Handbook of College Reading and Study Strategy Research , Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition Gary A. Olson, Todd W. Taylor, 1997-03-13 Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition is a collection of essays about the politics and practices of generating scholarship in rhetoric and composition The contributors to this book many of whom are current or past editors of the discipline s most prestigious scholarly journals undoubtedly have their finger on the pulse of composition s most current scholarship and offer invaluable insight into the production and publication of original research They discuss publishing articles and reviews as well as book length projects including scholarly monographs edited collections and textbooks They also address such topics as how composition research is valued in English departments recent developments in electronic publishing the work habits of successful academic writers and the complications of mentoring graduate students in a publish or perish profession An inviting and helpful tone makes this an ideal textbook for research methodology and professional writing courses      A New Writing Classroom Patrick Sullivan,2014-07-15 In A New Writing Classroom Patrick Sullivan provides a new generation of teachers a means and a rationale to reconceive their approach to teaching writing calling into question the discipline's dependence on argument Including secondary writing teachers within his purview Sullivan advocates a more diverse exploratory and flexible approach to writing activities in grades six through thirteen A New Writing Classroom encourages teachers to pay more attention to research in learning theory transfer of learning international models for nurturing excellence in the classroom and recent work in listening to teach students the sort of dialogic stance that leads to higher order thinking and more sophisticated communication The conventional argumentative essay is often a simplistic form of argument widely believed to be the most appropriate type of writing in English classes but other kinds of writing may be more valuable to students and offer more important kinds of cognitive challenges Focusing on listening and dispositions or habits of mind as central elements of this new composition pedagogy A New Writing Classroom draws not just on composition studies but also on cognitive psychology philosophy learning theory literature and history making an exciting and significant contribution to the field      Concepts in Composition Irene L. Clark,2011-09 A textbook for composition pedagogy courses It focuses on scholarship in rhetoric and composition that has influenced classroom teaching in order to foster reflection on how theory impacts practice      Ways of Reading David Bartholomae,Anthony Petrosky,Stacey Waite,2016-11-04 Since its first edition Ways of Reading has offered a uniquely exciting approach to first year composition integrating reading writing and critical thinking with a challenging selection of readings and editorial support By engaging students in conversations with key academic and cultural texts Ways of Reading helps students develop the intellectual skills necessary for academic work it also bridges the gap between contemporary critical theory and composition so that instructors can connect their own scholarly work with their teaching With a mix of shorter more accessible readings from a broader range of academic disciplines the eleventh edition offers more flexibility for instructors while continuing to help students become better writers by challenging them to be engaged and critical readers      Writing on the Margins D. Bartholomae,2016-05-24 A collection of twenty one essays by David Bartholomae Writing on the Margins includes selections that have helped shape the discipline of composition studies With a wide ranging introduction and three retrospective postscripts to set the essays in context it serves as a valuable reference and as a powerful introduction to crucial issues in the field This book has been awarded the MLA's Mina P Shaughnessy Award recognizing an outstanding research publication on the teaching of English      Robinson v. Great Lakes College, Inc., 294 MICH 192 (1940) ,1940 49      Hospitality and Authoring Richard Haswell,Janis Haswell,2015-06-01 Hospitality and Authoring a sequel to the Haswells 2010 volume Authoring attempts to open the path for hospitality practice in the classroom making a strong argument for educational use and offering an initial map of the territory for teachers and authors Hospitality is a social and ethical relationship not only between host and guest but also between writer and reader or teacher and student Hospitality initiates maintains and completes acts of authoring This extended essay explores the ways that a true hospitable classroom community can be transformed through assigned reading one on one conferencing interpretation syllabus reading journals topic choice literacy narrative writing centers program administration teacher training and many other passing habitations Hospitality and Authoring strives to offer a few possibilities of change to help make college an institution where singular students and singular teachers create a room to learn with room to learn      Chasing Literacy Daniel Keller,2013-12-02

Arguing that composition should renew its interest in reading pedagogy and research Chasing Literacy offers writing instructors and literacy scholars a framework for understanding and responding to the challenges posed by the proliferation of interactive and multimodal communication technologies in the twenty first century Employing case study research of student reading practices Keller explores reading writing connections in new media contexts He identifies a culture of acceleration a gathering of social educational economic and technological forces that reinforce the values of speed efficiency and change and challenges educators to balance new faster literacies with traditional slower literacies In addition Keller details four significant features of contemporary literacy that emerged from his research accumulation and curricular choices literacy perceptions speeds of rhetoric and speeds of reading Chasing Literacy outlines a new reading pedagogy that will help students gain versatile dexterous approaches to both reading and writing and makes a significant contribution to this emerging area of interest in composition theory and practice      Exploring the Dynamics of Second Language Writing

