subjugated knowledges which individually and collectively present counter narratives that better speak to the lived realities of racially oppressed groups of women and girls.

Race, Gender and Sport: The Politics of Ethnic Other Girls and Women is important reading for all students and scholars with an interest in the sociology of sport, gender studies or race and ethnicity studies.
