Reading Theatre:

New Readings in Theatre History Jacqueline S. Bratton, 2003-11-27 Over the last two hundred years some important ways of understanding theatre history have been undervalued or ignored by scholars Leading theatre historian Jacky Bratton employs new approaches to examine and challenge this development and to discover how theatre history has been chronicled and how it is interpreted Using a series of case studies from nineteenth century British theatre Bratton examines the difference between the existence of the drama plays and play literature and the stage performance theatre building and attendance By rejecting literary history Bratton experiments with other ways of analysing the past and the ways that have actually seemed relevant to the people on stage This book suggests new histories of theatrical story telling of performing families and of the disregarded dramatic energy of Victorian entertainment As a result we gain a new perspective on theatre history not only for the Romantic and Victorian periods but for the discipline overall Reading Modern Drama Alan

Ackerman, 2012-04-25 Exploring the relationship between dramatic language and its theatrical aspects Reading Modern Drama provides an accessible entry point for general readers and academics into the world of contemporary theatre scholarship This collection promotes the use of diverse perspectives and critical methods to explore the common theme of language as well as the continued relevance of modern drama in our lives Reading Modern Drama offers provocative close readings of both canonical and lesser known plays from Hedda Gabler to e e cummings Him Taken together these essays enter into an ongoing fruitful debate about the terms modern and drama and build a much needed bridge between literary studies and performance studies Reading Drama in Eighteenth-Century France Thomas Wynn, 2024 Thomas Wynn explores how plays were read in eighteenth century France and relatedly the mode of closet drama plays that were never performed within the playhouse Drawing on queer theory Wynn argues that eighteenth century closet reading fostered disruptive pleasures that imparted another side to the period s th tromanie The Exhibitor, 1923 Some issues include separately paged sections Better management Physical theatre extra profits Review Servisection Computer Supported Education H. Chad Lane, Susan Zvacek, James Uhomoihi, 2021-10-08 This book constitutes selected revised and extended papers from the 12th International Conference on Computer Supported Education CSEDU 2020 held as a virtual event in May 2020 The 25 revised full papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 190 submissions The presented papers contribute to the understanding of relevant trends of current research on Computer Supported Education including learning analytics intelligent tutoring systems virtual and augmented reality MOOCs and automated assessment systems

Scriptwork David Kahn, Donna Breed, 1995 Directors can use this unique guidebook for new play development from the beginning to the end of the process Kahn and Breed explore ways of choosing new projects talk about where to find new scripts and explore the legal aspects of script development They present a detailed system for theatrical analysis of the new script and show how to continue exploration and development of the script within the laboratory of the theatre Most importantly they delineate the parameters of the relationship between the director and the playwright offering proven methods to help the playwright and to facilitate the healthy development of the script Kahn and Breed offer suggestions on casting incorporating rewrites and script handling plus how and when to use audience response and how to decide what step to take next They also include extended interviews with developmental directors dramaturgs and playwrights who give credence to the new script development process

Emotional Well-being for Animal Welfare

Professionals Tamsin Durston, 2022-06-09 Each year many thousands of animals are taken into rescue centres and animal shelters around the world Some will have suffered neglect or cruelty others relinquished because their owners are no longer able to cope with caring for a much loved pet Many owners will require support and guidance in meeting their animals needs and helping them thrive in environments which can sometimes be challenging Often animal welfare and veterinary staff are affected deeply by the decisions that they need to make on a daily basis and are at risk from a whole range of emotional health issues This book examines the risks to the emotional well being of animal welfare staff and veterinary professionals It provides practical solutions coping strategies and various techniques aimed at restoring a work life balance as well as giving guidance on creating healthy approaches to self care for the emotionally challenging work undertaken by anyone working directly with animals

Athenian Tragedy in Performance Melinda Powers, 2014-05-01 Foregrounding critical questions about the tension between the study of drama as literature versus the study of performance Melinda Powers investigates the methodological problems that arise in some of the latest research on ancient Greek theatre She examines key issues and debates about the fifth century theatrical space audience chorus performance style costuming properties gesture and mask but instead of presenting a new argument on these topics Powers aims to understand her subject better by exploring the shared historical problems that all scholars confront as they interpret and explain Athenian tragedy A case study of Euripides's Bacchae which provides more information about performance than any other extant tragedy demonstrates possible methods for reconstructing the play's historical performance and also the inevitable challenges inherent in that task from the limited sources and the difficulty of interpreting visual material to the risks of conflating actor with character and extrapolating backward from contemporary theatrical experience As an inquiry into the study of theatre and performance an introduction to historical writing a reference for further reading and a clarification of several general misconceptions about Athenian tragedy and its performance this historiographical analysis will be useful to specialists practitioners and students alike

Between Baudelaire and Mallarmé Helen Abbott, 2016-04-15 As the status of poetry became less and less certain over the course of the nineteenth century poets such as Baudelaire and Mallarmé began to explore ways to ensure that poetry would not be overtaken by music in the hierarchy of the arts Helen Abbott examines the verse and prose poetry of these two important poets together with their critical writings to address how their attitudes towards the performance practice of poetry influenced the future of both poetry and music Central to her analysis is the issue of voice a term that remains elusive in spite of its broad application Acknowledging that voice can be physical textual and symbolic Abbott explores the meaning of voice in terms of four categories 1 rhetoric specifically the rules governing the deployment of voice in poetry 2 the human body and its effect on how voice is used in poetry 3 exchange that is the way voices either interact or fail to interact and 4 music specifically the question of whether poetry should be sung Abbott shows how Baudelaire and Mallarmé exploit the complexity and instability of the notion of voice to propose a new aesthetic that situates poetry between conversation and music Voice thus becomes an important process of interaction and exchange rather than something stable or static the implications of this for Baudelaire and Mallarmé are profoundly significant since it maps out the possible future of poetry
