Examining Racial and Ethnic Diversity in American Higher Education J. Clint Kinkead,2011 Most higher education scholars associate access to higher education with the Associate Colleges sector While Associate College ACs better known to the public as community colleges have a long standing and well documented relationship with access regional universities are also agents of access The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching terms these regional institutions as Master s Colleges and Universities MCUs From the data presented in this work I argue that the ambitious goals of the American Graduation Initiative cannot be reached without the collaboration of these two institutional types Contains 4 tables

Compelling Interest Mitchell J. Chang,Daria Witt,James Jones,Kenji Hakuta,2003-03-12 In recent years American colleges and universities have become the locus of impassioned debates about race conscious social policies as conflicting theories clash over the ways to distribute the advantages of higher education in a fair and just manner Just below the surface of these policy debates lies a complex tangle of ideologies histories grievances and emotions that interfere with a rational analysis of the issues involved As never before the need for empirical research on the significance of race in American society seems essential to solving the manifest problems of this highly politicized and emotionally charged aspect of American higher education The research evidence presented in this book has a direct relevance to those court cases that challenge race conscious admission policies of colleges and universities Though many questions still need to be addressed by future research the empirical data collected to date makes it clear that affirmative action policies do work and are still very much needed in American higher education This book also provides a framework for examining the evidence pertaining to issues of fairness merit and the benefits of diversity in an effort to assist courts and the public in organizing beliefs about race and opportunity

Diversity Leadership in Higher Education Adalberto Aguirre, Jr., Ruben O. Martinez, 2006 Promoting diversity as a core value among social groups is one of the major challenges faced by institutions of higher education in the United States By focusing on racial and ethnic minorities in higher education this monograph provides a view of diversity as a positive and dynamic social force in society that promotes its integration as a core value and process Diversity leadership challenges higher education to move beyond co optation strategies in which diversity is viewed as a descriptive and static organizational element to the adoption of transformational strategies in which diversity is viewed as a dynamic and positive process Through the promotion and development of diversity leadership institutional leadership is seen as building capacity to promote inclusive learning and workplace environments in colleges and universities As demographic shifts in US society create an ever expanding context in which the well being of the nation becomes increasingly linked to the social and cultural groups that have been systematically excluded from full participation in American society the need for positive cultural and structural changes that foster their inclusion in higher education becomes an important challenge to address This volume provides an overview of the context for diversity leadership roles and practices in higher education It argues for an alignment between institutions of higher education and the diverse populations they serve in this country This is volume 32 number 3 of the ASHE Higher Education Report a bi monthly journal published by Jossey Bass See our entire list of ASHE Higher Education Report titles for a wide variety of critical issues facing Higher Education today

The Racial Crisis in American Higher Education William A. Smith, Philip G. Altbach, Kofi Lomotey, 2012-02-01 Why is it that as we enter the twenty first century the nation's predominantly white colleges and universities continue to be settings where people of color feel unwelcome and marginalized The contributors to this volume dissect a variety of structural and attitudinal factors that are prevalent in the higher education community organizational constructs and value orientations which seem to hark more to the past than to the future They comment on the political social and economic factors that have shaped academic culture and buttressed its quietly efficient maintenance of racially discriminatory practices The American system of higher education is often regarded as the best in the world Smith Altbach and Lomotey have edited a volume that implicitly asks how much better still it could be if it embraced people of color and provided them with a supportive and nurturing environment one which encouraged them to reach their fullest creative and intellectual potential Indeed this will probably be the most significant challenge that the academy faces in the twenty first century William B Harvey Vice President and Director Office of Minorities in Higher Education American Council on Education Washington D C

Multiculturalism in Higher Education C.
Spencer Platt,Adriel A. Hilton,Christopher Newman,Brandi Hinnant-Crawford,2020-03-01 As the educational landscape of America continues to evolve and diversify college faculty and administrators must be cutting edge in their approaches to create a variety of educational experiences with a greater level of multicultural cognizance Unlike in previous generations higher education in the 21st Century is no longer a luxury reserved for the elite and wealthy but is an increasing necessity for access to labor markets Community colleges and universities are working hard to respond to the demands of the labor market by attempting to provide skills for jobs that may not yet exist Colleges and universities should aim to make all of their students feel welcome and a part of the campus being committed to celebrating differences Additionally filling faculty seats with varied races cultures perspectives and identities will aid in providing mentors and role models everyone can relate to These are some of the vital steps toward building a campus community that helps students develop a sense of belonging that allows them to persist and thrive in college The scholarship in this volume illustrates the state of multicultural education on college and university campuses The authors bridge foundational knowledge with contemporary understandings making the work both accessible for novices and beneficial for the authorities on multicultural education This volume provides thoughtful discourse on issues ranging from the racial and ethnic diversity of the student and faculty bodies and important topics like disability issues to different educational contexts such as community colleges HBCUs and HSI institutions
