Racial Encounter:

Racial Encounter Kevin Durrheim, John Dixon, 2013-05-13 Very clearly written making complex material really accessible This book offers a definitive analysis of desegregation South Africa is an extremely important test case and a key area of interest for those interested in racial transformation The book extends discursive research into a new domain the social psychology of desegregation Offering a new and interesting approach Promoting Racial Literacy in Schools Jr. Stevenson, Howard C. Stevenson, 2014-01-03 Based on extensive research this provocative volume explores how schools are places where racial conflicts often remain hidden at the expense of a healthy school climate and the well being of other students of colour Most schools fail to act on racial microaggressions because the stress of negotiating such conflicts is extremely high due to fears of incompetence public exposure and accusation Instead of facing these conflicts head on schools perpetuate a set of avoidance or coping strategies The author of this much needed book uncovers how racial stress undermines student achievement Students educators and social service support staff will find workable strategies to improve their racial literacy skills to read recast and resolve racially stressful encounters when they happen This book features a model that applies culturally relevant behavioural stress management strategies to problem solve racial stress in schools examples demonstrating workable solutions relevant within predominantly White schools for students parents teachers and administrators measurable outcomes and strategies for developing racial literacy skills that can be integrated into the K 12 curriculum and teacher professional development and teaching and leadership skills that will create a more tolerant and supportive school environment for all students Dismantling Racism Tina M. Harris, 2023-10-10 Dismantling Racism One Relationship at a Time inspires and challenges readers to think critically about racism and its impact on themselves and others in complex and nuanced ways With a commitment to an inverted approach to racism Tina M Harris trickle down theory illustrates the interconnection between racist ideologies and interracial relationships The example of interracial romantic relationships as an illustration of how societal attitudes dictate interracial relationships shows how trickle down theory brings to the surface a person's and society's true attitudes about race The theory further demonstrates how all of our interpersonal connections are a testament of racial socialization processes and how we manage our interracial interactions and relationships Celebrating the power of interracial communication to dismantle forms of systemic oppression the book provides essential vocabulary for both societal misconceptions and transformative practices of interpersonal conversation The book culminates in the racial intentionality roadmap RaIR a self reflexive guide to immediately and repeatedly identifying ways to help eradicate racism in all the spaces we occupy Ultimately Dismantling Racism challenges readers to develop authentic organic interracial relationships that translate into changes in systems that perpetuate racial division The Influence of Race and Racial Identity in Psychotherapy Robert T. Carter, 1995 A revolutionary theory a clinical watershed a masterful text The Influence of Race and Racial Identity in Psychotherapy Robert T Carter changes the course of a century of psychological theory practice and education He debunks the traditional belief that race has a marginal impact on personality development and with compelling empirical evidence demonstrates that race is the defining factor above other experiences of living in the United States and a crucial ingredient in the therapeutic process Carter presents models of racial identity for all racial groups and offers numerous case studies of various psychosocial resolutions within racial groups He constructs the first racially inclusive model of psychotherapy a rigorous conceptual framework that affords clinicians a deeper awareness of how racial issues affect their dealings with patients and creates a means of integrating that knowledge into their practices The Influence of Race and Racial Identity in Psychotherapy Defines the decisive role of racial identity in personality development Presents a racially inclusive model of psychotherapy Describes how this model is applied in a clinical context Proposes new counselor training programs based on this model This immensely valuable text helps students in multicultural counseling and psychotherapy develop an awareness of their own levels of racial identity as well as those of their patients For practicing therapists it opens new vistas in the therapeutic process and provides new avenues through which to better understand and serve their patients

Is That Your Mom? Cyndy R. Snyder, 2017-05-01 While White parents raising Black children has become increasingly salient in the last 20 30 years the experience of those who grow up in these cross racial families is much more complicated Indeed much of the adoption studies literature has privileged White parent voices further silencing crossracially raised Black identified children Is That Your Mom challenges the dominant narrative that love trumps race and racism in family dynamics and reasserts the need for critical voices of those most impacted by being cross racially raised the very people who face extreme racism that is both similar to and uniquely different from that faced by people of color more broadly Is That Your Mom centers the voices of Cross Racially Raised individuals of the African Diaspora to illustrate that racial socialization is a process in which individuals have agency in their racial development In this book Cross Racially Raised adults both those who were adopted and those who were raised in cross racial birth families share their stories regarding experiences with racism in the following three ways 1 encounters with racism within and beyond educational settings 2 perceptions of parents or guardians efforts toward racial socialization and 3 strategies used to navigate racially hostile environments which sometimes are the families themselves The voices of the individuals in this book illuminate a deeper conceptual understanding of how racial socialization practices are linked with one's ability to cope with racism and ways of addressing racism particularly among those families that contradict monoracial assumptions of racial socialization processes The book concludes with a discussion of how schools educators and parents can help Cross Racially Raised children and youth develop skills necessary to cope and remain resilient in the face of racism particularly if the immediate family is not offering those supports

Racial Baggage Sylvia Zamora, 2022-07-26 Upon arrival to the United States Mexican immigrants are racialized as simultaneously non White and illegal This racialization process complicates notions of race that they bring with them as the pigmentocracy of Mexican society in which their skin color may have afforded them more privileges within their home country collides with the American racial system Racial Baggage examines how immigration reconfigures U S race relations illuminating how the immigration experience can transform understandings of race in home and host countries Drawing on interviews with Mexicans in Los Angeles and Guadalajara sociologist Sylvia Zamora illustrates how racialization is a transnational process that not only changes immigrants themselves but also everyday understandings of race and racism within the United States and Mexico Within their communities and networks that span an international border Zamora argues immigrants come to define race in a way distinct from both the color conscious hierarchy of Mexican society and the Black White binary prevalent within the United States In the process their stories demonstrate how race is not static but rather an evolving social phenomenon forever altered by immigration

Neville, 2009 The essays in this collection start with the premise that although race like class and gender is socially constructed all three categories have been shaped profoundly by their context in a capitalist society Race in other words is a historical category that develops not only in dialectical relation to class and gender but also in relation to the material conditions in which all three are forged In addition to discussing and analyzing various dimensions of the African American experience contributors also consider the ways in which race plays itself out in the experience of Asian Americans and in the very different geopolitical environments of the British Empire and postcolonial Africa Contributors are Pedro Caban Sundiata Keita Cha Jua David Crockett Theodore Koditschek Scott Kurashige Clarence Lang Minkah Makalani Helen A Neville Ibitola O Pearce David Roediger Monica M White and Jeffrey Williams

Trauma-Informed Supervision Carolyn Knight, L. DiAnne Borders, 2020-07-29 Survivors of trauma are disproportionately represented in agencies providing a broad range of behavioral social and mental health services Practitioners in these settings must understand and be able to respond to survivors of trauma in ways that are empowering normalize and validate their experiences and reactions and minimize the risk of retraumatization Practitioners also will be indirectly traumatized as a result of their work with trauma survivors Practitioners ability to help clients with histories of trauma depends upon clinical supervision that is trauma informed The trauma informed supervisor has the dual responsibility of enhancing supervisees skills as trauma informed practitioners and helping them manage the impact their work has on them Nevertheless many clinical supervisors only have limited knowledge and training in trauma and may not recognize either the needs of those whom they supervise or the clients their supervisees serve This book compiles important recommendations from trauma informed practitioners supervisors and researchers who share their professional reflections and personal stories based on their hands on experiences across mental health and medical contexts This book was originally published as a special issue of The Clinical Supervisor