Barbara Kroll,2003-04-14 The book addresses issues in the field of teaching academic writing to non native speakers This book provides a series of discussions about multiple aspects of second language writing presenting chapters that collectively address a range of issues that are important to new teachers at the post secondary level The 13 chapters provide scholarly visions insight and interpretation oriented toward explaining the field of teaching academic writing to non native speakers The book is designed to provide foundational content knowledge in this area with each chapter authored by recognized experts in the field In addition to helping train new teachers the book will serve as an updated reference book for practicing teachers and scholars to consult      Resources in Education ,1998      Creative Writing in the Digital Age Michael Dean

Clark,2015-01-29 Creative Writing in the Digital Age explores the vast array of opportunities that technology provides the Creative Writing teacher ranging from effective online workshop models to methods that blur the boundaries of genre From social media tools such as Twitter and Facebook to more advanced software like Inform 7 the book investigates the benefits and potential challenges these technologies present instructors in the classroom Written with the everyday instructor in mind the book includes practical classroom lessons that can be easily adapted to creative writing courses regardless of the instructor s technical expertise      Paperbound Books in Print ,1992      Mestiz@ Scripts, Digital Migrations, and the Territories of Writing D. Baca, 2008-05-26 Conventional scholarship on written communication positions the Western alphabet as a precondition for literacy Thus pictographic non verbal writing practices of Mesoamerica remain obscured by representations of lettered speech This book examines how contemporary Mestiz scripts challenge alphabetic dominance thereby undermining the colonized territories of writing Strategic weavings of Aztec and European inscription systems not only promote historically grounded accounts of how recorded information is expressed across cultures but also speak to emerging studies on visual multimodal education Baca Espinosa argues that Mestiz literacies advance new ways of reading and writing applicable to diverse classrooms of the twenty first century      Securing a Place for Reading in Composition Ellen C. Carillo, 2014-10-02 Securing a Place for Reading in Composition addresses the dissonance between the need to prepare students to read not just write complex texts and the lack of recent scholarship on reading writing connections Author Ellen C Carillo argues that including attention to reading practices is crucial for developing more comprehensive literacy pedagogies Students who can read actively and reflectively will be able to work successfully with the range of complex texts they will encounter throughout their post secondary academic careers and beyond Considering the role of reading within composition from both historical and contemporary perspectives Carillo makes recommendations for the productive integration of reading instruction into first year writing courses She details a mindful reading framework wherein instructors help students cultivate a repertoire of approaches upon which they consistently reflect as they apply them to various texts This metacognitive frame allows students to become knowledgeable and deliberate about how they read and gives them the opportunity to develop the skills useful for moving among reading approaches in mindful ways thus preparing them to actively and productively read in courses and contexts outside first year composition Securing a Place for Reading in Composition also explores how the field of composition might begin to effectively address reading including conducting research on reading revising outcome statements and revisiting the core courses in graduate programs It will be of great interest to writing program administrators and other compositionists and their graduate students      Writers Without Borders Lynn Z. Bloom, 2008-07-02 In Writers Without Borders Writing and Teaching Writing in Troubled Times Lynn Z Bloom presents groundbreaking research on the nature of essays and on the political philosophical ethical and pragmatic considerations that influence how we read write and teach them in times troubled by terrorism transgressive students and uses and abuses of the Internet Writers Without Borders reinforces Bloom s reputation for presenting innovative and sophisticated research with a writer s art and a teacher s heart Each of the eleven essays addresses in its own way the essay itself as one way to live and learn with others      Catalogue of the University of Texas University of Texas, 1959      Writing and Reading in Early Childhood Roy Moxley, 1982      Writing Women's Communities Cynthia G. Franklin, 1997-11-01 Beginning in the 1980s a number of popular and influential anthologies organized around themes of shared identity Nice Jewish Girls This Bridge Called My Back Home Girls and others have brought together women s fiction and poetry with journal entries personal narratives and transcribed conversations These groundbreaking multi genre anthologies Cynthia G Franklin demonstrates have played a crucial role in shaping current literary studies in defining cultural and political movements and in building connections between academic and other communities Exploring intersections and alliances across the often competing categories of race class gender and sexuality Writing Women s Communities contributes to current public debates about multiculturalism feminism identity politics the academy as a site of political activism and the relationship between literature and politics
