Racing And Eracing Language Living With The Color Of Our Words:

Racing and (E)Racing Language Ellen J. Goldner, Safiya Henderson-Holmes, 2001-07-01 This anthology the first of its kind considers the poetry critical analysis of literature and language personal narrative dialogue and political speech by African American Asian American and European American authors Racing and E Racing Language explores genres in American literature from the 1850s through the 1990s from work songs to poetry from fiction to theater This book sheds light on many kinds of American language and throws into relief the written word as a shifting common ground a charged and unpredictable space where different voices ethnic groups and classes exert different kinds and varying degrees of influence on one another "Mouths on Fire with Songs". Caroline De Wagter, 2013 This book the first cross cultural study of post 1970s anglophone Canadian and American multi ethnic drama invites assessment of the thematic and aesthetic contributions of this theater in today's globalized culture A growing number of playwrights of African South and East Asian and First Nations heritage have engaged with manifold socio political and aesthetic issues in experimental works combining formal features of more classical European dramatic traditions with such elements of ethnic culture as ancestral music and dance to interrogate the very concepts of theatricality and canonicity Their mouths on fire August Wilson these playwrights contest stereotyped notions of authenticity Inspired by songs of anger passion experience survival and regeneration the plays analyzed bespeak a burning desire to break the silence to heal and empower Foregrounding questions of hybridity diaspora cultural memory and nation this comparative study includes discussion of some twenty five case studies of plays by such authors as M J Kang August Wilson Suzan Lori Parks Djanet Sears Chay Yew Padma Viswanathan Rana Bose Diane Glancy and Drew Hayden Taylor Through its cross cultural and cross national prism Mouths on Fire with Songs shows that multi ethnic drama is one of the most diverse and dynamic sites of cultural production in North America today Asian American Literature in Transition, 1965-1996: Volume 3 Asha Nadkarni, Cathy J. Schlund-Vials, 2021-06-17 Asian American Literature in Transition Volume Three 1965 1996 offers a multidisciplinary perspective on the political and aesthetic stakes of what is now recognizable as an Asian American literary canon It takes as its central focus the connections among literature history and migration exploring how the formation of Asian American literary studies is necessarily inflected by demographic changes student activism the institutionalization of Asian American studies within the U S academy U S foreign policy specifically the Cold War and conflicts in Southeast Asia and the emergence of diaspora and transnationalism as important critical frames Moving through sections that consider migration and identity aesthetics and politics canon formation and transnationalism and diaspora this volume tracks predominant themes within Asian American literature to interrogate an ever evolving field It features nineteen original essays by leading scholars and is accessible to beginners in the field and more advanced researchers alike The Cambridge History of American Poetry Alfred Bendixen, Stephen Burt, 2014-10-27 The Cambridge History of American Poetry offers a comprehensive exploration of the development of American poetic traditions from their beginnings until the end of the twentieth century Bringing together the insights of fifty distinguished scholars this literary history emphasizes the complex roles that poetry has played in American cultural and intellectual life detailing the variety of ways in which both public and private forms of poetry have met the needs of different communities at different times The Cambridge History of American Poetry recognizes the existence of multiple traditions and a dramatically fluid canon providing current perspectives on both major authors and a number of representative figures whose work embodies the diversity of America s democratic traditions

Film and the American Presidency Jeff Menne,Christian B. Long,2015-02-20 The contention of Film and the American Presidency is that over the twentieth century the cinema has been a silent partner in setting the parameters of what we might call the presidential imaginary This volume surveys the partnership in its longevity placing stress on especially iconic presidents such as Lincoln and FDR The contributions to this collection probe the rich interactions between these high institutions of culture and politics Hollywood and the presidency and argue that not only did Hollywood acting become an idiom for presidential style but that Hollywood early on understood its own identity through the presidency s peculiar mix of national epic and unified protagonist Additionally they contend that studios often made their films to sway political outcomes that the performance of presidential personae has been constrained by the kinds of bodies for so long white and male that have occupied the office such that presidential embodiment obscures the body politic and that Hollywood and the presidency may finally be nothing more than two privileged figures of media age power

American Cycle Larry Beckett,2022-07-01 American Cycle a sequence of long poems inspired by our folklore and past was written over forty seven years Its themes are love local mythology history justice memory accomplishment time The books are extraordinary sustained explosions of authentic American language and energy Each is entirely different from the others in style voice form and narrative content each so rich in imagery and nuance and texture and event and so finely crafted Paul Williams author of Bob Dylan Performing Artist American Cycle holds Spanish words loaned from Old California rough colloquialisms in Paul Bunyan the power of African American vernacular English in John Henry bare oratory in Chief Joseph old west phrases in Wyatt Earp circus ballyhoo in P T Barnum aviation jargon in Amelia Earhart backwoods dialect in Blue Ridge As Walt Whitman says I hear America singing the varied carols

