Reimagining Textuality Textual Studies In The Late Age Of Print:

Reimagining Textuality Elizabeth Bergmann Loizeaux, Neil Fraistat, 2002 What happens when in the wake of postmodernism the old enterprise of bibliography textual criticism or scholarly editing crosses paths and processes with visual and cultural studies In Reimagining Textuality major scholars map out in this volume a new discipline drawing on and redirecting a host of subfields concerned with the production distribution reproduction consumption reception archiving editing and sociology of texts Publishing Blackness George Hutchinson, John Young, 2018-05-09 The first of its kind this volume sets in dialogue African Americanist and textual scholarship exploring a wide range of African American textual history and work Genetic Criticism Dirk Van Hulle, 2022-02-24 In Genetic Criticism Dirk Van Hulle introduces the study of creative processes to an Anglophone audience As a method in the study of literary writing processes genetic criticism is also a reading strategy The idea behind this book is to introduce this strategy to a broader audience from interested readers and graduate students to early career researchers and literary critics In literary studies it is often obvious that a particular work somehow seems to hit a nerve but more challenging to pinpoint exactly why it works This book therefore starts from a clear basic assumption knowing how something was made can help us understand how and why it works This strategy is at the basis of many disciplines including art history By means of X ray technology or hyperspectral imaging it is possible to look at a painting as a multilayered object with not only spatial dimensions but also a temporal one This temporal dimension is the core of the reading strategy introduced in this book Note books marginalia manuscripts and typescripts even if one works with scans give a concrete dimension to literature which is a helpful reading strategy for many students On the one hand this involves concrete transferrable skills such as aspects of transcription and digital scholarly editing On the other hand it also involves more abstract theoretical issues relating to matters of authorship collaboration authority agency intention and intertextuality Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures David G. Nicholls, 2015-01-01 The third edition of the MLA s widely used Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures features sixteen new essays by leading scholars Designed to highlight relations among languages and forms of discourse the volume is organized into three sections Understanding Language provides an overview of the field of linguistics with special attention to language acquisition and the social life of languages Forming Texts offers tools for understanding how speakers and writers shape language it examines scholarship in the distinct but interrelated fields of rhetoric composition and poetics Reading Literature and Culture continues the work of the first two sections by introducing major areas of critical study The nine essays in this section cover textual and historical scholarship interpretation comparative cultural and translation studies and the interdisciplinary topics of gender sexuality race and migrations among others As in previous volumes an epilogue examines the role of the scholar in contemporary society Each essay discusses the significance underlying assumptions and limits of an important field of inquiry traces the historical development of its subject introduces key terms outlines modes of research now being pursued postulates future developments and provides a list of suggestions for further reading This book will interest any member of the academic community seeking a review of recent scholarship while it provides an indispensable resource for undergraduate and graduate students of modern languages and literatures life and public memory In the end Gitelman turns to the World Wide Web and asks how the history of the Web is already being told how the Web might also resist history and how using the Web might be producing the conditions of its own historicity

Worlds Made Flesh Lauryn Mayer, 2004-06-01 This book focuses on the use of the past in two senses First it looks at the way in which medieval texts from the eighth to the fifteenth centuries discussed the past how they presented history what kinds of historical narratives they employed and what anxieties gathered around the practice of historiography Second this study examines twentieth century interactions with this textual past and the problems that have arisen for critics trying to negotiate this radically different textual culture Lauryn Mayer examines chronicle histories that have been largely ignored by scholars bringing these neglected texts into dialogue with contemporaneous canonical works such as Troilus and Criseyde The House of Fame The Morte Darthur Beowulf and The Battle of Maldon

Handbook of Stemmatology Philipp Roelli, 2020-09-07 Stemmatology studies aspects of textual criticism that use genealogical methods to analyse a set of copies of a text whose autograph has been lost This handbook is the first to cover the entire field encompassing both theoretical and practical aspects of traditional as well as modern digital methods and their history As an art ars stemmatology's main goal is editing and thus presenting to the reader a historical text in the most satisfactory way As a more abstract discipline scientia it is interested in the general principles of how texts change in the process of being copied

Thirty eight experts from all of the fields involved have joined forces to write this handbook whose eight chapters cover material aspects of text traditions the genesis and methods of traditional Lachmannian textual criticism and the objections raised against it as well as modern digital methods used in the field The two concluding chapters take a closer look at how this approach towards texts and textual criticism has developed in some disciplines of textual scholarship and compare methods used in other fields that deal with descent with modification The handbook thus serves as an introduction to this interdisciplinary field

