Rachels Children Margaret Laurence's A Jest Of God:

Rachel's Children Nora Foster Stovel, 1992 A literary exploration of Margaret Laurence's A Jest of God Divining

Margaret Laurence Nora Foster Stovel, 2008-08-19 The most complete consideration of all the major writings of Margaret Laurence Margaret Laurence's Epic Imagination Paul Comeau, 2005-12-23 Although at times painfully insecure about her creative ability and achievement Margaret Laurence nevertheless remained fiercely loyal to her artistic vision an archetypal vision of loss exile and redemption that sought comprehensive expression in the epic mode that shapes the Bible Dante's Divine Comedy Milton's Paradise Lost and ultimately the Manawaka world of Hagar Shipley Rachel Cameron Stacey MacAindra and Morag Gunn Paul Comeau traces the development of Margaret Laurence's epic voice from its tentative beginnings in her African fiction to its culmination in the epic Manawaka Cycle a Dantesque journey through an infernal state of self-destructive pride out of a purgatorial paralysis of self-doubt and on to a kind of paradisaic fulfillment in self-knowledge Laurence discovered in epic a fitting mode at once to requite her debt to the ancestors and to break free of their influence to portray the world through the sight of her own eyes In so doing she became the enduring epic voice of a country and a generation

Critical Approaches to the Fiction of Margaret Laurence C.E. Nicholson, 1990-06-18 The essays collected in this volume offer a range of different approaches to the significance of the work of Margaret Laurence historical feminist descriptive and thematic in which critics from Europe America and Canada offer assessments of this 20th century novelist

Making Babies Sandra Sabatini, 2006-01-01 Although the infant has been a consistent figure in literature and for many people a significant figure in personal life there's been little attention focused on infants or on their place in Canadian fiction until now In this book Sandra Sabatini examines Canadian fiction to trace the ideological charge behind the represented infant Examining writers from L.M. Montgomery and Frederick Philip Grove to Thomas King and Terry Griggs Sabatini compares women's writing about babies with the way infants appear in texts by men over the course of a century She discovers a range of changing attitudes toward babies After being seen as a source of financial burden social shame or sentimental fantasy infants have increasingly become a source of value and meaning The book challenges the perception of babies as passive objects of care and argues for a reading of the infant as a subject in itself It also reflects upon how the representations of infancy in Canadian literature offer an intriguing portrait of how we imagine ourselves Writing Grief

Christian Riegel, 2003 Margaret Laurence's much admired Manawaka fiction The Stone Angel A Jest of God The Fire Dwellers A Bird in the House and The Diviners has achieved remarkable recognition for its compassionate portrayal of the attempt to find meaning and peace in ordinary life In Writing Grief Christian Riegel argues that the protagonists in these books achieve resolution through acts of mourning placing this fiction within the larger tradition of writing that explores the nuances and strategies of mourning Riegel's analysis alludes to sociological and literary antecedents of the study of mourning including the tradition of elegy from Derrida and Lacan to Freud van Gennep and Milton The work of mourning is necessary to move from a state of emotional paralysis to one of acceptance and active engagement Laurence's characters perform the work of mourning returning over and over again to the key issues relating to loss and as Riegel's close examination of the texts suggests are changed thereafter fundamentally and significantly As an important study of one aspect of Laurence's oeuvre Writing Grief not only illustrates how Laurence's own preoccupations with mourning are figured but also how different ways of working through grief result in renewed potential for consolation and connection and a renewed definition of self

Challenging Territory Christian Riegel, 1997-05 In a postmodern and postcolonial age how do we approach the writing of Margaret Laurence Challenging Territory demands of the reader a re-evaluation of the basic assumptions that underlie their understanding of Laurence's life and writing by addressing the full range of her writing Laurence is presented as Canadian colonial and postcolonial subject as feminist humanist and political active individual and as essayist translator journalist memoir writer and fiction writer The essays stake out a critical territory as well as offer a challenge to territory previously mapped by the criticism in addition to charting critical space never before traced Feminist Theology with a Canadian Accent Mary Ann Beavis, Elaine Guillemin, Barbara Helen Pell, 2008 An examination of the Canadian feminist theology context its history its multicultural perspective its expression of marginal experiences its commitment to social justice its exploration of eco feminism and its embrace of cultures ethnicities and the unique contribution of Canada's First Nations peoples
