

Early Republic: Foreign Policy

During the Early Republic Era (1783-1815), the United States faced many challenges as it tried to establish its place in the world. After gaining independence, the U.S. needed to develop foreign policies that would protect the young nation from powerful European countries. At the same time, the U.S. bought the Louisiana Territory from France in 1803, which doubled the size of the country and opened up more land for settlement.

One of the most significant events in U.S. foreign policy during this time was the War of 1812. The war was fought between the United States and Britain, largely due to issues like