Keywords in Writing Studies Paul Heilker,Peter Vandenberg,2015-02-15 Keywords in Writing Studies is an exploration of the principal ideas and ideals of an emerging academic field as they are constituted by its specialized vocabulary A sequel to the 1996 work Keywords in Composition Studies this new volume traces the evolution of the field s lexicon taking into account the wide variety of theoretical educational professional and institutional developments that have redefined it over the past two decades Contributors address the development transformation and interconnections among thirty six of the most critical terms that make up writing studies Looking beyond basic definitions or explanations they explore the multiple layers of meaning within the terms that writing scholars currently use exchange and question Each term featured is a part of the general disciplinary parlance and each is a highly contested focal point of significant debates about matters of power identity and values Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open and multiplex Keywords in Writing Studies reveals how the key concepts in the field are used and even challenged rather than advocating particular usages and the particular vision of the field that they imply The volume will be of great interest to both graduate students and established scholars The Book as Artefact, 2005-01-01 Books do not just contain texts books themselves are cultural artefacts which convey many meanings in their own right meanings which interact with the texts they contain Awareness of the many significances of books as cultural and textual objects reshapes the traditional disciplines of textual theory analytic bibliography codicology and palaeography while the advent of electronic books and digital methods for representing print books is introducing a new dimension to our understanding Seven essays in this volume ranging over medieval Portuguese and Swedish manuscripts eighteenth century Icelandic editions Australian playtexts Thackeray and Anita Brookner and Stefan George consider these questions from the broad perspective of textual scholarship Texts may exist on the borderland of word and not word or they may spring from borderlands of nation or culture or they may be considered from the margins of neighbouring disciplines So readers must set the texts within contexts to see the play of text against border Essays in this volume explore different texts against varying backgrounds Pound's Cantos Joyce's Ulysses Trollope's An Eye for an Eye Woolf's The Waves while essays by McGann and Lerner argue the dimensionality of text on the intersection of print and digital media Implicit in all these essays is the contention that textual scholarship must influence literary interpretation Two final essays focus directly on this in the cases of Melville's Moby Dick and Emily Dickinson's late fragments An extensive reviews section completes this volume

Shimmering in a Transformed Light Rosemary Lloyd, 2005 Although much has been written lately on the links between painting and writing little or no attention has been paid to those moments in literature when the narrative stops to allow for the description of those objects we associate with still life Rosemary Lloyd's book shows how fascinating this overlooked area is how rich in suggestions of class race and gender how much it indicates about human pleasures and about the experience of space and time Lloyd focuses on the last two centuries particularly at points marked by the irruption of images of contingency and rapid change into the fields of art for example the year of the Terror in French history the decade in which Haussman's politically driven transformation of Paris led Baudelaire to write his great modernist poem Le Cygne and on or about December 1910 the date to which Virginia Woolf attributes a revolution in the definition of literary character Lloyd's central concern lies with the ways in which the still life written or painted both evokes and attempts to deal with the sense of contingency While she makes frequent reference to paintings she focuses above all on written still lifes particularly those moments when novels pause to address the subject matter of still life a bowl of fruit a hat rack a desk cluttered with pens and papers in ways that invite contemplation of other and broader cultural domains She draws on literary and art works from Australia England France Germany Ireland Italy and the United States Critical Theory: The Key Concepts Dino

Felluga, 2015-04-17 Critical Theory The Key Concepts introduces over 300 widely used terms categories and ideas drawing upon well established approaches like new historicism postmodernism psychoanalysis Marxism and narratology as well as many new critical theories of the last twenty years such as Actor Network Theory Global Studies Critical Race Theory and Speculative Realism This book explains the key concepts at the heart of a wide range of influential theorists from Agamben to Žižek Entries range from concise definitions to longer more explanatory essays and include terms such as Aesthetics Desire Dissensus Democracy Hegemony Ideology Intersectionality Late Capitalism Performativity Race Suture Featuring cross referencing throughout a substantial bibliography and index Critical Theory The Key Concepts is an accessible and easy to use guide This book is an invaluable introduction covering a wide range of subjects for anyone who is studying or has an interest in critical theory past and present
