Reading Our Histories, Understanding Our Cultures Kathleen McCormick,1999 Reading Our Histories

Understanding Our Cultures A Sequenced Approach to Thinking Reading and Writing is based on the assumption that the life of every person is intimately connected to the life of the culture This innovative class tested anthology translates the best of current work in cultural studies and process approaches to writing into practical sequenced assignments motivating students to develop essential critical thinking reading and writing skills Students are asked to engage in two complementary forms of inquiry consistently throughout the book historical analysis in which they analyze change and continuity over time and cultural analysis in which they explore how and why different perspectives can exist within the same time period This kind of inquiry is meant to engage students personal interest and in the process to reconceptualize what is thought of as the personal within larger social contexts It enables students to move from writing just opinion to writing analytically and persuasively about their own perspectives and those of others The readings in each chapter carefully juxtapose older historical primary texts with contemporary texts to give students a sense of the historical antecedents of current debates Historical and cultural analysis is integrated in assignment sequences at the end of each chapter Each chapter also gives students opportunities to engage in fastwriting assignments linking their personal experiences with the issues about which they are reading In short Reading Our Histories Understanding Our Cultures A Sequenced Approach to Thinking Reading and Writing teaches students to trace how a particular issue is woven into the larger cultural and social fabric and to negotiate among different perspectives from the past and present to develop a position of their own This kind of work is where genuine critical inquiry begins Reading and Writing Skills: Cognitive, Emotional, Creative, and Digital Approaches María Isabel de Vicente-Yagüe Jara,Elena Jiménez-Pérez,Pedro García Guirao,Olivia López Martínez,2023-12-14 Reading Our Histories, Understanding Our Cultures ,2008-01-01 Gendering Science Fiction Films S. George,2013-11-18 In the 1950s science fiction invasion films played a complicated part in supporting and criticizing Cold War ideologies By reading these invasion narratives as performances of middle class white Americans excitement and anxiety about social and political issues George shows how they often played out as another round in the battle of the sexes Reading Our Histories, Understanding Our Cultures McCormick,1999-07 Reading and Writing for Civic Literacy Donald Lazere,2017-07-05 Lazere s book is heaven sent and will provide a crucial link in the chain of understanding how conflicts are structured and most importantly how they can be rationally addressed a healthy antidote to the scepticism that has become so pervasive in academic life Alan Hausman Hunter College This innovative book addresses the need for college students to develop critical reading writing and thinking skills for self defence in the contentious arena of American civic rhetoric In a groundbreaking reconception of composition theory it presents a comprehensive critical perspective on American public discourse and practical methods for its analysis Exercises following the text sections and readings help students understand the ideological positions and rhetorical patterns that underlie opposing viewpoints in current controversies such as the growing inequality of wealth in America and its impact on the finances of college students as expressed in paired sets of readings from the political left and right Widely debated issues of whether objectivity is possible and whether there is a liberal or conservative bias in news and entertainment media as well as in education itself are foregrounded as topics for rhetorical analysis American Book Publishing Record ,2003 Creating a Transnational Space in the First Year Writing Classroom W.

Ordeman,2021-05-04 During the first twenty years of the new millennium many scholars turned their attention to translingualism an idea that focuses on the merging of language in distinct social and spatial contexts to serve unique mutually constitutive and temporal purposes This volume joins the more recent shift in pedagogical studies towards an altogether distinct phenomenon transnationalism By developing a framework for transnational pedagogical practice this volume demonstrates the exclusive opportunities afforded to freshmen writers who write in transnational spaces that act as points of fusion for several cultural lingual and national identities With reference to recent works on translingualism and transnationalism this volume is an attempt to conceptualize effective writing pedagogy in freshman writing courses which are becoming more and more transnational It also provides educators and first year writing administrators with practical pedagogical tools to help them use their transnational spaces as a means of achieving their desired learning outcomes as well as teaching students threshold concepts of composition studies This volume will be particularly useful for first year writing faculty at colleges and universities as well as writing program administrators to create a more effective curriculum that addresses these needs in classroom settings All scholars with a doctorate in Rhetoric and Composition English as a Second Language Translation Studies to name a few will also find this a valuable resource Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2002

Understanding the Archaeological Record Gavin Lucas,2012-02-06 This book explores the diverse understandings of the archaeological record in both historical and contemporary perspective while also serving as a guide to reassessing current views Gavin Lucas argues that archaeological theory has become both too fragmented and disconnected from the particular nature of archaeological evidence The book examines three ways of understanding the archaeological record as historical sources through formation theory and as material culture then reveals ways to connect these three domains through a reconsideration of archaeological entities and archaeological practice Ultimately Lucas calls for a rethinking of the nature of the archaeological record and the kind of history and narratives written from it The Practice of Cultural Studies