Critical Essays on the Writings of Lillian Smith Tanya Long Bennett, 2021-11-01

Contributions by Tanya Long Bennett David Brauer Cameron Williams Crawford Emily Pierce Cummins April Conley Kilinski Justin Mellette and Wendy Kurant Rollins As a white woman of means living in segregated Georgia in the first half of the twentieth century Lillian Smith 1897 1966 surprised readers with stories of mixed race love affairs mob attacks on outsiders and young female campers exploring their sexuality Critical Essays on the Writings of Lillian Smith tracks the evolution of Smith from a young girls camp director into a courageous artist who could examine controversial topics frankly and critically while preserving a lifelong connection to the north Georgia mountains and people She did not pull punches in her portrayals of the South and refused to obsess on an idealized past Smith took seriously the artist s role as she saw it to lead readers toward a better understanding of themselves and a more fulfilling existence Smith s perspective cut straight to the core of the neurotic behaviors she observed and participated in To draw readers into her exploration of those behaviors she created compelling stories using carefully chosen literary techniques in powerful ways With words as her medium she drew maps of her fictionalized southern places revealing literally and metaphorically society s disfunctions Through carefully crafted points of view she offers readers an intimate glimpse into her own childhood as well as the psychological traumas that all southerners experience and help to perpetuate Comprised of seven essays by contemporary Smith scholars this volume explores these fascinating aspects of Smith s writings in an attempt to fill in the picture of this charismatic figure whose work not only was influential in her time but also is profoundly relevant to ours

Black Mothers and the National Body Politic

Andrea Powell Wolfe, 2020-10-14 Black Mothers and the National Body Politic The Narrative Positioning of the Black Maternal Body from the Civil War Period through the Present focuses on the struggles and triumphs of black motherhood in six works of narrative prose composed from the Civil War period through the present Andrea Powell Wolfe examines the functioning of the black maternal body to both define and undermine ideal white womanhood the physical scarring of the black mother and the reclamation of the black maternal body as a site of subversion and nurturance as well as erotic empowerment and the construction of oppressive discourses surrounding black female bodies and reproduction and the development of resistance to these types of discourses These tensions undergird a multifaceted discussion of the narrative positioning of the black maternal body within and in relationship to the national body politic an inherently exclusionary and restrictive metaphorical entity constructed and socially contracted over time by an already politically empowered citizenry Ultimately close analysis of the texts under study suggests that the United States as a figurative body complete with imagined parts that perform separate functions from intelligence to labor ingestion to expulsion has simultaneously used and cast off the black maternal body over the course of centuries Theater in a Post-Truth World William C.

Boles, 2022-06-30 This is the first book to examine how the concept and disagreements around post truth have been explored in the world of theater and performance It covers a wide spectrum of manifestations and expressions from the plays of Caryl Churchill Anne Washburn and David Henry Hwang to the inherent theatricality of press conferences FBI interviews and protests that embrace the confusion created by post truth rhetoric to muddy issues and deflect blame to theatrical performance where the nature of truth is challenged through staged visuals which run counter to what the audience hears provoking a debate about where the truth actually lies With contributions by scholars from around the world Theater in a Post Truth World considers a wide array of examples from American and British drama and politics Australian theater and the work of performance artist Marina Abramovic Together these provide a glimpse into how the theater in its many forms provides a venue to raise awareness and encourage critical thinking about the contemporary ubiquity of post truth

Intercultural Competence Myron W. Lustig, Jolene Koester, 2006 Striking a unique balance between skills and theory Intercultural Competence provides readers with the background and confidence to succeed in today's multicultural environment Blending both the practical and theoretical the concrete and abstract this book is both enjoyable to read and thoroughly researched By clearly explaining different theories and the significance of cultural patterns and having readers practice what they learn via examples in the book Intercultural Competence better prepares readers to interact in intercultural relationships The book also provides a discussion of important ethical and social issues relating to intercultural communication The authors cover U S cultures as well as global cultural issues Contemporary African American Women Playwrights Philip C. Kolin, 2007-11-07 In the last 50 years American and World theatre have been challenged and enriched by the rise to prominence of numerous female African American dramatists Contemporary African American Women
