Jarraway, 2013-05-25 The widest ranging exploration to date of the interaction between English Canadian literature and film Docufictions Gary D. Rhodes, John Parris Springer, 2014-10-01 Through most of the 20th century the distinction between the fictional narrative film and the documentary was vigorously maintained The documentary tradition developed side by side with but in the shadow of the more commercially successful feature film In the latter part of the century however the two forms merged on occasion and mockumentaries fictional works in a documentary format and docudramas reality based works in a fictional format became part of the film and television landscape The 18 essays here examine the relationships between narrative fiction films and documentary filmmaking focusing on how each influenced the other and how the two were merged in such diverse films and shows as Citizen Kane M A S H This Is Spinal Tap and Destination Moon Topics include the docudrama in early cinema the industrial film as faux documentary the fear evoked in 1950s science fiction films the selling of reality in mockumentaries and reality television and documentary forms The essays provide a foundation for significant rethinking of film history and criticism offering the first significant discussion of two emerging and increasingly important genres Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here No other way to tell it Derek Paget, 2013-01-18 This second edition of No other Way To Tell It defines the form analyses its codes and conventions and reviews contrasting histories in America and British practice taking into account new developments since the first edition These include television s radically new ecology with factual formats a growth area Docudrama in film has also burgeoned recently partly because the industries themselves have grown closer and partly because of continued interest in the lives of the famous and of those in the news International co production now exploits many different screening opportunities and possibilities with the result that docudrama and become a cinematic as well as televisual staple Docudrama is not only popular with audiences it also causes constant flurries of commentary and controversy Concerns about borders and boundaries a questioning of documentary s claim to represent the real doubts about the popular audience s ability to cope with new approaches to the ideas of witness testimony and confession authenticity and truth all fuel the debate This new edition situates docudrama and its ongoing debates within a newly vibrant and still highly contentious field of practice This book will interest readers academic and general with an interest in fact based drama in film theatre and television Managing Media Firms and Industries Gregory Ferrell Lowe, Charles Brown, 2015-08-20 This volume provides rich insight into the nature and practice of media management Contributions assess the degree to which management of media firms requires a unique set of skills highlighting similarities and differences of media firms compared with other industries in terms of management practices HR development and operational aspects Success and limitations of research on media management theory is evaluated both
